Happy Martell Boy Back At Fair With Gift Heifer

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Phil Bohl, 13, of Martell is at the Lancaster County Fair this year, and he can be identified by a big smile on his face and an almost constant companion in a Holstein heifer called Joy.

For Phil the setting of the 1966 fair is much different than last year when his dairy calf was destroyed the day before the fair in a farm fire.

Phil says he will never forget the moment last year at the 4-H Purple Ribbon Show when he was called into the arena to accept a beautiful Holstein calf from the Boys Town herd that had been secured by his friends and fellow club members as a replacement for his lost calf.

There were several touchy moments for Phil during the past year but the one he worried the most about came when Joy was dehorned and caught infection.

"She was real sick, but that's all over now and we are getting along fine," said Phil.

The young dairyman already knows Joy's future.

"Joy is going to be my college money," says Phil who has hopes of producing a herd from his foundation animal.

Phil even had his own cheering section at the fair led by sister Debbie, 10.

"We have gotten a blue in one show and a red in another but we have a lot of hopes for Joy. She gets better every day," said a proud Phil.

New Society Essentially Non-Essential

Jersey City, N. J. (AP) — If you would like to "stand up and be counted" but are awestruck by the seriousness of today's mass demonstrations, two young men have just the organization for you.

The New York and New Jersey Non-Essential Protesting Society protests anything —provided it is non-essential. Headed by Raymond Salomone, 24, and Leon Levine, 20, both college students, the outfit is concerned by such issues as the following:

—Litter in outer space.
—War in Switzerland.
—Topless bathing suits.
—The innocence of Benedict Arnold.

"To try to shed light on the small things . . . overshadowed by the essential things" is the purpose of the organization.

The society, which boasts nine members, has its first demonstration on Saturday in Washington.

. . . MAYOR RAPS PROGRAMS

But Mayor John R. Reading of Oakland, Calif., testifying at a Senate hearing at about the same time Johnson held a news conference, charged that some federal programs have been at the root of urban ills.

The President, defending his record and his proposals to deal with slums, poverty and the other ills of the violence-haunted cities, declared, "This administration has done more than any administration in the history of the country" in this respect.

He said spending for cities is about double what it was under the Eisenhower administration and about one-third more than under the Kennedy administration.

But Johnson declined to estimate the price ahead—set by one top city spokesman at $250 billion over the next 10 years. But the President promised, "We are going to concern ourselves deeply with the problem of cities."

This, he added, was "evidenced by the recommendations of the demonstration cities bill, the new housing bill that we passed last year, the poverty bill, the rent supplemental bill and the teachers' corps bill.

"No administration has ever, in its entirety, made as much recommendations, had as many of them adopted, or even spent as much in the cities as this administration," he asserted.

Padding Charged

At the Senate government operations subcommittee hearing, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., accused the administration of inflating its estimates of the amount the government is spending on city aid.

His complaint, at an inquiry into big city problems, was aimed at separate spending reports produced a week ago by Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development., and by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach.

"In a way, the $28 billion is an inflated figure," Ribicoff said. He said it included mortgage insurance programs and other efforts which do not really benefit the big cities.

And, he said, the figure Katzenbach used included some funds for agricultural experiment stations, grazing receipts, forest protection and fisheries.

"So we have here these figures that you really can't say go into direct urban aid," the senator said.

Flight To Suburbia

Underscoring Ribicoff's complaint, Mayor Reading said Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance has encouraged middle income people to move to the suburbs, and federal aid highways have helped them get there.

"The present welfare program perpetuates the ghettos and throws the burden of descent housing upon the core city," Reading said.

Johnson complained that the Senate has "drastically reduced" the funds authorized for his demonstration cities plan—warmly endorsed by Reading, Ribicoff and other witnesses and senators at the big city investigation.

It now carries a price of $900 million for two years instead of $2.3 billion and Johnson said he hopes "we will make a good beginning."

Call-Up Pact Reached

Washington (AP)—A compromise, reportedly including agreement for a House vote on authority to call up individual military reservists, was reached Wednesday by Senate and House conferees on the $58 billion military money bill.

Details were not immediately announced, but one senator reported that agreement for a House vote broke a deadlock over Senate insistence on retaining the call-up authority. House members had urged that it be dropped from the bill and considered separately.

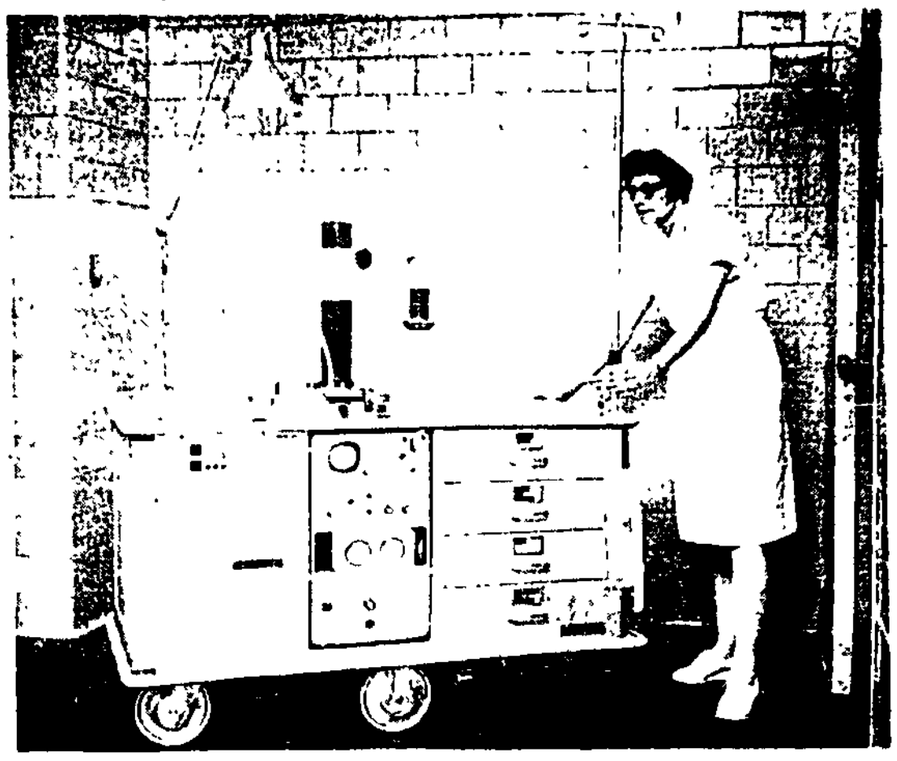

Under the Senate proposal, thousands of draft-age youth who volunteered for reserve duty—including brief active duty training—in National Guard or reserve units of the various services could be called to active duty without the formal declaration of a national emergency. They are now exempt without such a declaration.

If the proposal is adopted, they could be required to serve up to 24 months less whatever active duty training time they have served. The two-year requirement is the same served by draftees.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has rejected pleas from Congres that he call up some reserves for use during the Viet Nam buildup.

Spurious Paintings

Mexico City (AP)—The owner of an art gallery, Ines Amor, reports she has identified 150 spurious paintings offered mainly abroad as works of Diego Rivera, Jose Clemente Orozco, David Alfaro Siquieiros and Rufino Tamayo. She said the fakes sell for as much as $6,400 and the total at large must be much higher than those she has identified.

Mobile Life-Saver 'Max' Joins St. Elizabeth's Staff

An $8,000 mobile life-saver called "Max", which brings stopped hearts back to life, started a 24-hour work day at Saint Elizabeth Hospital this week.

The self-contained life-saving cart recently purchased by Saint Elizabeth Hospital is correctly called a Mobile Intensive Care and Emergency Life Support System. But it's "Max" to the hospital personnel who will use it in emergency situations to massage stopped hearts back to life. The procedure is technically called "external cardiopulmonary resuscitation."

The recent procedures in bringing a stopped heart back to work had been focused on the open-heart method during an actual surgical procedure when a surgeon opens the chest and physically massages the heart back to life.

Not Ready

The experience of hospital personnel among patients with stopped hearts, who are not in an operating room and consequently not in a ready situation for surgical procedure, is probably what prompted the creation of "Max."

"Max," according to Emergency Room Supervisor Angella Butler, R.N., has a built-in capacity to do a lot of things never before available in one machine.

In addition to the hammer-like device which does the external massaging, there is a self-contained oxygen supply and a suction device for pulmonary procedures.

In support of these functions there is a built-in electrocardiogram, monitoring system and a timer which tells the operator how long the procedure has been used.

One unique feature of "Max" is a reverse lock system for the drawers which contain the instruments and medications When a drawer is opened during use of the machine, it cannot be shut until a key is inserted and "locked." This assures the hospital personnel that they will know when something has been used and the chance of a certain medication or instrument not being replaced is virtually eliminated

If electrical power went off during an emergency situation, it wouldn't bother "Max". He has his own.

There's a built-in power system that's run by a battery. Whenever the machine is not in use, it's on battery charge. Something unique about the recharging system is that it, too, is self-contained. All that needs to be done is to plug the machine's cord into a socket.

"Max's" hospital station is the emergency room and his keepers are Mrs. Butler and other emergency room personnel. They're the ones who will have the responsibility of getting "Max" to the site of the emergency as fast as possible, and the hand-brake on a couple of the five wheels will allow them to cut around corners at full speed.

Mrs. Butler says "Max" can be in service anywhere in the hospital within 2 minutes from the time of the call. But practice is what will cut the time down and Saint Elizabeth personnel are practicing their emergency drills. Sister M. Frances Ann, Saint Elizabeth Hospital administrator, said they hope "Max" wouldn't be called upon, but she said, "the best way to take care of an emergency situation is with skilled personnel and machines designed for emergencies."

Marines, Communists Exchange Heavy Blows

Saigon (AP) — U.S. Marines clashed heavily with communist forces Wednesday in South Viet Nam's northern sectors, where the enemy had generally avoided combat since more than 800 of Hanoi's regulars were cut down in Operation Hastings last month.

The Marines and supporting aircraft were reported to have killed 211 communists in two engagements 90 miles apart. Spokesmen said U.S. casualties in both cases were light.

In one, hundreds of Marines overran a communist training camp spotted 20 miles southwest of Da Namg. In the other, Leatherneck units hammered a North Vietnamese force from entrenchments it had set up in the Cam Lo River valley, five miles south of the demilitarized zone that blankets the border between North and South Viet Nam.

The flurry highlighted a ground war in which, in the view of some military men in Saigon, the North Vietnamese have taken over major fighting on the communist side.

Offensive Possible

There was speculation that the enemy, following past patterns, may yet launch a 1966 monsoon offensive to take advantage of storm cloud cover and the mud that can sometimes bog down allied armor. The rainy season, which started in June, generally runs through October.

Other developments:

—U.S. Marines and Australian troops hunting the Viet Cong's 5th Division in coastal Phuoc Tuy province southeast of Saigon found documents, diaries and hot rice in a hurriedly evacuated jungle encampment Tuesday.

—B52 bombers from Guam returned to Phuoc Tuy for the third straight day of saturation bombing on suspected Viet Cong positions in advance of the allied sweep.

Raids Limited

—Bad weather over North Viet Nam Tuesday limited raids by U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots to coastal targets. They flew 86 multiplane missions. On one of these Navy A4 Skyhawks sank a torpedo boat, one of four they found hiding among islands in the Tonkin Gulf. A spokesman said they possibly sank a second and badly damaged a third.

—Normal traffic resumed through the Saigon River channel in which the explosion of a Viet Cong mine holed the American freighter Baton Rouge Victory and killed seven crewmen Tuesday.

THE WEATHER

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Generally fair with light variable winds and warmer over much of the area. Highs Thursday in the 70s.

THE JOB CORPS: WHAT STUDENTS FACE . . .

Center Leaders Plan To Keep Corpsmen Busy

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's Job Corpsmen will have plenty to do.

In addition to a full educational and training program, they will have the opportunity to participate in center sports and recreational activities ranging from arts to wrestling.

Corpsmen can earn a trip to Lincoln or Omaha one evening a week, and projected off-center supervised group activities range from camping trips to high school football games.

Busy Schedule

The Corpsman will be plunged into a 17-hour-a-day weekday schedule, beginning at 6 a.m.

Breakfast is served from 6:45 a.m. to 7:45 a.m., and classes begin at 8.

Three hours a day are devoted to basic education, three hours are spent in vocational shops and 1½ hours daily are assigned to physical education, health courses or driver training.

Discussions

After dinner, Corpsmen will participate in nightly group discussions from 6:15 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. Then, they are free to do what they choose on the center until 11 p.m.

Both the Corpsmen's Club and a gymnasium will be open in the evenings, according to Dick Klaas, director of health, physical education and recreation.

Outdoor recreational facilities include two swimming pools, 18 tennis courts, five basketball courts, a baseball diamond, three softball diamonds, a running track, four football or soccer fields and an archery range.

Indoor Facilities

Indoor facilities include two gymnasiums, a theatre, a 10-lane bowling alley and the club.

At the club, the Corpsman can choose among billiards, table tennis, shuffleboard, table games, television viewing lounges, a library, hobbies, arts and crafts.

A band will be formed, Klaas noted, and vocal music will be encouraged. Arts and crafts will run the full course from ceramics to woodworking, leatherwork to pottery, photography to fly-tying.

'An Outlet'

The physical education program will give the Cropsmen "an outlet," Klaas pointed out, and an intramural sports program will provide them with the opportunity to experience competition.

Varsity teams will also be chosen, Klaas said, and the center hopes to enter teams in some Lincoln sports leagues, perhaps basketball and bowling.

Each Cropsman will be given a physical fitness test when he enters the center, and those who need it will be required to take a physical development course, Klaas said.

Enrollees will also be required to learn to swim.

Still Planning

Off-center supervised group activities are still in the planning stage. But Klaas has in mind a number of possibilities: roller skating, semi-cultural programs at Pershing Auditorium, high school football games, picnics, cookouts, camping trips, hiking and horseback riding.

Forty-five hours of driver training will be required of Corpsmen, and their schedule calls for 15 hours of personal hygiene and first aid training.

One off-center evening pass is alloted to Corpsmen each week on a merit basis. Passes will be issued for Friday, Saturday or Sunday, with one-third of the Corpsmen permitted off center each of the three evenings.

May Travel

Corpsmen may travel to either Lincoln or Omaha by bus, but they must return to the center the same night. Visiting privileges end at midnight.

Work details will generally be assigned on Saturday mornings, and sports and recreational facilities will be available for use on weekends.

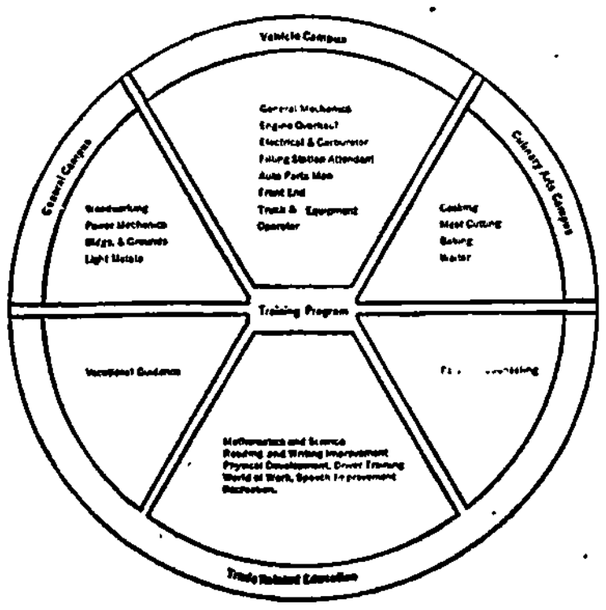

Sunday morning passes will permit Corpsmen to attend church in Lincoln, and Corpsmen will be available for volunteer community activities in the city.

USO-Type Lounge

A USO-type lounge will be open for the use of Corpsmen in Lincoln at 14th and P. A similar center is being planned for Omaha, according to Van Henderson, manager of campuses.

Joint social functions with the Omaha Job Corps center for women, operated by Burroughs Corporation, are also in the works.

There should be few idle hours for the Lincoln Corpsman.

CORPS COURSES . . . All Corpsmen subjected to trade-related education in lower half of circle; each Corpsman chooses one of three campuses in upper half.

Sunday morning passes will permit Corpsmen to attend church in Lincoln, and Corpsmen will be available for volunteer community activities in the city.

USO-Type Lounge

A USO-type lounge will be open for the use of Corpsmen in Lincoln at 14th and P. A similar center is being planned for Omaha, according to Van Henderson, manager of campuses.

Joint social functions with the Omaha Job Corps center for women, operated by Burroughs Corporation, are also in the works.

Kerner Sending Cicero Guard

Springfield, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner decided Wednesday to send National Guardsmen to Cicero to preserve order during a civil rights march that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said he personally will lead Sunday.

Cicero is an all-white western suburb of Chicago. When King marched on Chicago's Southwest Side Aug. 5 he was hit by a rock. A knife thrown at him struck a white youth.

King, chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told the Associated Press he would lead the procession into Cicero where 15 years ago racial violence necessitated calling in the National Guard.

He made his announcement in Chicago a few hours after Gov. Kerner, a former Guard general, said he probably would issue an executive order Friday to move troops into Cicero Saturday or Saturday night.

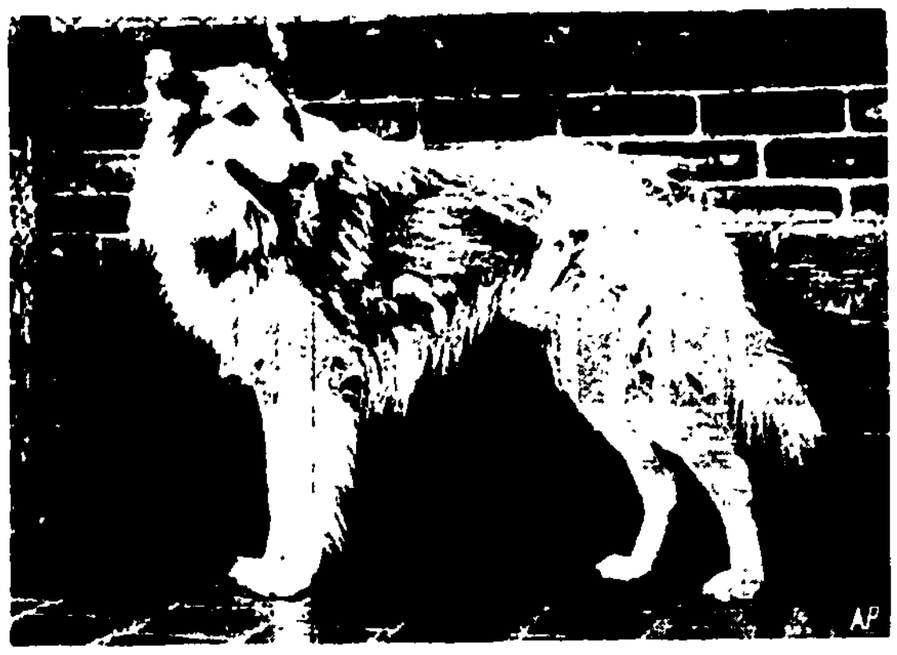

The number has not yet been determined, but the use of 2,000 soldiers was recommended by the sheriff of Cook County, Richard B. Ogilvie.

Kerner took action on a plea from Cicero that the military force was needed to avoid "danger and destruction to human life and property" in the industrial-residential suburb at Chicago's western edge.

Dr. King, in a statement in Chicago, expressed appreciation for the governor's concern, but he added:

"It is tragic that we can march into Southern bastions of segregation, such as Mississippi, without armed military protection but cannot march peacefully into a Northern suburb such as Cicero without an armed escort of guardsmen."

'PLAYFUL' PETE WON'T DIE YET

The death sentence against Pete, a 2-year-old collie, was lifted Wednesday. New York Supreme Justice Daniel E. Fitzpatrick decided that a dog, like a man, has a right to trial before being convicted. He vacated a New York City health department order for Pete's destruction. The department says Pete bit three persons, the legal limit within 24 months. But William Jones' son, Anthony, 10, Pete's owner, says the playful collie never bit anyone. The judge sent the case back to the health department for a hearing, although there is some question whether Pete had one before sentence was passed.

Man Dog's Best Friend

By GENE GAFFNEY
United Press International

His name is Jim Stockman. He works for the Defense Department in north Philadelphia and lives at 649 Lamp Post Lane in Chester, Pa.

Saturday night Jim heard scratching and whimpering outside his door. When he opened the door he found a black and grey dog of uncertain ancestry, probably part spaniel, looking up at him with sad, beseeching eyes.

Jim, who has a great fondness for animals—he has a German shepherd and a part-cocker spaniel mongrel of his own—took the dog in and petted and fed him.

Hanging from the dog's neck were two tags. One noted that he had been vaccinated by a Dr. McCord without saying where. The other said the dog had been licensed in New York state.

Calls N.Y.C. Police

But it was the weekend, and the police told Jim he would have to try again Monday when the license bureau in Albany would be working.

Jim then tried without success to locate a Dr. McCord in New York. The telephone operators connected him with numerous Drs. McCord, but none was the doctor who had vaccinated the mongrel visitor to Stockman's home.

Stockman called his own veterinarian and asked whether veterinarians had a directory of practicing animal doctors similar to the American Medical Association's directory of practicing physians.

Every McCord In U.S.

"My veterinarian gave me the name of every animal doctor in the country named McCord," Stockman said.

World News

And eventually he traced Dr. McCord to Reseda, Calif., and telephoned the doctor long distance.

"Yes, I know the dog," Dr. McCord said. "He belongs to a family named Brennan." The doctor thereupon described the mongrel perfectly.

But Dr. McCord couldn't reach the Brennans in Reseda.

Stockman telephoned the Reseda police department and reached a woman sergeant.

Moved To New York

She dispatched a radio patrol car to comb the neighborhood where the Brennans had lived, and the sergeant telephoned Stockman collect to tell him that the Brennans had moved to Bethpage, N.Y. The sergeant gave Stockman a Bethpage address provided by the Reseda Post Office.

Stockman telephoned Bethpage desk officer Reginald Ballard.

Ballard ran a check on the Bethpage address provided by the Reseda police and found that the owners of the dog had moved to Plainview, N.Y., and then to Chester, Pa.

Four telephone calls to California and numerous other calls to New York had brought the information to Stockman that the Brennans had indeed moved to Chester—within two blocks of his home.

Reunited At Last

Mrs. Stockman went around to the Brennan home on Bankroft Drive in Chester and picked up the Brennan children, Patricia, 16, and Michael, 13, and reunited them with their mongrel.

Patricia said that her father planned to reimburse Stockman for all the long-distance calls he had made running down the owner of the dog on his doorstep.

'Black Power' Cry Splitting Movement

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The civil rights movement is bitterly divided over a new ideology called black power. What is it, and how did it develop? This article, the first of two, examines the genesis of black power, and its effects).

By DON McKEE
Associated Press Writer

A battle cry first shouted from a flatbed truck in a Mississippi town has reverberated violently, shattering the loose and polyglot alliance known as the civil rights movement.

"We want black power! That's what we want! Black power!"

Quickly, a crowd of Negroes gathered at a campsite in a Greenwood park that hot, sultry night in June seized upon the speaker's words. His angry demand became a chant:

"Black power, black power, black power . . ."

Within days those two words had fired the imagination of young Negroes throughout the country, troubled some of their elders and alarmed many white allies of the Negro cause.

More importantly, it now has become the slogan of a new ideology, the catchphrase for an issue that has forged a band of militants, largely young activists, into a force determined to change the course of the civil rights movement. Among its favorite tactics has been the nonviolent demonstration.

Splitting

The movement rapidly is dividing into two camps:

—Advocates of "black power," demanding self-determination, political power and economic independence for Negroes; rejecting integration as an ideal, nonviolence as a philosophy, and the participation of whites as equals in the Negro drive for equality.

—The conventional, and far larger, organizations, holding firmly to the goal of full integration, to be obtained by legislation, litigation and nonviolent demonstrations.

Black power's banner was raised by Stokely Carmichael of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), youngest and smallest member of the civil rights alliance. The older, but equally militant, Congress of Racial Equality quickly allied itself with SNCC.

One of the first civil rights organizations to challenge black power was the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—also, incidentally, the first to discover the strength of the new movement's appeal.

The first reaction of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., principal proponent of nonviolence, was mild. "Unfortunate," he said.

As the cry of "black power" began to be heard more frequently, the White House took notice.

Definition Crux

Much of the tempest has centered over the definition of black power.

As defined by proponents, black power means, in its simplest terms, the coexistence of Negro and white in direct political and economic competition, plus a deliberate effort to instill racial pride in Negroes.

Carmichael

McKissick

Carmichael and his supporters vehemently deny it, contending that they simply insist on the right of a man attacked to defend himself.

In addressing a recent Harlem rally, CORE national director Floyd B. McKissick suggested that most of the concern voiced about black power and violence seemed to be coming from whites.

"When a white asks a Negro to define black power," said McKissick, "what he really means is, 'Are you gonna start beating my head like I used to beat your head?'"

The long-simmering dissension in the civil rights movement surfaced with dramatic suddenness at a time when it appeared that another race incident had again united the leaders in common cause.

Meredith Shooting

On June 6, James H. Meredith was shot and wounded from ambush as he marched along a Mississippi highway toward Jackson to demonstrate that the Negroes of his native state could register and vote without fear.

King, chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, immediately headed for Memphis, where Meredith was hospitalized, to take up the march. So did McKissick, 43, and Carmichael, 25.

Two nights later, NAACP executive director Roy Wilkins, Whitney Young Jr. of the National Urban League, and Charles Evers, NAACP leader in Mississippi, joined the three at a big church rally.

Carmichael raised the issue that the time had arrived for a change in strategy. "The Negro," he shouted, "is going to take what he deserves from the white man!"

Evers, soon to find himself the target of black power's wrath, elaborated, "If a pin scratches a Negro any more in southwest Mississippi, we are going to hunt them down till hell freezes over! We're sick of words—we want action."

'God Forbid!'

An astonished Wilkins rose to rebuke his subordinate. "You can't go out and get your gun," he said. "God forbid!" King warned against resorting to violence. So did Young.

There the matter rested — for the moment.

King, McKissick and Carmichael set off at the head of a march to Jackson. But first they issued a manifesto bitterly critical of President Johnson.

Evers refused to sign it.

King's chief interest in the march was to kindle support for a civil rights bill pending in Congress, much as he had in 1965 with the march he led from Selma to Montgomery, Ala.

Carmichael wanted the objectives broadened to include efforts to register Negro voters. Carmichael won.

Hurls Demand

And then, at Greenwood, Carmichael and two companions were arrested for defying police and trying to pitch tents on a school grounds. Released from jail, Carmichael hurried to the city park, climbed aboard the truck, and hurled his demand for black power.

"All they have in this country is white power!" he yelled. "The laws were made to hold the Negroes down! They

King

Wilkins

From there to Jackson, the rallying cry was "black power."

The NAACP, accused of not doing its part on the march, was denied a part in the program.

Voting against the NAACP were SNCC, CORE, the (Mississippi) Freedom Democratic Party and the Delta Ministry of the National Council of Churches. For NAACP participation were King's SCLC and the Medical Committee for Human Rights.

A week afterward, in Baltimore, delegates to CORE's annual convention adopted black power as policy.

Nonviolence has been a popular, and effective, tactic since 1955 when King was thrown into the leadership of a bus boycott in Montgomery. While Negroes stayed off the buses for 381 days in their first mass protest, King's "passive resistance" strategy took shape. It spread rapidly, producing sit-ins, "freedom rides," marches and boycotts. Even SNCC grew out of spontaneous lunch counter sit-ins in North Carolina — with King's blessing.

But by 1965, the young men and women of SNCC had become impatient with the slow, grudging, changes won by demonstrations. In Selma, Ala., SNCC leaders questioned King's decisions and made no effort to hide their disillusionment.

Big Bend In Finishing-Up Stage

Big Bend is the last of the large Pick-Sloan Plan dams authorized by Congress for construction on the main stem of the Missouri River. Although the final work at Big Bend is scheduled for completion in 1967, Engineers this summer are preparing the site for a dedication ceremony on September 15.

Rusk at Dedication

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has accepted an invitation to be the main speaker.

Omaha District Engineer Colonel Harold J. St. Clair says that all of Big Bend's generators are on the line but that some work remains. Unit No. 8 went on the line July 19 this year. Colonel St. Clair said unfinished work at Big Bend includes additional testing, painting, plastering and tiling in the powerhouse; recreation area preparation; crest road lighting; and the construction of drainage systems and service roads in the vicinity of the dam.

Big Bend's power plant has a dependable capacity of 538,000 kilowatts. Engineers say that they expect power benefits from the Fort Thompson "peaking plant" to top $1 million a month. The cost of Big Bend is estimated by the corps at $103,350,000.

Army Engineer recreation planners predict that the reservoir named "Lake Sharpe" by the 88th Congress will some day attract two million visitors a year. The early recreation figures at Big Bend seem to indicate that the two million visitor count is not far fetched.

During 1965 the lake attracted 345,700 visitors and 268,000 had visited the dam and reservoir by the end of June this year. To handle the expected heavy use by the recreation public, the corps has prepared a master plan which calls for the eventual construction of 16 public use areas.

Six major recreation use areas will have access roads, parking areas, boat launching and docking facilities, camping, picnicking, sanitary facilities, shade shelters and tree plants. High density use areas such as Farm Island in the headwaters of Lake Sharpe, leased by the state of South Dakota, have been provided with comfort stations, swimming beaches, change houses, paved roads and parking lots.

Work Started In '59

The work on the dam started in 1959 with the construction of access roads and administrative facilities. The peak work force during the construction of the dam was reached in 1962 and totaled 1300 persons. Two hundred and seventy-eight workers are still involved in construction and operations at Big Bend. Two hundred of the workers are contractor employes.

Materials used in the construction of the spillway, the powerhouse and the embankment totaled one million tons. The closure of Big Bend Dam was made in August of 1963 and the first commercial power generation began in 1964.

$103,000,000 DAM . . . Big Bend, last of the six large dams on Missouri River.

Thedford Girl Named Queen Of National Rodeo

Wetumka, Okla. (AP) — Miss Roberta Oatman, 18, a Thedford, Neb., high school senior, was named queen of the National High School Rodeo. Nineteen state high school rodeo queens competed.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oatman, Miss Oatman was 1965 Nebraska State High School Rodeo secretary; 1965 Nebraska State High School Rodeo queen attendant; Nebraska State High School Rodeo pole bending director for 1965; and outstanding cowgirl of Gordon High School Rodeo, 1965.

Flood Damages Deductible, Says Official Of IRS

Omaha (UPI) — Because of the widespread damage caused by the recent flooding in eastern Nebraska, many people sustained casualty losses which may be deductible for income tax purposes.

Richard P. Vinal, district director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska, offers this advice for those who sustained losses in the floods. They should begin immediately to determine and document the amount of their loss. Appraisals, repair bills and photographs will help to establish proof of loss.

Losses on business property are deductible in full, and losses in excess of $100 on personal property are deductible.

Vinal said that those persons desiring more detailed information about casualty losses should obtain document 5174 from his office.

Graphoanalysis Society To Meet

Omaha — The Nebraska Chapter of the International Graphoanalysis Society will hold its annual conference Sept. 17-18 at Indian Hills Inn in Omaha.

Instruction will be under the direction of Emilie Stockholm, assistant dean of instruction, International Graphoanalysis Society in Chicago.

A special feature of the program will be a talk given by Mrs. Hazel Elliot of Salina, Kan., who has made depth studies into the writing of numerous young people who have committed criminal acts.

Babysitter Said Paralyzed From Her Waist Down

Omaha (AP) — A 16-year-old babysitter, who police said was shot Saturday night by a 4-year-old boy, is reported paralyzed from the waist down and is in serious condition in an Omaha hospital.

Debra Heflin told police investigators she was serving as babysitter for two children at their home and stepped into the kitchen for a moment. Officers quoted her as saying when she returned to the sitting room, she felt a pain in her back and saw the boy pointing a gun at her.

Police identified the boy as Raymond P. Andersen, son of Mrs. Brigette K. Andersen of Omaha.

Mrs. Holen, 102, Dies At Holdrege

Holdrege (AP)—Funeral services will be held at Trinity Evangelical Church at 2 p.m. Friday for Mrs. John E. Holen, 102; former longtime resident of Phelps County and Holdrege.

She was born on a farm near Hulan, Sweden. She and her husband farmed north of Bertrand until they retired in 1939 and moved to Holdrege. Her husband, also from Sweden, died in 1950 at the age of 90.

Lincoln Creek 4-H Livestock Club Has Top Judging Team

Seward —The champion livestock judging team at the Seward County Fair was Lincoln Creek 4-H Livestock Club and was represented by members Bill Winkelman of Waco, and Karen Naber and Bruce Gloystein, both of Utica.

Nebraska News

Winkelman was high individual in the senior division while Kay Aegerter took high individual honors in the junior judging division.

The Blue Ribbon Dairy Club proved to be well named as they took the top dairy judging team honors. Team members were Jim Imig, and Connie Imig, both of Seward and Ted Phillips and Robin Phillips, both of Beaver Crossing.

Reserve market lamb honors went to Eileen Von Kampen of Utica.

$200 Million Income Seen From Wheat

. . . To Set Record

The Nebraska Wheat Commission said Wednesday the income from Nebraska's 1966 wheat crop should total at least $200 million, an all-time record.

The commission said the $200 million minimum, which includes marketing certificate payments, was based on current wheat yield estimates and anticipated wheat price levels.

The commission said its earlier estimate of the 1966 crop's value, $159 million, was based on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's July 1 estimate of the wheat yield, 75,842,000 bushels.

The USDA yield estimate was revised to 102 million bushels earlier this month.

The 1965 crop was valued at $105 million, the 1964 crop at $127 million and the 1963 crop at $118 million. The all-time record is the 1958 income of $195 million from a record 113.4 million bushels.

Two From NU Given Honors At Agronomy Society Meet

Dr. Schmidt Nelson

Stillwater, Okla.—Two University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics faculty members were honored by the American Society of Agronomy during the group's annual meeting at Oklahoma State University.

Dr. John W. Schmidt of the NU Agronomy Department were honored as an ASA Fellow at the annual banquet Wednesday night.

Stuart O. Nelson, a native of Pilger, Neb., received honorable mention in the "Crops and Soils" award contest for excellence in agricultural journalism.

Dr. Schmidt received his Ph.D. degree from NU in 1952, after studying there as a National Research Council-Atomic Energy Commission predoctoral fellow from 1949 to 1951. In 1954 he joined NU staff as an associate professor and was promoted to professor of agronomy in 1962.

Dr. Schmidt's specialty is small grains breeding, genetics and cytogenetics.

A NU researcher, Nelson was recognized for his article "Radiation in Insect Control," which appeared in the October, 1965, issue of "Crops and Soils," published by ASA. Nelson is an associate professor of agricultural engineering at NU and research investigations leader with the Farm Electrification Research Branch of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

Statehouse Fairy Tale

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Anyone who likes happy endings will like the latest development in the case of Institutions Director George Morris and former Boys Training School Superintendent William Ettinger. It was forgive-and-forget day Tuesday with the two state officials, as all concerned avoided what was becoming for them a sticky situation.

As usual, the public's business was never made very well known to the public.

This is a consistently popular pattern of behavior on the part of public officials — to parcel out to the people they represent and for whom they work whatever crumbs of information they deem the people entitled to. The public was never given the report through which Morris indicted and fired Ettinger but was told, in effect, to take Morris's word for it. Nobody questions Morris's word but they would simply like to make up their minds for themselves.

Ettinger was fired when a report from the State Safety Patrol allegedly incriminated him directly in the mistreatment of five boys at the school who had been engaged in homosexual activities. Ettinger denied the validity of the report and demanded a public hearing on his dismissal.

Now Morris has absolved Ettinger of any personal misconduct while leaving him charged with responsibility for his subordinates, who supposedly were the actual culprits in the mistreatment. For his part, Ettinger has said he is satisfied and no hearing is now required.

This is all well and good except for a few dozen things or so. What had developed was a situation that apparently appealed to none of the participants. Morris found that his Safety Patrol report had a few holes in it, such as contradictory and perhaps untruthful testimony from witnesses. Thus, he would have had a more difficult time indicting Ettinger in a public hearing than he thought.

Also, the situation was not a popular political one. This is an election year with Gov. Frank Morrison running for the Senate in one of the toughest contests of his political life. It would help the governor none to have his administration in the middle of a fiery public hearing. Such would be a controversy in regard to the administration of state institutions when the governor would rather have things going smoothly. For Ettinger, there was something to gain, too. A hotly contested dismissal is more difficult to live with in the future than a calm and quiet one. Certainly, the public hearing would help Ettinger none in securing future employment and it would simply add to the controversy surrounding him.

Thus, it is wondered if there were not a great many political considerations in the settlement that has now been reached between Morris and Ettinger. What this settlement fails to do is determine the validity of the original action by Morris. Nor does it explain the firing by Ettinger of his assistant and the subsequent rehiring by Morris of the same man as acting superintendent to replace Ettinger. It must be said that the weight of opinion would seem to swing against Morris. His firing of Ettinger in the first place was a questionable action.

Even had Ettinger been guilty of some poor disciplinary practice, the superintendent had built a good record at the Kearney school and had a number of people who knew the operation in his corner. Even if he had made this one disciplinary mistake, it is questionable that if constituted sufficient grounds for his dismissal.

As the situation turns out, it seems that even the one mistake Ettinger was accused of making, he did not make. If something was done wrong, it was handled by subordinates without Ettinger's knowledge. The theory of the boss responsible for the actions of his subordinates is an old and honored one but full of extenuating circumstances.

Consistent mismanagement of affairs through subordinates eventually becomes grounds for dismissal as it indicates a lack of good, efficient management. But one goof-up by an employer hardly gets the boss fired in most cases. Thus, it is wondered if Ettinger's firing was not more of a personal vendetta against him by Morris. If so, it is a poor recommendation for Morris's administration of state institutions and a severe injustice to Ettinger. State institutions, at best, are difficult to operate and personal failures at the top level make it all the more difficult.

A Personal Feud?

It is hoped, too, that we don't now forget the fact that the law concerning hearings for dismissed personnel is totally inadequate and needs correcting. The above case has had a happy ending for the principals involved but that is about all one can say about it.

Slapstick Routine Number Two

Institutional Funds Eyed

The Securities and Exchange Commission has opened an inquiry into commission splitting among brokerage houses.

To be more pointed, the inquiry will delve into the relations between the managers of the great institutional funds with the brokers who buy and sell stocks for them. It is understood that the fund managers, in some instances, are requiring the brokers to divide up the fees, as much as 60 per cent at times, with other brokerage houses which may have had nothing to do with the transaction, but at other times have performed valuable service in terms of fund shares sold or for statistical or research work.

This may not be necessarily illegal, but, in view of the large transactions, tends to make creatures out of the brokerage houses and could lead to a dangerous situation.

We do not know of any specific instance where the great institutional funds have violated laws as they exist. But it is also certain that the immense amount of money being managed by such funds, more than $60 billion, a great deal of which is used for buying and selling stock, requires new and better laws.

It is one thing to make a profit in stock transactions due to wise and informed management, but it is quite another to become such a great factor in the market that large individual transactions are sufficient to bring an element of control into market practices. Bigness is not essentially wrong, but it finds it much easier to do wrong.

Because investment trusts have become a large factor rather recently, existing laws did not contemplate the effect they can have. The present inquiry can result, therefore, in a great good for the national welfare.

Sen. Burbach Not A Loser

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton is understandably disappointed with the decision of the executive board of the Legislative Council not to call a special session of the Legislature to place a highway revenue bond proposal on the November ballot. But the western Nebraska senator has no reason to feel defeated.

He has not really been defeated because he has provided the leadership in bringing to the attention of the people of Nebraska the really serious nature of our streets and highway situation. He has ably advanced a revenue bond approach that may well end up as the answer to this problem and in doing all of this he has performed a unique and constructive public service.

The senator has succeeded in placing highway construction in the forefront of our thinking and has nudged everyone out of the complacency with which they had viewed conditions. This is a long way from defeat. Rather, it provides a foundation on which we can expect to build in the time ahead.

Our guess is that Senator Burbach's revenue bond plan will ultimately be the tool that Nebraska will use. In the meantime, the work can be done that needs to be done if this means of achieving our goals is to find the public support it must have. It is hoped that Senator Burbach remembers the serious consideration and considerable support his proposal received and that this stimulates him to a further pursuit of his program.

Neither the senator nor the state can lose where there is a sincere effort to achieve something and this is what we have had in this matter.

Apology Tendered To Senator Dodd

WASHINGTON — This column owes an apology to Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., regarding the recent account of his trip to Miami—with his two sons—in which it was stated that he double-billed the Senate Internal Security Committee and the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba $153.72 each for the trip.

The trip took place in 1965 during a Senate Internal Security Committee investigation friendly to Gen. Wessin Y Wessin, the Dominican strongman who was bucking the State Department's attempt to set up a civilian government in the Dominican republic.

Sen. Dodd and Roman Hruska, R-Neb., of this committee seemed intent on lining up against the State Department on the side of the military. For some reason best known to the senators, their investigation was taking place in the swank Eden Roc Hotel, one of the most expensive in Miami, instead of the rent-free federal building in Miami where hearings are traditionally held.

The invitation to Sen. Dodd, Mrs. Dodd and Assistant David Martin came from Paul D. Bethel, secretary of the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, who now complains that Dodd was not invited by the Citizens Committee but by the Cuban representation in exile.

After the invitation was issued, Martin telephoned Bethel to ask if Tom Dodd, Jr. couldn't come with the senator and Mrs. Dodd. The Cubans said fine and sent him an extra ticket. At this point Martin decided that since he and the senator were going to the Wessin Y Wessin hearing, he could charge his own ticket to the Senate Internal Security Committee and use the free ticket donated by the Cuban committee to take his wife to Miami.

At the last minute Mrs. Dodd decided not to go. So Dodd exchanged her ticket for one for Jeremy Dodd, his second son. While in Miami, Dodd, who is a member of the Senate Subcommittee on Immigration, received an invitation from President Johnson to go with him to New York to sign the immigration bill.

The ceremony in New York was to be on Sunday, Oct. 3, whereas Dodd's speech before the Cubans in Miami was to be on the preceding Saturday night. The senator took the Air Force plane from Miami to Washington, joined the presidential plane there and flew on to New York for the signing of the immigration bill.

After he got back, Dodd found himself with one unused round-trip ticket between Washington and Miami which had been supplied him by the Cubans. This was because he had gone to Miami at the expense of the Internal Security Committee and returned at the expense of the Air Force. So Dodd instructed his accountant, O'Hare to get a refund on the unused round-trip ticket.

Since this ticket had been issued by a Cuban travel agency in Miami, it was impossible for O'Hare to get a refund direct from the airline involved. He had to go through the Cuban travel agency. When he did so, the agency wrote back asking whether the senator from Connecticut would like to have the money returned to the Cuban friend who had paid for it in the first place.

Obviously it was embarrassing for Dodd to say no. O'Hare wrote back that this was agreeable.

Thus this column was in error in reporting that Dodd collected twice on his round-trip ticket between Washington and Miami. Our apologies.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there such a thing as a silent heart attack? What are the symptoms, and is the treatment the same as in other heart attacks? — M. S. S.

Molner

There can be a heart attack with no symptoms of which the patient is aware.

In actual practice when such a heart attack is discovered later (usually by means of an electrocardiogram) careful questioning by the doctor can often elicit a history of some type of discomfort.

This may have been passed off by the patient as indigestion or muscle strain or any of a variety of other explanations.

The discomfort may, indeed, have been so mild that the patient disregarded it or actually forgot about it.

Thus these are not really "silent" heart attacks, but have been mistaken for something else.

I wouldn't say that treatment would be the same as in other heart attacks. They simply aren't discovered at the same time, and that makes a lot of difference.

When a heart attack is severe enough to be instantly recognized, the immediate and vital measure is bed rest, to relieve the damaged heart of strain until it begins to recover.

With discovery of a "silent" heart attack, the patient already has passed that stage. Doubtless he would have been better off if he had rested, but he didn't, and he survived anyway.

Thus treatment for a "silent" heart attack would correspond to that which might be suitable later on for a recognized attack.

It would depend on the evidence of change or damage in the heart muscle, evaluation of such reserve strength as the heart may have retained or regained, and other factors. In short, no treatment may be required—or, if the residual damage is considerable and the heart has little reserve, considerable treatment may be required.

This might involve medication. It might, if the patient is subjected to more strenuous work than he can tolerate, require changes in his work or living habits to reduce strain. Or, finally, it might consist chiefly of periodic examination to see how the heart is behaving, and if further difficulty develops, to detect it at once.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a boy, 17 and about 5 feet 4 inches tall. Both of my parents are short. I have heard about a drug to help dwarfs grow. Could I use it to gain height? This is no joke. To me it is very important.—F.P.

At 17 you still have time to do some more growing. I doubt very much that you are in any sense a dwarf—it's just that your heredity decrees that you aren't meant to be tall. Growth hormone is available only in limited quantities, and in any event it could be used only on the advice of an endocrinologist. I doubt in a case like yours that it would warrant the cost. Don't forget that some of the most brilliant men in history haven't been very tall.

Dear. Dr. Molner: I am 73. Recently a blood vessel burst in my eye, and the blood covers most of the white. Will this clear up? Or cause trouble? It has not disturbed my vision yet.—L. C. E.

And it won't bother your vision or be dangerous. This appearance of blood in the eye can be frightening, but it looks worse than it is, by far.

At your age the capillaries (very small surface blood vessels) can become unduly fragile, and some slight injury (rubbing the eye, a slight bump, straining from a sneeze, etc.) can rupture one. If your blood pressure is elevated, that may be a factor.

However, this blood will absorb in about 10 days with no harmful after-effects.

Be sure to get ample Vitamin C (citrus juices) and calcium (milk or skim milk is the most plentiful source) in your diet, which may lessen any tendency toward future bleeding.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is meant by "a latent diabetic"?—H.K.

A latent diabetic is one who under ordinary circumstances does not show sugar in the urine or have high blood sugar, but under stress conditions, for example with a fever, surgery or in pregnancy, sugar is found.

Note to Mrs. L. K.: Mastitis (cysts in the breast) very rarely is related to cancer. Removal of the cysts is entirely possible, although medical treatment is usually tried first, and if it succeeds surgery is avoided.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Street Widening

Lincoln, Neb.

Seeing pictures of Vine Street in the August 18 Star, the natural beauty now ravished, made me ill. The councilmen and planners bray that it is progress to widen the street, but it does not have that flood of traffic. O Street and Holdrege carry greater. Property owners are already bowed down with taxes that could be used in better places than whacking down trees.

Minneapolis tends its trees with pride. Missouri, Tennessee and others encourage such growth. But Nebraska, which has all too few in the first place, goes about with ax and buzz-saw.

And here is the ironic bit. The August 18 Star tells about how Mrs. Johnson deplores the unsightly car graveyards, stretches of barren highways, wanting instead shade trees, trailing vines and rainbow hues of flowers flung like gay scarves along the way. So the big boss just tells her to take $493 million and buy herself all the pretties she wants.

Some realize that the country could survive without this lavish, foolish spending spree especially with war needs, poverty, education and health care being of far greater importance. Those who have millions of their own neither realize nor care about the desperate needs of so many, and spend the country's money as if it were their own.

So it is with our own city fathers, leaving the tab for others to pick up.

More Watersheds

Auburn, Neb.

Our state has taken substantial initial steps toward the goal of industrializing her communities. However, it remains impossible to separate Nebraska's future from that of agriculture. We are and should be proud to be from the heart of the "food basket" of the nation. Agriculture is our leading industry and it must be treated as such.

Factories and other manufacturing facilities make capital improvements yearly. Likewise, agriculture must continue to protect her "capital assets" — the land of Nebraska.

In this light we can be thankful that Congressman Callan is representing us in Congress. During the past year, seven new watersheds were approved for our First Congressional District. Nebraska is the leading state in soil and moisture conservation, and Callan has compiled not only a commendable record in this area but a remarkably outstanding record.

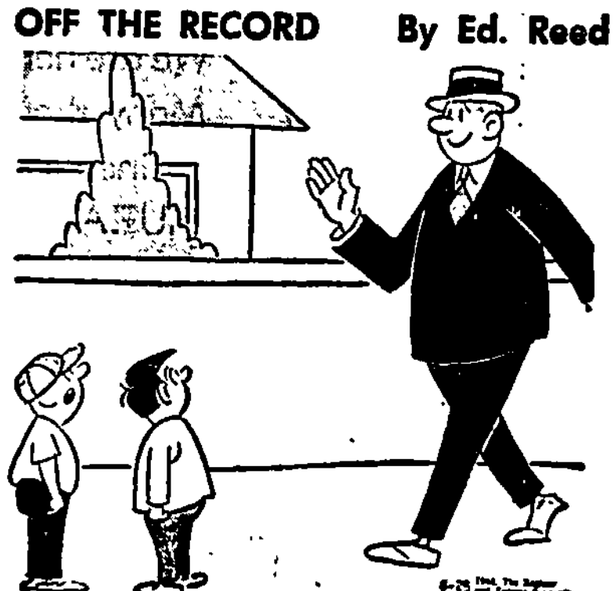

In the two years Callan has been representing us, 15 per cent of all funds committed to watershed districts in our nation were approved for Nebraska's First District. Congressman Callan has in two years had more watersheds approved for his district than any other representative ever to sit in the Congress of our nation in a single two-year term. Agriculture in a very real sense is Nebraska. The farmer as a businessman must be informed and interested in preserving the resources used in winning his livelihood. The necessity of soil and water conservation is an issue in which Nebraskans have a vital stake.

With the record Clair Callan has compiled in soil and water conservation alone, he has demonstrated his awareness of our state's identity with agriculture. We in the First District could do no finer act than to return him to the House of Representatives.

Statehouse Fairy Tale

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Anyone who likes happy endings will like the latest development in the case of Institutions Director George Morris and former Boys Training School Superintendent William Ettinger. It was forgive-and-forget day Tuesday with the two state officials, as all concerned avoided what was becoming for them a sticky situation.

As usual, the public's business was never made very well known to the public.

This is a consistently popular pattern of behavior on the part of public officials — to parcel out to the people they represent and for whom they work whatever crumbs of information they deem the people entitled to. Apology Tendered To Senator Dodd

WASHINGTON — This column owes an apology to Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., regarding the recent account of his trip to Miami—with his two sons—in which it was stated that he double-billed the Senate Internal Security Committee and the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba $153.72 each for the trip.

The trip took place in 1965 during a Senate Internal Security Committee investigation friendly to Gen. Wessin Y Wessin, the Dominican strongman who was bucking the State Department's attempt to set up a civilian government in the Dominican republic.

Sen. Dodd and Roman Hruska, R-Neb., of this committee seemed intent on lining up against the State Department on the side of the military. For some reason best known to the senators, their investigation was taking place in the swank Eden Roc Hotel, one of the most expensive in Miami, instead of the rent-free federal building in Miami where hearings are traditionally held.

The invitation to Sen. Dodd, Mrs. Dodd and Assistant David Martin came from Paul D. Bethel, secretary of the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, who now complains that Dodd was not invited by the Citizens Committee but by the Cuban representation in exile.

After the invitation was issued, Martin telephoned Bethel to ask if Tom Dodd, Jr. couldn't come with the senator and Mrs. Dodd. The Cubans said fine and sent him an extra ticket. At this point Martin decided that since he and the senator were going to the Wessin Y Wessin hearing, he could charge his own ticket to the Senate Internal Security Committee and use the free ticket donated by the Cuban committee to take his wife to Miami.

At the last minute Mrs. Dodd decided not to go. So Dodd exchanged her ticket for one for Jeremy Dodd, his second son. While in Miami, Dodd, who is a member of the Senate Subcommittee on Immigration, received an invitation from President Johnson to go with him to New York to sign the immigration bill.

The ceremony in New York was to be on Sunday, Oct. 3, whereas Dodd's speech before the Cubans in Miami was to be on the preceding Saturday night. The senator took the Air Force plane from Miami to Washington, joined the presidential plane there and flew on to New York for the signing of the immigration bill.

After he got back, Dodd found himself with one unused round-trip ticket between Washington and Miami which had been supplied him by the Cubans. This was because he had gone to Miami at the expense of the Internal Security Committee and returned at the expense of the Air Force. So Dodd instructed his accountant, O'Hare to get a refund on the unused round-trip ticket.

Since this ticket had been issued by a Cuban travel agency in Miami, it was impossible for O'Hare to get a refund direct from the airline involved. He had to go through the Cuban travel agency. When he did so, the agency wrote back asking whether the senator from Connecticut would like to have the money returned to the Cuban friend who had paid for it in the first place.

Obviously it was embarrassing for Dodd to say no. O'Hare wrote back that this was agreeable.

On The Lesser Side Of The Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Not only is the cost of government rising, it now is costing more to calculate the cost of government. (The cost of compiling federal statistics in 1964 was $100 million. This year's figure is $121 million.)

In recent newsletters, several congressmen have tried to impress constituents with the size of a billion dollars. They have used this illustration: "A million dollars is a stack of thousand-dollar bills 3.5 inches high. A billion dollars is a stack of thousand-dollar bills 30 feet high."

Unfortunately for this calculation, a billion is 1000 times a million. And 1000 times 3.5 inches would mean a stack of thousand-dollar bills 292 feet tall, not 30 feet.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there such a thing as a silent heart attack? What are the symptoms, and is the treatment the same as in other heart attacks? — M. S. S.

Molner

There can be a heart attack with no symptoms of which the patient is aware.

In actual practice when such a heart attack is discovered later (usually by means of an electrocardiogram) careful questioning by the doctor can often elicit a history of some type of discomfort.

This may have been passed off by the patient as indigestion or muscle strain or any of a variety of other explanations.

The discomfort may, indeed, have been so mild that the patient disregarded it or actually forgot about it.

Thus these are not really "silent" heart attacks, but have been mistaken for something else.

I wouldn't say that treatment would be the same as in other heart attacks. They simply aren't discovered at the same time, and that makes a lot of difference.

When a heart attack is severe enough to be instantly recognized, the immediate and vital measure is bed rest, to relieve the damaged heart of strain until it begins to recover.

With discovery of a "silent" heart attack, the patient already has passed that stage. Doubtless he would have been better off if he had rested, but he didn't, and he survived anyway.

Thus treatment for a "silent" heart attack would correspond to that which might be suitable later on for a recognized attack.

It would depend on the evidence of change or damage in the heart muscle, evaluation of such reserve strength as the heart may have retained or regained, and other factors. In short, no treatment may be required—or, if the residual damage is considerable and the heart has little reserve, considerable treatment may be required.

This might involve medication. It might, if the patient is subjected to more strenuous work than he can tolerate, require changes in his work or living habits to reduce strain. Or, finally, it might consist chiefly of periodic examination to see how the heart is behaving, and if further difficulty develops, to detect it at once.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a boy, 17 and about 5 feet 4 inches tall. Both of my parents are short. I have heard about a drug to help dwarfs grow. Could I use it to gain height? This is no joke. To me it is very important.—F.P.

At 17 you still have time to do some more growing. I doubt very much that you are in any sense a dwarf—it's just that your heredity decrees that you aren't meant to be tall. Growth hormone is available only in limited quantities, and in any event it could be used only on the advice of an endocrinologist. I doubt in a case like yours that it would warrant the cost. Don't forget that some of the most brilliant men in history haven't been very tall.

Dear. Dr. Molner: I am 73. Recently a blood vessel burst in my eye, and the blood covers most of the white. Will this clear up? Or cause trouble? It has not disturbed my vision yet.—L. C. E.

And it won't bother your vision or be dangerous. This appearance of blood in the eye can be frightening, but it looks worse than it is, by far.

At your age the capillaries (very small surface blood vessels) can become unduly fragile, and some slight injury (rubbing the eye, a slight bump, straining from a sneeze, etc.) can rupture one. If your blood pressure is elevated, that may be a factor.

However, this blood will absorb in about 10 days with no harmful after-effects.

Be sure to get ample Vitamin C (citrus juices) and calcium (milk or skim milk is the most plentiful source) in your diet, which may lessen any tendency toward future bleeding.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is meant by "a latent diabetic"?—H.K.

A latent diabetic is one who under ordinary circumstances does not show sugar in the urine or have high blood sugar, but under stress conditions, for example with a fever, surgery or in pregnancy, sugar is found.

Note to Mrs. L. K.: Mastitis (cysts in the breast) very rarely is related to cancer. Removal of the cysts is entirely possible, although medical treatment is usually tried first, and if it succeeds surgery is avoided.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader's questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

I want to express my appreciation of your editorial Friday, August 19, "On Our Blind Side."

Being a teacher is often a frustrating business, but the frustration is more than compensated for when someone picks up an idea one has suggested, considers it, makes it his own and builds upon it, as you have done.

It's a fine editorial — well thought out, well expressed and it carries impact. Thank you for writing it.

Street Widening

Lincoln, Neb.

Seeing pictures of Vine Street in the August 18 Star, the natural beauty now ravished, made me ill. The councilmen and planners bray that it is progress to widen the street, but it does not have that flood of traffic. O Street and Holdrege carry greater. Property owners are already bowed down with taxes that could be used in better places than whacking down trees.

Minneapolis tends its trees with pride. Missouri, Tennessee and others encourage such growth. But Nebraska, which has all too few in the first place, goes about with ax and buzz-saw.

And here is the ironic bit. The August 18 Star tells about how Mrs. Johnson deplores the unsightly car graveyards, stretches of barren highways, wanting instead shade trees, trailing vines and rainbow hues of flowers flung like gay scarves along the way. So the big boss just tells her to take $493 million and buy herself all the pretties she wants.

Some realize that the country could survive without this lavish, foolish spending spree especially with war needs, poverty, education and health care being of far greater importance. Those who have millions of their own neither realize nor care about the desperate needs of so many, and spend the country's money as if it were their own.

So it is with our own city fathers, leaving the tab for others to pick up.

More Watersheds

Auburn, Neb.

Our state has taken substantial initial steps toward the goal of industrializing her communities. However, it remains impossible to separate Nebraska's future from that of agriculture. We are and should be proud to be from the heart of the "food basket" of the nation. Agriculture is our leading industry and it must be treated as such.

Factories and other manufacturing facilities make capital improvements yearly. Likewise, agriculture must continue to protect her "capital assets" — the land of Nebraska.

In this light we can be thankful that Congressman Callan is representing us in Congress. During the past year, seven new watersheds were approved for our First Congressional District. Nebraska is the leading state in soil and moisture conservation, and Callan has compiled not only a commendable record in this area but a remarkably outstanding record.

In the two years Callan has been representing us, 15 per cent of all funds committed to watershed districts in our nation were approved for Nebraska's First District. Congressman Callan has in two years had more watersheds approved for his district than any other representative ever to sit in the Congress of our nation in a single two-year term. Agriculture in a very real sense is Nebraska. The farmer as a businessman must be informed and interested in preserving the resources used in winning his livelihood. The necessity of soil and water conservation is an issue in which Nebraskans have a vital stake.

With the record Clair Callan has compiled in soil and water conservation alone, he has demonstrated his awareness of our state's identity with agriculture. We in the First District could do no finer act than to return him to the House of Representatives.

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Postponing Pleasures May Mean Loss Of Memorable Experiences

By ROBERT PETERSON

This column takes the view that we shouldn't wait too long to do things that fulfill heartfelt desires. Life is short, at best and we shouldn't put all our pleasures in cold storage, awaiting retirement.

Readers may recall a piece I wrote three years ago about Dr. Paul W. Stoddard. To fulfill a lifelong ambition, this 60-year-old grandfather flew around the world in a single week end.

Dr. Stoddard was not a playboy or publicity seeker. Rather he was the staid, sedate principal of the Housatonic Valley High School at Falls Village, Conn.

He left home on a Thursday evening, boarded a jet in New York and flew to Paris. Then he flew on to Rome, Beirut, Karachi, Calcutta, Rangoon, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Honolulu, and Los Angeles. By going the eastward route he gained an extra day, and by not missing a single plane connection he was back home by mid-morning the following Monday.

He told me he'd spent 41 hours in the air, and 42 hours on the ground. The air was clear during much of the trip and he was able to get a fine panoramic view of the globe below. He said that at most airports the stopover was sufficient to give him time for a quick tour of the city and environs.

As he told me, "A lot of people will say it's silly to spend $1,200 on air tickets for a weekend trip. But this was something I'd always wanted to do. I was in a bad auto accident not long ago and it made me aware how uncertain life can be. I probably should have waited until I retired, but something told me to go ahead. This was one of the most memorable experiences of my lifetime—something that has given me a new concept of man and his world."

Was Dr. Stoddard wise to have taken this trip when he did? Several dozen people wrote me after that column appeared saying they thought this weekend circumnavigation of the world the silliest thing they'd ever read about.

But the other day I picked up the newspaper and read that Dr. Stoddard had passed on suddenly at age 63. The retirement he had looked forward to never materialized. But his dream flight around the world had been experienced—thanks to acting on his impulse to take the trip when he did rather than wait until he retired.

There are values, of course, in delaying gratification. The inability of ignorant people to delay gratification is one of the chief causes of poverty.

But when we have exercised a measure of thrift, and when the calendar informs us we're past the midpoint in our lifespans, we should start modifying restraints. We should determine what we really want to do, and ask ourselves whether it's necessary to wait until we retire. If the answer seems to be in the negative we should go ahead.

If you would like a booklet "Basic Health Rules for Older People," write to Robert Peterson,Life Begins at Forty, c/o The Lincoln Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to cover handling costs.

Regular Religious Services Prohibited In State's Parks

The State Game Commission Wednesday rejected a request from Nebraska clergymen and issued an order prohibiting regularly scheduled religious services in state parks.

However, the commission decided to permit religious services among groups occupying park camping facilities, the post of local church schedules and special religious services under an official permit.

The commission said the special services, like at Easter sunrise, must be open to the general public not be denominational or sectarian in nature.

The commission policy was adopted after State Parks Chief Jack D. Strain reported a number of Nebraska clergymen had asked that regularly scheduled religious services be scheduled in state parks.

He said there has been no clamor from the general public for such services and noted that the U.S. Supreme Court's decision banning religious prayers in public schools might also apply to public parks.

Funds Sought For 3 Plans To Aid Aged

Applications for federal funds totalling $47,000 to implement programs for the aged in Lincoln, Fremont and Superior have been approved by the State Advisory Committee On Aging, Gov. Frank Morrison said Wednesday.

He said the applications have been forwarded to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which will make the final decisions.

Gov. Morrison said each applications call for a three-year "demonstrations" program, with the federal share to be 75% for the first year, 60% the second and 50% the third.

Lincoln's project, with a requested $26,000 grant, would be sponsored by the City Recreation Department with expansion of recreation, craft, consultation and cultural services to the elderly through an expanded staff.

Superior proposes to establish an office for the aging within city government on a $12,500 grant, while Fremont's $8,500 request would be used to design and implement a varied program of recreation and social activities for older people.

Senate Gives Local Building Funds Okay

By The Associated Press

The U.S. Senate gave its final approval Wednesday to a $2,438,000 appropriation to acquire land and finance planning for a new courthouse and federal office building in Lincoln.

A spokesman for U.S. Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said the appropriation was included in the 1966 independent offices appropriations bill which was given final voice approval.

The House of Representatives earlier approved the Lincoln item.

The courthouse, office building and an adjoining parking facility will cost a maximum of $14,890,000, according to Sen. Curtis' office.

Fiery Suicide

Lorient, France (UPI)—Police said Lucien Thierry, 45, committed suicide last night by pouring gasoline over his clothes and setting himself afire He had recently been suffering violent headaches, the police added.

Job Rights Panel Considers Publicity Program

The State Equal Employment Opportunity Commission discussed without action a proposed publicity program calling public attention to the services of the commission.

Cost estimates of a minimum program, utilizing newspaper, radio and TV advertising and leaflets, were outlined by Swanson, Sinkey and Ellis, a Lincoln advertising firm, at the commission's request.

Chairman R. D. Andersen said the program and costs were requested "on an informational basis only" as an aid to the commission on what approach could be used.

The other approach would be continued dependence upon publicity through the news media and donated public service space and time.

While the attorney general has ruled the commission may expend funds for advertising, some members indicated they felt the commission could be criticized for such expenditures.

Andersen also reported the commission "hopes" to hire an executive director by Oct. 1.

He said several prospects are under consideration, and a decision could be made at the commission's Sept. 20 meeting.

The commission also agreed to investigate the possibility of holding a seminar, with national representatives from the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, for employers, employment agencies and unions on the federal and state equal employment acts.

The seminar would not be held before late fall and after an executive director is employed by the commission.

Andersen reported eight cases of alleged employment discrimination are still under review by the commission.

Local Police Seek Knight's Burglar

Police are looking for a well-dressed intruder who broke into Knight's Family Store Monday night at 1414 South St., and took an undetermined amount of clothing and toys.

An inventory will pinpoint the number and amount of shirts, trousers, briefs and T shirts, socks, toys, dresses and face towels that were missing when the store was opened Wednesday morning, police said.

The building was entered by going through a fan above the store's marquis, police said.

Present Evidence In W. Lincoln Annexation Case

The question of the validity of the City of Lincoln's annexation of the village of West Lincoln was submitted to Lancaster District Judge William Hastings Wednesday subject to filing of briefs.

Taking of evidence was concluded in an all-day hearing Wednesday in an action brought by former village board member Cecil Campbell seeking a judgment declaring LB586 unconstitutional and city ordinances purporting to annex West Lincoln unauthorized under the law.

LB586, passed by the 1965 Legislature, authorizes cities of primary class to annex villages within their limits which they service with water.

Campbell alleged that the 1965 law is "class legislation and that the city ordinances are not authorized because the Village of West Lincoln doesn't fall within the class of villages subject to terms under LB586.

Merril Reller and John McArthur, attorneys for Campbell, contended that the statute is "vague, arbitrary and unconstitutional."

City Attorney Ralph Nelson argued that the 1965 law was aimed at orderly development of the city and merely put into writing what has been the practice throughout the country for many years.

Judge Hastings gave both sides 21 days in which to file briefs and the plaintiff another seven days in which to answer.

In January, Judge Hastings issued a temporary restraining order halting the annexation of West Lincoln and set bond at $15,000 which was not posted; therefore, the restraining order has never become effective.

AAUP Study Shows Salaries At NU Third In Big Eight

An American Association of University Professors (AAUP) study shows average cash rewards to full-time faculty at the University of Nebraska are third best among Big Eight Conference schools.

The 1965-66 school year survey said the average reward at Nebraska is $10,884, up $572 from the previous year. This includes salaries, social security benefits and retirement program payments.

The study included 392 full-time faculty at Nebraska. It did not cover the colleges of law, medicine, dentistry and agriculture where salaries are higher.

Topping the list of cash rewards was Iowa State University, with an average of $11,877. Colorado was second at $11,734.

However, the AAUP report noted that different information was supplied by the various schools and that a pure campus-by-campus comparison is difficult.

For instance, Missouri was below Nebraska with an average of $10,052 but this included salaries at branch institutions.

The AAUP study concluded that national increases in salaries and benefits averaged seven per cent. Nebraska has been operating under a five per cent schedule.

The AAUP also supplied average figures for eight other Nebraska colleges. They are: Chadron State, $8,349; Creighton University, $8,776; Dana, $8,885; Doane, $7,703; Hastings, $8,534; Kearney State, $8,607; Omaha University, $9,590, and Nebraska Wesleyan, $8,401.

The Big Eight average was, with 1964-65 figures in parenthesis: Iowa State, $11,877 ($11,214); Colorado, $11,734 ($11,194); Nebraska, $10,884 ($10,312); Kansas, $10,682 ($10,270); Kansas State, $10,465 ($9,913); Oklahoma, $10,357 ($9,157); Missouri, $10,052 ($9,359); Oklahoma State, $9,800 ($9,399).

'Model Driver' Makes Mistake

Paris (UPI)—Henri Daniel, 58 was known to his friends and employers as a "model driver."

In more than 15 years of driving he had not had a single accident.

Last Sunday afternoon during a blinding thunderstorm in Paris, Daniel drove through a red traffic light and crashed into a taxi. An elderly woman passenger in the taxi was killed and another injured.

In the confusion Daniel climbed out of his car and disappeared into the crowds.

His body was found Wednesday floating in the Seine River. Police said it was an apparent case of suicide.

Present Evidence In W. Lincoln Annexation Case

The question of the validity of the City of Lincoln's annexation of the village of West Lincoln was submitted to Lancaster District Judge William Hastings Wednesday subject to filing of briefs.

Taking of evidence was concluded in an all-day hearing Wednesday in an action brought by former village board member Cecil Campbell seeking a judgment declaring LB586 unconstitutional and city ordinances purporting to annex West Lincoln unauthorized under the law.

LB586, passed by the 1965 Legislature, authorizes cities of primary class to annex villages within their limits which they service with water.

Campbell alleged that the 1965 law is "class legislation and that the city ordinances are not authorized because the Village of West Lincoln doesn't fall within the class of villages subject to terms under LB586.

Merril Reller and John McArthur, attorneys for Campbell, contended that the statute is "vague, arbitrary and unconstitutional."

City Attorney Ralph Nelson argued that the 1965 law was aimed at orderly development of the city and merely put into writing what has been the practice throughout the country for many years.

Judge Hastings gave both sides 21 days in which to file briefs and the plaintiff another seven days in which to answer.

In January, Judge Hastings issued a temporary restraining order halting the annexation of West Lincoln and set bond at $15,000 which was not posted; therefore, the restraining order has never become effective.

AAUP Study Shows Salaries At NU Third In Big Eight

An American Association of University Professors (AAUP) study shows average cash rewards to full-time faculty at the University of Nebraska are third best among Big Eight Conference schools.

The 1965-66 school year survey said the average reward at Nebraska is $10,884, up $572 from the previous year. This includes salaries, social security benefits and retirement program payments.

The study included 392 full-time faculty at Nebraska. It did not cover the colleges of law, medicine, dentistry and agriculture where salaries are higher.

Topping the list of cash rewards was Iowa State University, with an average of $11,877. Colorado was second at $11,734.

However, the AAUP report noted that different information was supplied by the various schools and that a pure campus-by-campus comparison is difficult.

For instance, Missouri was below Nebraska with an average of $10,052 but this included salaries at branch institutions.

The AAUP study concluded that national increases in salaries and benefits averaged seven per cent. Nebraska has been operating under a five per cent schedule.

The AAUP also supplied average figures for eight other Nebraska colleges. They are: Chadron State, $8,349; Creighton University, $8,776; Dana, $8,885; Doane, $7,703; Hastings, $8,534; Kearney State, $8,607; Omaha University, $9,590, and Nebraska Wesleyan, $8,401.

The Big Eight average was, with 1964-65 figures in parenthesis: Iowa State, $11,877 ($11,214); Colorado, $11,734 ($11,194); Nebraska, $10,884 ($10,312); Kansas, $10,682 ($10,270); Kansas State, $10,465 ($9,913); Oklahoma, $10,357 ($9,157); Missouri, $10,052 ($9,359); Oklahoma State, $9,800 ($9,399).

'Model Driver' Makes Mistake

In more than 15 years of driving he had not had a single accident.

Last Sunday afternoon during a blinding thunderstorm in Paris, Daniel drove through a red traffic light and crashed into a taxi. An elderly woman passenger in the taxi was killed and another injured.

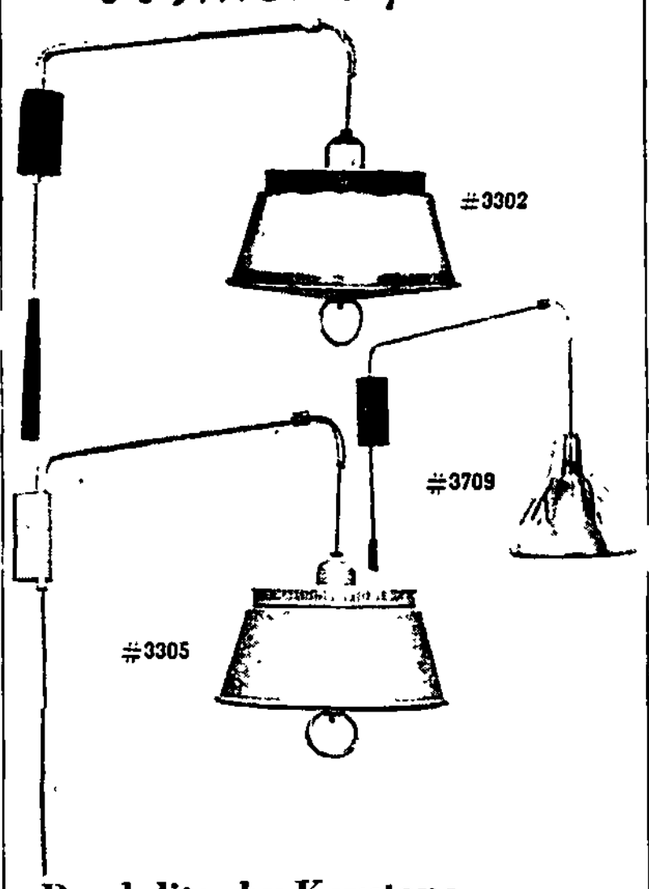

In the confusion Daniel climbed out of his car and disappeared into the crowds.

His body was found Wednesday floating in the Seine River. Police said it was an apparent case of suicide.

U Thant To Announce

United Nations N.Y. (AP)—U Thant of Burma will announce Sept. 1 whether he will accept a second term as secretary-general of the United Nations, a U.N. spokesman said.

POSTCARD

The newest thing in the corporate picture today is the sauna bath. All kinds of big companies are installing and doing business in these steam - filled rooms.

The client comes to the office of the advertising firm of Bitten, Beaten, Battered and Heartburn. His mind is on the sales curve. And maybe changing agencies.

The president leads him into the sauna.

"No sweat — in a manner of speaking, ha, ha," he says. "Let me outline the new campaign."

They steam the customer like a clam. It is difficult to fire a man when you are both stark naked and dripping.

A first-class office sauna costs about $15,000 and is worth every penny of it.

Some years ago I went to Helsinki. The first thing the tourist office did was to put me in a sauna. The Finns have been doing business in saunas for years. One of their greatest pleasures is to get an outsider in a sauna and watch him squirm. This is the correct way to do it.

There are four million Finns in Finland and half a million sauna baths.

You undress and step into the steam room. It is hot as a sheriff's pistol. And once in awhile, to make it hotter, a Finn gets off the wooden bleachers and throws water over a fiery stove.

After some 20 minutes, everybody went outside, under the birch trees, and jumped into the Baltic sea!

I don't know how a big company could get that kind of action. But a tub of ice-water would be a close thing. In the winter, the Finns chop holes in the ice and jump through the hole.

In the next step, they take you into a scrub room. A Finnish lady put me on a wooden couch. She scrubbed me with a loofah sponge.

A loofah sponge is the inside of a Central American plant. It is the texture of a ship's hawser and takes off skin down to a point you would scarcely believe.

As a finishing off, she scrubbed my head with a steel wire brush.

After this, all hands go to the Sauna clubroom. They sit around, naked as jaybirds, while the scrub ladies bring around beer.

The Finns say: "Now, wasn't that wonderful?"

You had better say, "yes." For nothing is so sacred in Finland as the flag, motherhood and the sauna.

Naturally, if American companies keep putting in saunas, they'll want to do it properly. And that's the way to do it.

There's the cost of beer.

And the salaries, pensions and other fringe benefits for scrub ladies. It might be possible to get scrub ladies who scrub down office buildings at night. They could moonlight in the daytime.

I forgot to mention that in the Finnish sauna they kept a boxful of birch branches with the leaves on.

Steam the customer. Throw him in the lake. Scrub him, beat him with birch and give him a beer.

Short Meeting Held By Planning Board

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Planning Commission Wednesday skipped through a light agenda and ended its second regular August meeting in 45 minutes—the shortest session in recent memory.

Recommended for approval was a special permit to construct an 18-car parking lot on the south side of P St. between 24th and 25th, requested by Dorothy E. Newman. A house on the lot will be removed.

The commission also recommended that the application of Lillian Imig to change the zoning from H-2 highway commercial to K light industrial on property at the intersection of 12th St., Dawes and Cornhusker Highway be approved.

Both petitions had been given a preliminary okay by the planning department. Final action is taken by the City Council.

The planning board decided to defer its recommendation on two amendments to the zoning ordinance which would clarify controls placed on outdoor identification signs and bulletin boards.

Planning and building inspection officials said they would ask the opinion of local subdividers concerning portions of the proposed changes.

One amendment calls for a change in existing provisions to allow up to three subdivision identification signs on a tract, depending on the size of the tract; to permit larger signs which include additional information, and to provide for termination of the sign permit upon sale of the property.

The present ordinance allows a maximum of two identification signs on subdivision tracts.

The other amendment shifts regulations concerning the location and size of public building and church bulletin boards, temporary real estate and temporary construction site signs to the general provisions section of the zoning ordinance, rather than within provisions controlling each individual zoning district.

Other commission recommendations:

—Preliminary plat, Churchill subdivision, in the vicinity of Holdrege and Carlos Drive, approved.

Panel's Liquor-By-Drink Petitions Nearing Goal

A Lincoln Chamber of Commerce committee seeking a popular vote on liquor-by-the-drink Wednesday filed its first batch of signatures with the city clerk.

The "Committee of 66" turned over 93 initiative petitions bearing 2,525 names. 3,376 valid signatures are needed to place the issue on the Nov. 8 ballot. That figure represents 20% of the total vote cast in the last general city election, in May, 1965.

City Clerk Harold Springer said the petitions, filed by attorney Ted Kessner, have been delivered to the election commissioner's office to facilitate the checking of names.

Tom Pansing, committee chairman, said circulators have been obtaining signatures with ease, adding that many petitions have not been returned to the Chamber office.

He said the committee expects to file additional petitions next week which will contain ample signatures to force a vote.

In promoting the petition drive, the chamber has said it is not taking a stand one way or the other on the controversial liquor-by-the-drink issue.

Open House Planned By VISTA Volunteers

Lincoln's four VISTA volunteers have scheduled an open house Sunday at their residence at 2001 Vine St. between 1:30-3:30 p.m. to meet families in the Malone-Clinton area which they will be serving.

Assisting the Volunteers in Service to America Sunday will be women of the VISTA advisory committee of the Lincoln Action Program.

Since their arrival this month the four volunteers have been introduced to the city and some of the low-income persons with whom they will be involved in their efforts of teaching and demonstrating homemaking skills both individually and in block-centered groups.

Through VISTA work the Lincoln Action Program hopes to improve child care, health habits, sanitation, budgeting, food buying and food preparation among the Malone - Clinton neighborhood residents.

Until school starts the volunteers, Mrs. Edna Phillips, Miss Susan Helaas, Miss Sharon Tinsley and Miss Mary Langhoff, will conduct playground activities at the Malone Community Center for younger children, LAP director Art May reported.

May also announced Wednesday that the Kansas City Office of Economic Opportunity has indicated Lincoln's application for funds to continue its administrative work for another year will be granted.

According to latest reports, May said, it appears the Office of Economic Opportunity will continue to fund programs "similar to last years projects" in order to avoid interruption of opreation.

It "appears certain there will be plenty of money for Head Start," he declared.

Bookstrom Lowest Bidder On City Water Feeder Main

H. R. Bookstrom Construction Co. was the apparent low bidder Wednesday on a 16 and 24 inch water feeder main in Old Cheney Road from the Salt Valley View addition to The Knolls.

Bookstrom bid $87,503, followed by N. L. Cole Construction Co., $89,950 and Dobson Bros. Construction Co., $88,745.

Bookstrom also submitted the apparent low bid of $20,806 on a water district in 84th, from A St. to Janssen Drive. Other bidders were Dobson Bros., $22,499 and N. L. Cole, $23,665.

Dobson, at $44,980, was apparent low bidder on a water district in 70th St., A to Van Dorn, and Van Dorn, from 70th to 66th. Bookstrom bid $46,370 and N. L. Cole, $46,980.

Other bids received by the city Wednesday:

—Sprinkler System installation at Irvingdale Park: Western Plains Construction Co., $7,925; H. R. Brookstrom, $8,250.

Real Estate Board Can't Dictate To Members

Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Real Estate Board would go out of existence if it ordered members to rent and sell to Negroes, the board chairman said Wednesday.

"As a voluntary association, it cannot dictate policy in social matters to its members, and certainly not to the customers of its members," Chairman Ross Beatty said in an interview.

"The end of our line is to expel a member," he added. "Members are not subject to the board's control. Each individual broker conducts his business in the framework of his role as an agent under contract and his local situation."

The board—a private association which represents one-eighth of Chicago's 8,325 real estate agencies and brokers—has been a prime target of civil rights groups demonstrating against alleged housing discrimination.

The protestors contend the board should provide leadership in opening housing in all neighborhoods to all races.

"We do not control the people or the agents," the soft-spoken Beatty said. "If the seller won't sell to a Negro, the agency con't force him. We're representing the people and we have to reflect their ideas. Otherwise we are out of existence."

Beatty, who took office in May, said civil rights leaders have misguided their attack against the Real Estate Board. He added:

"We feel that it is only human nature to select someone to blame. We're handy. We exist. There is no other organization that represents a cross section of every phase of real estate."

Lunar Orbiter Snaps Photograph Of Earth

A spokesman for the national space agency said the earth's picture, snapped Tuesday, will be transmitted Thursday to the deep space receiving station at Goldstone, Calif.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hope the photograph will provide information of the earth's terminator—the line dividing the shadowed and sunlit portions of the planet.

The officials believe the picture will show a gradual shading from light to dark, rather than well defined lines as on the moon, because of the diffusion of sunlight by the earth's atmosphere.

The space agency's Langley Research Center at Hampton said Lunar Orbiter will photograph the fifth of nine selected sites on the moon's surface Thursday morning to provide information on their suitability as landing places for American astronauts.

Soviet Union Launches Space Lab Toward Moon

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union launched Wednesday an unmanned space laboratory weighing nearly two tons toward the moon, where the American Lunar Orbiter is now taking pictures at close range.

There was speculation that the Soviet satellite might be on a similar assignment to take pictures useful for a manned landing.

As usual, the Russians did not disclose immediately the goal of their latest intended moon satellite, Luna 11. But it seemed apparent that if all goes according to schedule it will be orbiting the moon just as its U.S. counterpart, launched 10 days ago. The trip to the moon takes about 3½ days.

The Soviet laboratory outweighed the American satellite by a ratio of more than 4 to 1—3,615 pounds to 850 pounds.

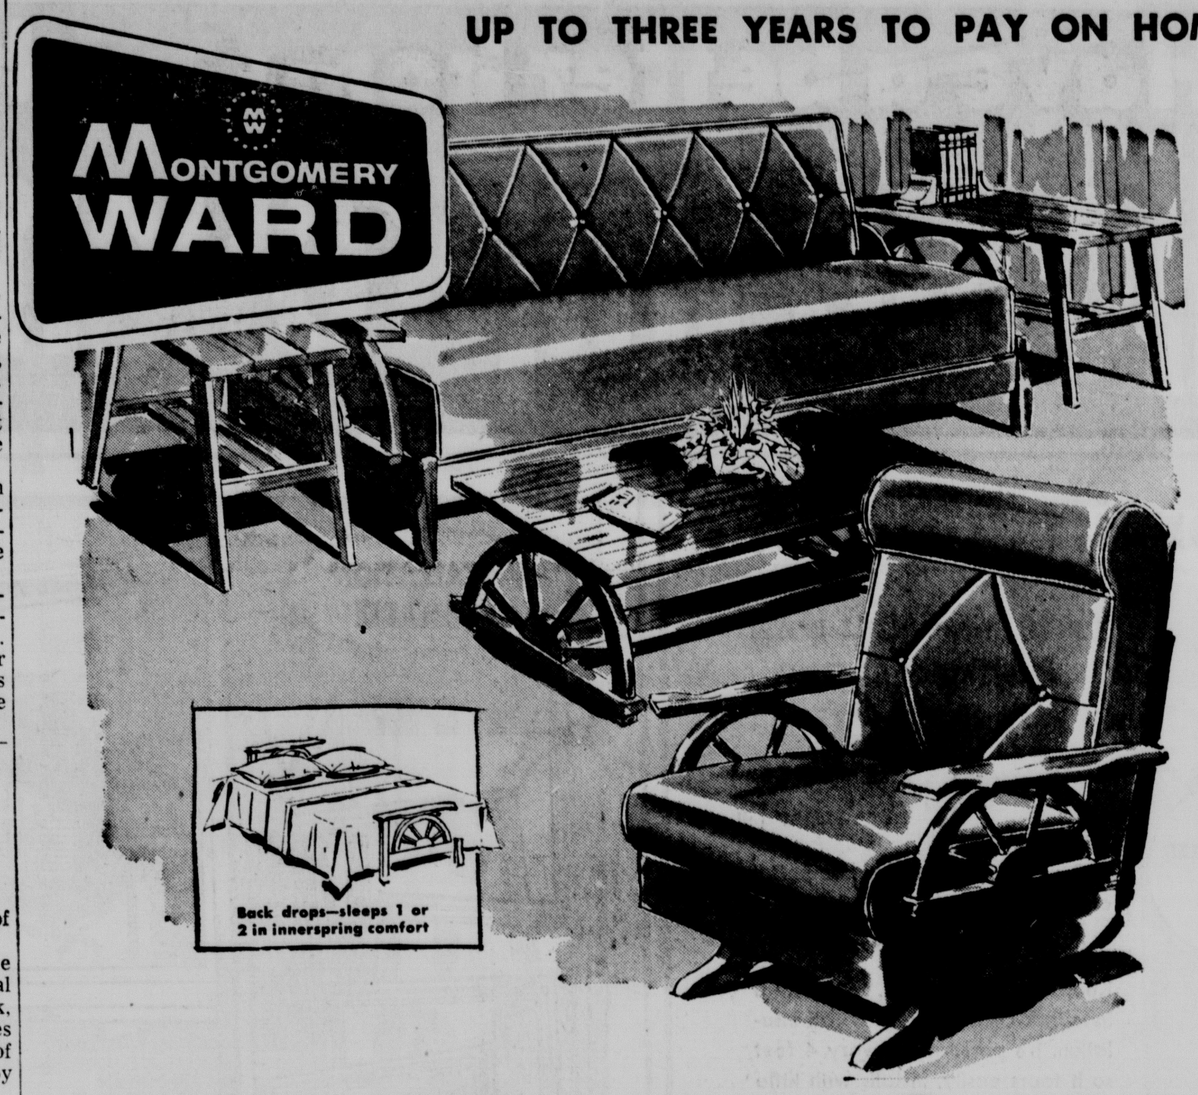

"The main purpose of the station is the further testing of systems of an artificial moon sputnik (satellite) and scientific explorations in near lunar space," said Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Soviet Union Launches Space Lab Toward Moon

Moscow (AP)—The Soviet Union launched Wednesday an unmanned space laboratory weighing nearly two tons toward the moon, where the American Lunar Orbiter is now taking pictures at close range.

There was speculation that the Soviet satellite might be on a similar assignment to take pictures useful for a manned landing.

As usual, the Russians did not disclose immediately the goal of their latest intended moon satellite, Luna 11. But it seemed apparent that if all goes according to schedule it will be orbiting the moon just as its U.S. counterpart, launched 10 days ago. The trip to the moon takes about 3½ days.

The Soviet laboratory outweighed the American satellite by a ratio of more than 4 to 1—3,615 pounds to 850 pounds.

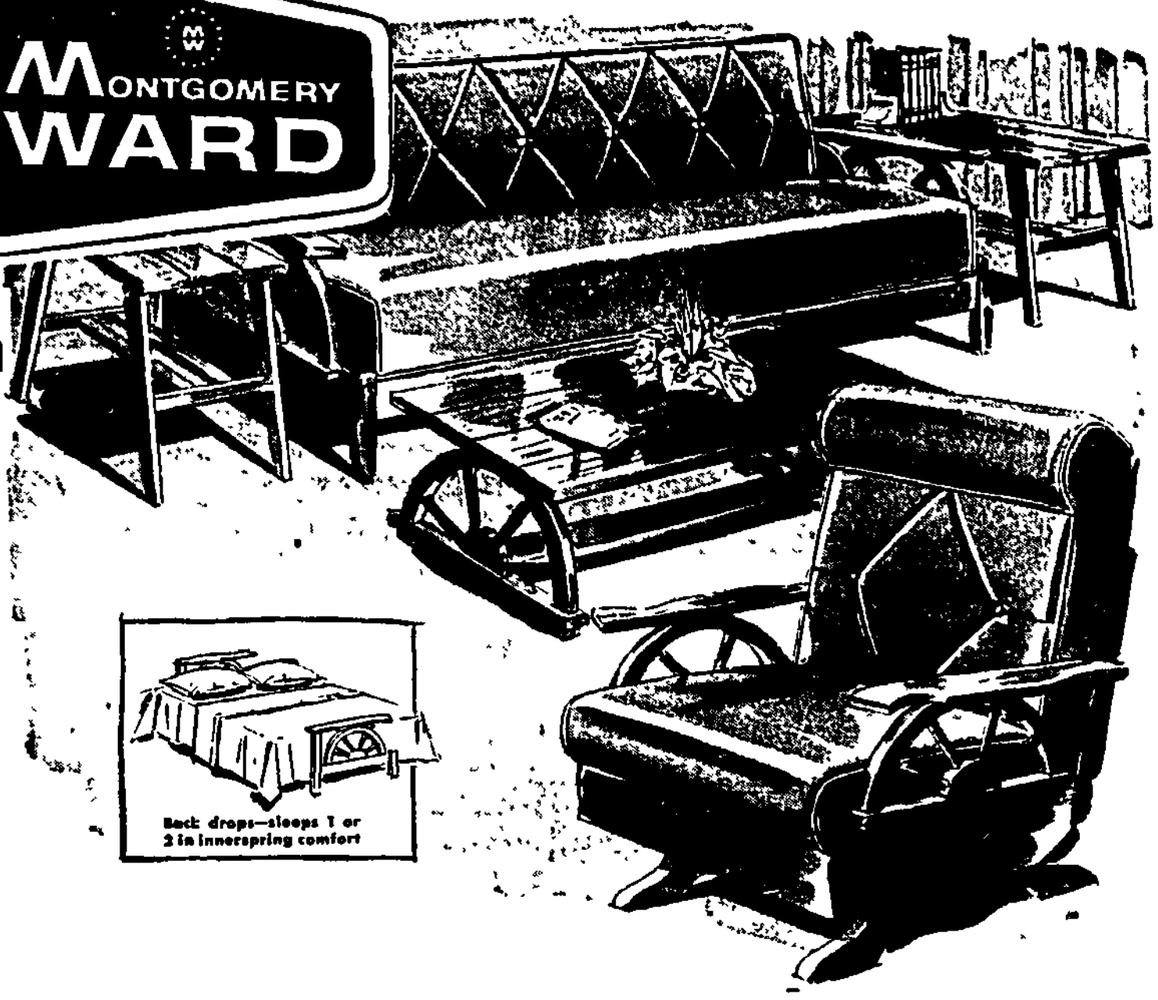

"The main purpose of the station is the further testing of systems of an artificial moon sputnik (satellite) and scientific explorations in near lunar space," said Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Tax Refunds Given To Four Counties

. . . COURT RULING FOLLOWED

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Equalization, in a special meeting Wednesday, ordered county treasurers to make tax refunds in four Nebraska counties on 1965 real estate valuations struck down by the State Supreme Court.

The counties are Blaine, Keith, Garfield and Box Butte, which successfully prosecuted appeals from the board's actions last year.

Blaine County's 1965 valuation increase of 90% was reduced to 50% by the board "in conformity with the Supreme Court order."

State Tax Commissioner George Dworak, a board member, said the reduction on rural property brings the county's sales-assessment ratio to 28.55% and close to the 28.07% average for the state last year.

Within Tolerances

Dworak said the new ratio "is within the tolerances indicated by the Supreme Court."

The 1965 valuations increases for Keith, Garfield and Box Butte Counties were ruled invalid by the high court.

The tax refund action was taken by the board on the advice of Attorney General Clarence Meyer.

"There are no precise refund procedures (for the state board) in the statutes," Meyer said. "But, the State Board of Equalization is like a court—so when a court is reversed by the Supreme Court, the court can enter an amended judgement."

"The state board can order a reduction in reconsideration of its judgment and issue a directive to the county treasurer to refund excess taxes collected and withhold from governmental subdivisions such amounts as to offset the refunds," the attorney general said. "There is no liability involved in making the Supreme Court order effective."

To board questions, Meyer said some cities and school districts "may be pinched or hurt in having to pay back the money to which they were not entitled under the Supreme Court decision."

But, he noted, that school districts can issue registered warrants for the tax refund and the cities and villages "can spread out the repayments to reduce fiscal problems."

Taxing officials had no immediate estimates of the amount of refunds involved, but noted that "the counties involved are small."

Meyer noted the recommended tax refund procedure would be less costly and more efficient than the possibility of a multiplicity of taxpayer suits for refunds.

Error Corrected

In other action, the board "corrected" a clerical error on 1966 equalization order for a eight per cent urban-suburban property increase for York County.

Dworak said the eight percent increase was intended to apply to agriculture land only, and urban valuation should be unchanged.

Also corrected was the percentage of increase on Chase County's rural valuation because of a discovered error on the abstract submitted by the county assessor.

The board ordered the rural increase be reduced from 38% to 31%, which Dworak said would cause no valuation change on the corrected abstract.

The board action was taken by Secretary of State Frank Marsh, acting chairman, Treasurer Fred Sorensen and Dworak.

Gov. Frank Morrison was briefed on the proposed actions before leaving for a scheduled appearance in Omaha. Auditor Ray Johnson was also absent.

More Appeal Notices Filed Protesting Valuation Rulings

Twenty-two appeal notices affecting 16 counties were on file Wednesday from the State Board of Equalization's 1966 property valuation decisions.

Filing deadline is Thursday.

Chase, Perkins, Blaine, Brown, Box Butte, Grant, Lincoln and Rock were the latest counties joining the growing list of those giving notice of intent to appeal to the Supreme Court from the state board's actions.

Notices were filed earlier by Lancaster, Douglas, Arthur, Keith, Cherry, McPherson, Hooker and Thomas Counties and by two individual landowners, S. K. (Bob) Hanna of Thomas County and Ralph P. Vinton of Hooker County.

Four Douglas County property owners also filed notice Wednesday of intent to appeal from the 24% valuation hike handed the county. They are Ernest F. Lied, E. John Brandies Trust, Brandies Investment Co. and northwestern Bell Telephone Company Inc.

The board made sweeping valuation changes before setting the 1966 state property tax levy on Aug. 15. Only nine counties escaped valuation hikes.

Last year, eight counties appealed state board valuation orders and four of them won full or partial victories before the Supreme Court.

Bowen For Polling Solons On Road Financing Briefing

Legislative Speaker Kenneth L. Bowen said Wednesday he recently supported a motion to poll Nebraska's 49 senators to determine if they wanted a briefing on a proposed highway financing plan.

The Red Cloud senator said there has been some confusion over his position during a legislative council executive board meeting earlier this week.

At that meeting, the board rejected an appeal to order the senators back to the Capitol for a briefing. Also turned down was a proposal to poll the lawmakers on the question.

Bowen said he did not ballot for the former but "definitely supported" the latter. Executive board votes are not public unless revealed by the senators themselves.

He said the motion to poll the senators was made by Valentine Sen. Elvin Adamson and seconded by himself. There was no other support.

"I don't want the people to get the impression that I voted against polling the senators because I did not," Bowen said.

"Sen. Adamson and myself were perfectly willing to let the senators determine through a poll whether they wanted a special briefing on the highway plan. The other committee members did not go along with this."

$50,000 Suit Is Filed In Accident

Donald White filed a $50,000 damage suit in Lancaster District Court Wednesday against Daryl O. Chapelle in connection with a July 16, 1966, two-car collision.

White alleges negligence on the part of the defendant when the car of the defendant was stopped four miles east of 84th on O Street or U.S. 34 and was not visible to eastbound traffic.

As a result of this negligence, the car in which White was a passenger collided with the defendant's car, the petition alleges.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

New Plan Launched To Improve Education

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

A new approach to the improvement of education is under way. Sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the plan does not strictly follow the traditional state control of education.

Twenty regional laboratories for educational research and development are envisioned. Twelve have already been approved and funds allocated. It is something new for agencies sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education to be given responsibility for coordinating educational research in designated regions.

In a recent letter to Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare John W. Gardner, President Johnson expressed his approval of the laboratory idea. "The laboratories," he said, "should be large and significant enterprises, equal in size and scope to the major tasks they seek to accomplish. They ought to be conceived as comparable in their way to the large-scale laboratories of the defense or atomic energy establishments. Nothing less will do. Their missions are equally important."

Piecemeal

Educational research has been centered in Schools of Education and, consequently, has been done in a piecemeal manner. The broad basic research that will be possible under the direction of the Regional Laboratories will be the first of its kind in this country. Another first will be the pooling of brain power on an area-wide basis not restricted to the educational establishment.

The Southwest Regional Laboratory launched in July, 1966, is a good example of the organization and working plans for the laboratories. This laboratory will study the educational problems of Clark County in Nevada, the southern counties of California, and the entire state of Arizona.

Dr. Jack P. Crowther, superintendent of Los Angeles City Schools is chairman of the board of directors. Dr. Richard E. Schultz, formerly professor of Educational Psychology at Arizona State University, has been named Director of the Laboratory.

Advisory Council

A 54-member advisory council, made up of public and private school teachers and administrators, college and university instructors and representatives from non-profit corporations, industry and the community, is being selected to counsel the laboratory on regional needs.

Another unique characteristic of the new approach is the banding together of many agencies in its organization. Parties to the Southwest Laboratory agreement are: regents of the universities and State College of Arizona: Arizona Board of Education: regents of the University of California; trustees of the California State College; California State Board of Education: regents of the University of Nevada and Nevada State Board of Education.

The first projects for the new Laboratory will deal with communication skills at primary and pre-school levels: reading, writing, speaking and understanding. A second project will involve research in problem-solving skills and teaching students how to think.

Projects in research and implementation of research findings will be established throughout the region. School districts may submit their problems to the laboratory, which will make every effort to locate someone who may have made at least the first steps in the solution.

Poverty Project Grant Approved

Gov. Frank Morrison approved Wednesday a $174,102 federal anti-poverty grant to the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission, permitting the agency to continue a project designed to provide conservation and recreation work for youths from poor families.

The grant will provide the funds necessary to hire 100 young people under the program, the governor said.

NASON ON EDUCATION:

New Plan Launched To Improve Education

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

A new approach to the improvement of education is under way. Sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education, the plan does not strictly follow the traditional state control of education.

Twenty regional laboratories for educational research and development are envisioned. Twelve have already been approved and funds allocated. It is something new for agencies sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education to be given responsibility for coordinating educational research in designated regions.

In a recent letter to Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare John W. Gardner, President Johnson expressed his approval of the laboratory idea. "The laboratories," he said, "should be large and significant enterprises, equal in size and scope to the major tasks they seek to accomplish. They ought to be conceived as comparable in their way to the large-scale laboratories of the defense or atomic energy establishments. Nothing less will do. Their missions are equally important."

Piecemeal

Educational research has been centered in Schools of Education and, consequently, has been done in a piecemeal manner. The broad basic research that will be possible under the direction of the Regional Laboratories will be the first of its kind in this country. Another first will be the pooling of brain power on an area-wide basis not restricted to the educational establishment.

The Southwest Regional Laboratory launched in July, 1966, is a good example of the organization and working plans for the laboratories. This laboratory will study the educational problems of Clark County in Nevada, the southern counties of California, and the entire state of Arizona.

Dr. Jack P. Crowther, superintendent of Los Angeles City Schools is chairman of the board of directors. Dr. Richard E. Schultz, formerly professor of Educational Psychology at Arizona State University, has been named Director of the Laboratory.

Advisory Council

A 54-member advisory council, made up of public and private school teachers and administrators, college and university instructors and representatives from non-profit corporations, industry and the community, is being selected to counsel the laboratory on regional needs

Another unique characteristic of the new approach is the banding together of many agencies in its organization. Parties to the Southwest Laboratory agreement are: regents of the universities and State College of Arizona; Arizona Board of Education; regents of the University of California; trustees of the California State College; California State Board of Education; regents of the University of Nevada and Nevada State Board of Education.

The first projects for the new Laboratory will deal with communication skills at primary and pre-school levels: reading, writing, speaking and understanding. A second project will involve research in problem-solving skills and teaching students how to think.

Projects in research and implementation of research findings will be established throughout the region. School districts may submit their problems to the laboratory, which will make every effort to locate someone who may have made at least the first steps in the solution.

DE GAULLE TO GO AROUND THE WORLD IN 19 DAYS

Paris (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle flies off Thursday on a 19-day round-the-world trip with his major stop at the threshold of South Viet Nam.

De Gaulle's official visit to Cambodia, which borders Viet Nam, will be watched closely for public statements on the war, and for possible direct or indirect contacts with the communist leaders of the war against the American-supported Saigon regime.

It is conceded generally that De Gaulle would not be reluctant to take a role in ending the war.

There has been no hint of any spectacular move by De Gaulle. It is expected he will re-emphasize his opinion that the only solution in Viet Nam is withdrawal of foreign forces and creation of a neutralist nation.

The Cambodian capital, Phnom Penh, less than 60 miles from the Vietnamese frontier, may be a sounding board.

De Gaulle plans to make a major speech there Sept. 1.

The French president, nearing 76, will begin his 19-day, 27,000-mile trip with a stop at Djibouti in French Somaliland.

Saturday he flies to Addis Ababa for a three-day official visit as a guest of Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie.

De Gaulle may use the occasion to issue a call for stability of the many African states that have become independent in the last decade.

De Gaulle is due in Phnom Penh Aug. 30. He is returning an official visit chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk made to France in 1964. But his visit obviously has more significance than a simple return call.

DE GAULLE TO GO AROUND THE WORLD IN 19 DAYS

Paris (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle flies off Thursday on a 19-day round-the-world trip with his major stop at the threshold of South Viet Nam.

De Gaulle's official visit to Cambodia, which borders Viet Nam, will be watched closely for public statements on the war, and for possible direct or indirect contacts with the communist leaders of the war against the American-supported Saigon regime.

It is conceded generally that De Gaulle would not be reluctant to take a role in ending the war.

There has been no hint of any spectacular move by De Gaulle. It is expected he will re-emphasize his opinion that the only solution in Viet Nam is withdrawal of foreign forces and creation of a neutralist nation.

The Cambodian capital, Phnom Penh, less than 60 miles from the Vietnamese frontier, may be a sounding board.

De Gaulle plans to make a major speech there Sept. 1.

The French president, nearing 76, will begin his 19-day, 27,000-mile trip with a stop at Djibouti in French Somaliland.

Saturday he flies to Addis Ababa for a three-day official visit as a guest of Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie.

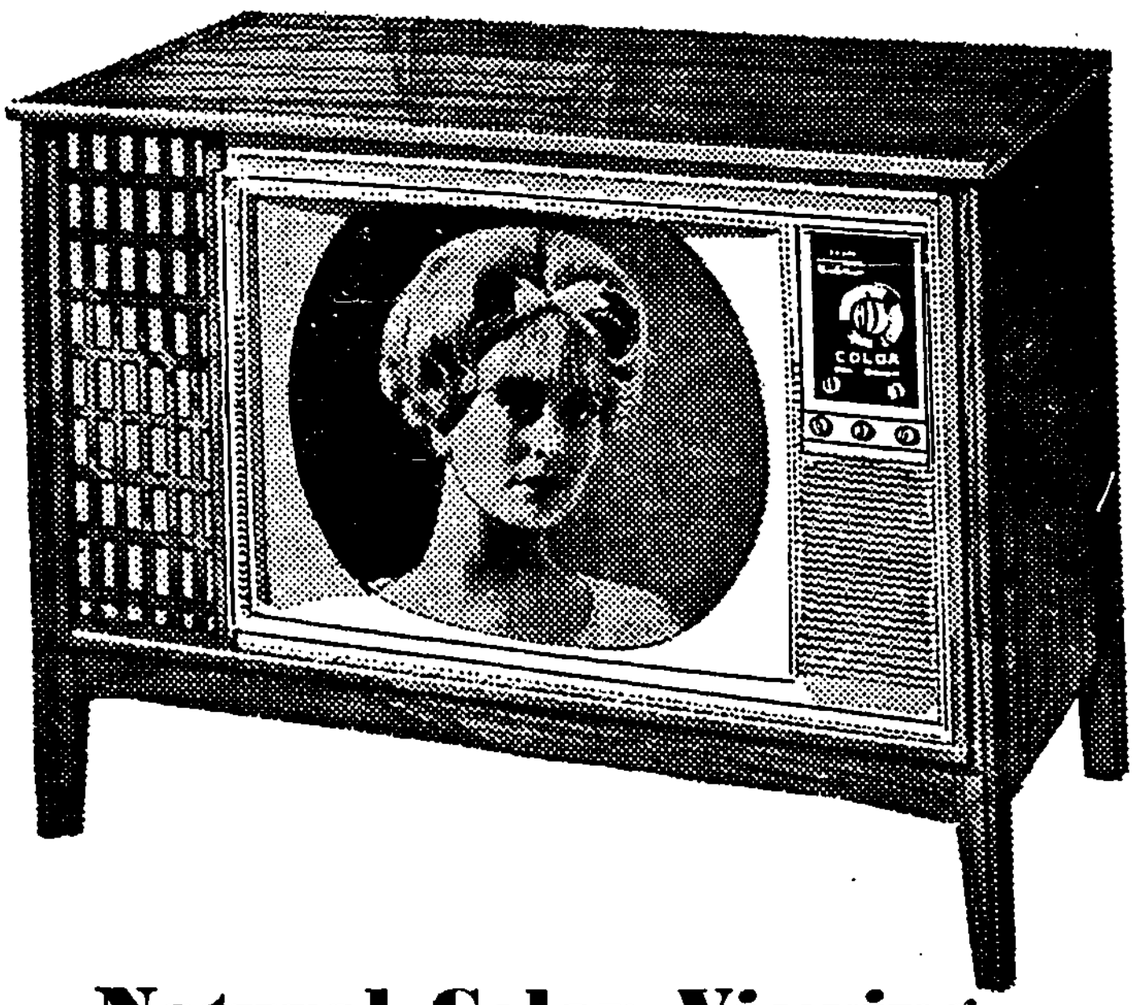

De Gaulle may use the occasion to issue a call for stability of the many African states that have become independent in the last decade.

De Gaulle is due in Phnom Penh Aug. 30. He is returning an official visit chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk made to France in 1964. But his visit obviously has more significance than a simple return call.

LBJ Awaits Money Acts By Congress

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson said Wednesday government action may be needed later to control prices and wages but he is waiting to see what Congress does about his spending programs.

Of the need for steps to curb inflation, such as a tax increase, the President told a news conference: "It may be that the government will have to take other measures. But we are not ready to recommend them at this time."

"We are very anxious to see what the Congress does with the more than a dozen appropriations bills that are yet to be acted upon. I can give you a little more information after we see whether they cut our budget or whether they add to our budget," he said.

Admits Rise

Johnson acknowledged the rising cost of living, with a 10% increase in consumer prices since 1960.

But he said wages had gone up 17% and profits had soared by 83% in the same period.

"As long as you can keep your wages and profits up that much, we can understand that there will be some increase in prices," he said.

"We are going to try to keep them all as stable as possible but when you have wages rising, prices will rise."

The November elections: "I do not have the feeling that there will be any substantial turnover in either the House or the Senate . . . I do think you will find that there will be some seats . . . that the Republicans lose and we will probably lose some. But I don't expect to see any unusual change from what you would expect normally in the election this year."

Civil rights demonstrations and white backlash: "I think there are going to be a lot of problems that exist in Chicago which will be reflected in the elections, without any question. I think that the administration at the federal, state and city level has to be constantly on the alert to do everything they can to face up to the modern-day problems and try to find solutions to them."

Johnson was asked about former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's assertion that the United States should work through an all-Asian conference rather than a European-dominated Geneva conference to attain peace in Viet Nam.

"I am willing to go to a conference anywhere, where I think it would be helpful," Johnson said. "I am not going to black out any place . . . We would be very pleased to see an all-Asian conference, although we do not want to make it appear that we are trying to direct it or force it."

Other points:

—He will swing through three Western states on a speaking tour Friday, visiting Pocatello, Idaho; Denver, Colo., and Tulsa and Pryor, Okla.

—He would offer no explanation of a recent Gallup Poll which showed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., had greater popularity among Democrats and independents than Johnson as a 1968 presidential nominee.

Washington (UPI) — The Senate passed and sent to the White House Wednesday a $7 billion farm money bill that ignored President Johnson's request to cut school milk and lunch funds.

Senate action came by voice vote several hours after the House approved the appropriation measure financing price support and other farm programs for the 12 months that began July 1.

Third General Tenders Resignation

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Trouble over leadership in the West German armed forces—the Atlantic Alliance's biggest contingent—deepened Wednesday with the announcement that a third general has tendered his resignation.

Maj. Gen. Guenther Pape, 59, commander of the 3rd Military Region, asked to be relieved of his duties in disagreement with the decision of Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel to allow servicemen to join a labor union.

He followed the examples of the country's top soldier, Armed Forces Chief Gen. Heinz Trettner, who tendered his resignation for the same reason, and Air Force Chief Lt. Gen. Werner Panitzki. Panitzki had been suspended for criticizing the government fro buying F104G Starfighters, 61 of which have crashed since 1961.

Chancellor Ludwig Erhard will return Thursday from a Bavarian vacation for his first immediate look at the row. A government spokesman said Von Hassel will report to the chancellor.

The spokesman, Deputy Press Chief Fritz Niebel, was asked at a news conference if other generals had tendered resignations. He replied: "I can neither confirm nor deny this."

Niebel told newsmen he did not view the situation as a crisis in the 430,000-man armed forces, which are fully integrated into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense command.

Opposition Ignored; HUAC Approves Bill

Washington (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee ignored opposition by the Johnson administration Wednesday and quickly approved a bill to set stiff criminal penalties on "overt acts" of antiwar groups.

The 7-0 vote came after less than one hour of discussion.

Spokesmen for the Justice, Commerce and Treasury Departments had testified against the bill after the committee spent four tumultuous days last week investigating the activities of the antiwar groups.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., told reporters that changes made by a subcommittee which held the hearings limit the bill to "overt acts" such as soliciting, collecting or sending blood and medical supplies to the Viet Cong, or attempting to block troop trains.

Maximum penalties provided are a fine of $20,000 and 20 years in prison.

"We certainly expect to get it before the House as quickly as possible," Willis said.

And the measure's chief sponsor, Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., announced he is calling off a planned trip to Viet Nam, declaring: "I'm going to stay here with this bill."

A report that House leaders were seeking to keep the bill from the House floor was apparently squashed when Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., while saying he had not read the measure, strongly attacked the activities of the antiwar groups.

Although the House—with all its seats up before the voters Nov. 8—is expected to give overwhelming support to the bill, it may languish in the Senate.

President Signs Antipet Theft Bill

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson signed into law Tuesday legislation aimed at curbing the theft of family pets. It also requires humane treatment of animals used for research.

At a signing ceremony in the White House Cabinet Room, Johnson said the measure would put an end to the "kind of inhumanity which has been involved in the business of supplying stolen animals" to research laboratories.

Irene strikes a bold and handsome look with this plaided black graphite and white English wool nine-tenths coat. It is worn over a self skirt with jersey blouse. It's the costume with easy swing.

Here we have the look of opulence. This costume is of metalic brocaded paisley in shades of burnt orange and Midas gold. Mink creates the collar and cuffs.

"Respectable" the new word in fashion's vocabulary gives new luster to the Irene collection for fall '66 . . . the line is a reflection of understated elegance achieved with opulent fabrics, furs and jeweling.

Well suited and costumed for fall are looks that wed handsome bold plaided tweeds with English worsteds, defined and exaggerated checks with solids in walking length jackets that can double as "little coats."

Excitement in the collection stems from a group of coats with the fashion story spelled out in luxurious colored cashmeres in romantic fall hues of wood violet, shadow green, moon mist and Spanish tile. The cashmeres married in hue to town dresses in English twist wools. Melton and textured wools comprised other coatings and the silhouette swung wide like a tent or was slim on empire lines.

After 7 p.m. dinner suits were in golden lame and metal tapestry designs all with the touch of pure luxury. Outstanding was an old world tapestry jacquard in muted tones on rose, mint, and grey set off by glittering marquisette buttons. Sable enhanced a bittersweet paisley brocade dinner suit which paced the opulent look of the collection.

A touch of dash was noted in Morrocan geometric sheer wool and English twist costume . . . the geometric print in the dress and the same bold print in a shaft dress with all-over beading, an exclamation point. A golden trench coat worn over a jet scarfed and bordered dress suggested an evening at a favorite discotheque.

For after-five a tiered and pailletted black lace dance dress with a lifted waistline set the romantic mood of the occasion dresses. White crepe in a stem of a ball gown circled with jewels was in the grand manner as was an imperial jade green and gold brocade, most important evening gown.

The complete collection creates the lady image from day through evening and is in the Irene tradition of defined elegance.

FOOD
raisin bread goes to a party

Store bought raisin bread goes to the party in high style. With layers of chicken salad, ham salad and egg salad, it makes one of the most interesting sandwiches on record. This one, frosted with a Roquefort-flavored cream cheese, is much easier to make than the frosted loaves that call for unsliced bread. You can stack as high as you want and as long — simply indicate cutting lines on top.

This isn't the only possibility for raisin bread. Many canapes are more interesting on raisin bread, as are sweet fillings for tea sandwiches. Club sandwiches can be made better with the inside slice of raisin bread. And even at fancy wedding breakfasts, you'll find small triangles of raisin bread toast in the bridal basket.

FESTIVE FROSTED
RAISIN BREAD LOAF

1 (1-pound) loaf raisin bread
Soft butter
Chicken Filling
Ham Filling
Egg Filling
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
1 (5-ounce) jar Roquefort cheese spread

Trim crusts from raisin bread. Arrange four slices, sides touching, on sheet of foil. Spread lightly with butter, then top with Chicken Filling. Top with 4 bread slices. Spread these with butter and Ham Filling. Repeat, using Egg Filling, then top with remaining bread slices. Soften cream cheese and Roquefort spread; blend together. Spread over top and sides of loaf. Chill thoroughly. Garnish as desired. Mark into serving slices, taking care that marks are made where bread slices join. Slice with serrated knife. Makes 12 servings.

Chicken filling: Combine 1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, ¼ teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons EACH finely chopped pimiento and green pepper. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Ham filling: Combine 1 cup ground or very finely chopped cooked ham, ¾ teaspoon prepared horseradish, 1 tablespoon well drained pickle relish and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

Egg filling: Combine 4 finely chopped hard cooked eggs with 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste.

Cookie Time

So it's back-to-school time, and that's cookie-and-apple time for lunches and after school snacks. Cookies are a breeze with a handy, homemade, Basic Cookie Mix. It's easy. Sift together into large mixing bowl 8 cups sifted enriched flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder and 1½ teaspoons salt. Cut in 3 cups soft butter or margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Prepare mix at your leisure and store, tightly covered, in your refrigerator—all ready for instant use the next time your cookie jar is empty and you're in a hurry.

To make 4 dozen cookies, stir together 3½ cups Basic Cookie Mix and ⅔ cup sugar. Blend together 1 large, beaten egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add all at once to the dry ingredients. Mix until dough forms a ball. Force dough through cookie press or gun onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven, 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. To vary some of the cookies, drop a little food coloring into the mixing bowl and swirl it through the dough. This makes an interesting, quick-and-easy marble effect — and no extra bowl to wash later! These are soft cookies. So store them tightly covered.

Confetti Popcorn

2 cups sugar
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
Oil of wintergreen, cinnamon, clove or anise
Food Coloring
5 quarts popped popcorn

Combine sugar, water, salt, corn syrup and vinegar in a saucepan. Cook to hard-ball stage (250 degrees). Pour half the syrup into another pan. Add 4 drops of desired flavor of oil to each half and a few drops of food coloring. Shake the pan to mix in flavor and color. Divide popcorn in half and pour one batch of flavored syrup over each. Stir to mix. Spread in buttered pan. Repeat for other flavors. Break up candied corn and mix assorted flavors and colors to serve.

ABBY

he may have bigger problems

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wish they would outlaw baseball! My husband is such a big sports fan he has two TV's going in separate rooms, and he carries a transistor radio around to keep up with a baseball game. When we go out for an evening he has to have the transistor plugged in his ear to keep up with a baseball game somewhere.

We can't go to bed at night till he finds out how the teams did all over the country. He ignors me completely, and we have been married only four months. I am not an old bag either. I am 36-24-36.

STRIKING OUT

DEAR STRIKING: If Sports Fan ignores you during the seventh inning stretch and after the scores are all in and the lights are all out, he could have bigger problems than you. Let me hear how you wind up the season.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who just loves to write letters. I think she must be a frustrated novelist. She will start a letter on Monday, add to it on Tuesday, keep adding to it every day until she finally closes on Friday. One of her letters can be 15 or 16 typewritten pages — single spaced.

She never has any news, it's just a lot of drivel. But what really gets me is this. She works for a doctor, and she uses his business stationery, his envelopes, and I'm sure his stamps and his TIME. To me, it's out and out stealing. Is there some tactful way to bring this correspondence to an end?

HATES TO WRITE

DEAR HATES: Yes. Don't answer.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was married on the spur of the moment and we didn't have time to order formal announcements, so I wrote letters to our immediate family telling them about our new son-in-law. I also inclosed a picture of the couple taken on the day of their marriage.

Of the 11 letters I wrote, nearly five months ago, only one relative bothered to send my daughter a wedding gift. I have sent dozens of lovely gifts to those relatives for graduations, weddings, etc., so naturally, I was stunned.

My husband says they are under no obligation to acknowledge our daughter's marriage because we sent no formal announcements and had no wedding. Don't you think a handwritten announcement should have brought some acknowledgement? SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: An "acknowledgement," yes. A gift no. Gifts are ALWAYS optional.

Great Books Program

The Lincoln Great Books Council has announced its schedule of readings and discussion meetings for the fall and winter months, and all who are interested are invited to participate.

Based on the American tradition of open discussion, the program is planned to encourage adults in continuing education by studying the books of the world's great authors.

Trained volunteer leaders direct the discussion meetings, for which there are no fees or educational requirements—only the desire to read and discuss the world's great literature.

Mrs. William Maly, council president, has announced a schedule of four adult groups meeting alternate weeks on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Bennett Martin Library, the Bethany and South Branches, and at the University of Nebraska East Campus Library.

Group Six will begin Sept. 14, Groups Two and Four, Sept. 15, and Group One, Sept. 22, and serving as leaders will be Mrs. F. M. Tuttle, George A. Ball, Mrs. Ralph Ulrich, Mrs. Bernard Gradwohl, Mrs. Dermot P. Coyne, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. Ron Sherk, Mrs. Maly and Mrs. James Kendricks.

Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Waneta Muriel Kanter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Kanter of Chappell, and John Allen Ruwe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ruwe of Hooper, took place Sunday afternoon, Aug. 21, at the Berea Lutheran Church in Chappell. The lines of the 4 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Donivar Peterson and Mrs. Joel Wedergren of Essex, Iowa, organist, and sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Mrs. Paul Fornander of Chappell.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of satin in the russet tone were Miss Velma Frahm of Lincoln, the maid of honor; Miss Carol Busch, Lincoln, the bridesmaid; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Lyle Rima, North Platte. Each carried a single, large yellow chrysanthemum.

Larry Ruwe of Hooper served as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Hunteman and Ted Windhusen, Hooper; Gail Christensen, Aurora; and Gary Kanter, Chappell.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose white silk organza and Chantilly lace. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a sabrina neckline, and the lace-appliqued skirt was complemented by a redingote overskirt of lace-edged organza which continued into an aislewide train. A pearl coronet held her tiered veil of illusion, and her crescent bouquet was fashioned of feathered white carnations and yellow roses.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 3541 Apple. The bridegroom is a student at the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Ruwe is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce.

Irene strikes a bold and handsome look with this plaided black graphite and white English wool nine-tenths coat. It is worn over a self skirt with jersey blouse. It's the costume with easy swing.

Here we have the look of opulence. This costume is of metalic brocaded paisley in shades of burnt orange and Midas gold. Mink creates the collar and cuffs.

"Respectable" the new word in fashion's vocabulary gives new luster to the Irene collection for fall '66 . . . the line is a reflection of understated elegance achieved with opulent fabrics, furs and jeweling.

Well suited and costumed for fall are looks that wed handsome bold plaided tweeds with English worsteds, defined and exaggerated checks with solids in walking length jackets that can double as "little coats."

Excitement in the collection stems from a group of coats with the fashion story spelled out in luxurious colored cashmeres in romantic fall hues of wood violet, shadow green, moon mist and Spanish tile. The cashmeres married in hue to town dresses in English twist wools. Melton and textured wools comprised other coatings and the silhouette swung wide like a tent or was slim on empire lines.

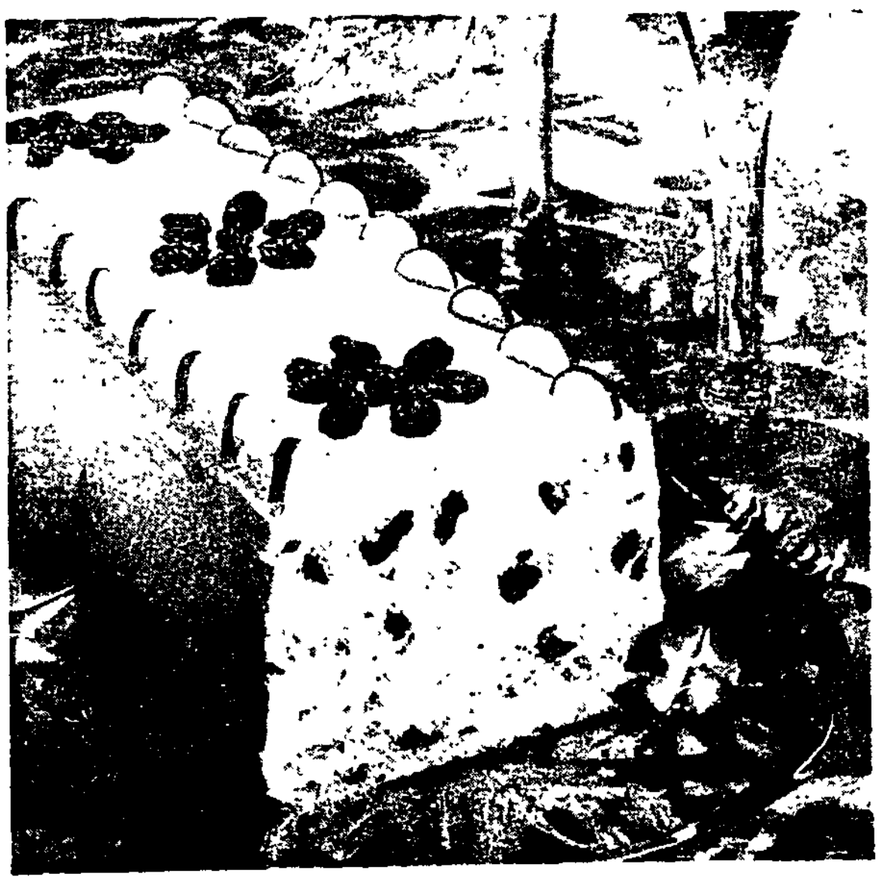

After 7 p.m. dinner suits were in golden lame and metal tapestry designs all with the touch of pure luxury. Outstanding was an old world tapestry jacquard in muted tones on rose, mint, and grey set off by glittering marquisette buttons. Sable enhanced a bittersweet paisley brocade dinner suit which paced the opulent look of the collection.

A touch of dash was noted in Morrocan geometric sheer wool and English twist costume . . . the geometric print in the dress and the same bold print in a shaft dress with all-over beading, an exclamation point. A golden trench coat worn over a jet scarfed and bordered dress suggested an evening at a favorite discotheque.

For after-five a tiered and pailletted black lace dance dress with a lifted waistline set the romantic mood of the occasion dresses. White crepe in a stem of a ball gown circled with jewels was in the grand manner as was an imperial jade green and gold brocade, most important evening gown

The complete collection creates the lady image from day through evening and is in the Irene tradition of defined elegance.

FOOD

Store bought raisin bread goes to the party in high style. With layers of chicken salad, ham salad and egg salad, it makes one of the most interesting sandwiches on record. This one, frosted with a Roquefort-flavored cream cheese, is much easier to make than the frosted loaves that call for unsliced bread. You can stack as high as you want and as long — simply indicate cutting lines on top.

This isn't the only possibility for raisin bread. Many canapes are more interesting on raisin bread, as are sweet fillings for tea sandwiches. Club sandwiches can be made better with the inside slice of raisin bread. And even at fancy wedding breakfasts, you'll find small triangles of raisin bread toast in the bridal basket.

FESTIVE FROSTED
RAISIN BREAD LOAF

1 (1-pound) loaf raisin bread
Soft butter
Chicken Filling
Ham Filling
Egg Filling
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
1 (5-ounce) jar Roquefort cheese spread

Trim crusts from raisin bread. Arrange four slices, sides touching, on sheet of foil. Spread lightly with butter, then top with Chicken Filling. Top with 4 bread slices. Spread these with butter and Ham Filling. Repeat, using Egg Filling, then top with remaining bread slices. Soften cream cheese and Roquefort spread; blend together. Spread over top and sides of loaf. Chill thoroughly. Garnish as desired. Mark into serving slices, taking care that marks are made where bread slices join. Slice with serrated knife. Makes 12 servings.

Chicken filling: Combine 1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, ¼ teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons EACH finely chopped pimiento and green pepper. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Ham filling: Combine 1 cup ground or very finely chopped cooked ham, ¾ teaspoon prepared horseradish, 1 tablespoon well drained pickle relish and ¼ cup mayonnaise.

Egg filling: Combine 4 finely chopped hard cooked eggs with 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper to taste.

Cookie Time

So it's back-to-school time, and that's cookie-and-apple time for lunches and after school snacks. Cookies are a breeze with a handy, homemade, Basic Cookie Mix. It's easy. Sift together into large mixing bowl 8 cups sifted enriched flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder and 1½ teaspoons salt. Cut in 3 cups soft butter or margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Prepare mix at your leisure and store, tightly covered, in your refrigerator—all ready for instant use the next time your cookie jar is empty and you're in a hurry.

To make 4 dozen cookies, stir together 3½ cups Basic Cookie Mix and ⅔ cup sugar. Blend together 1 large, beaten egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add all at once to the dry ingredients. Mix until dough forms a ball. Force dough through cookie press or gun onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven, 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. To vary some of the cookies, drop a little food coloring into the mixing bowl and swirl it through the dough. This makes an interesting, quick-and-easy marble effect — and no extra bowl to wash later! These are soft cookies. So store them tightly covered.

Confetti Popcorn

2 cups sugar
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
Oil of wintergreen, cinnamon, clove or anise
Food Coloring
5 quarts popped popcorn

Combine sugar, water, salt, corn syrup and vinegar in a saucepan. Cook to hard-ball stage (250 degrees). Pour half the syrup into another pan. Add 4 drops of desired flavor of oil to each half and a few drops of food coloring. Shake the pan to mix in flavor and color. Divide popcorn in half and pour one batch of flavored syrup over each. Stir to mix. Spread in buttered pan. Repeat for other flavors. Break up candied corn and mix assorted flavors and colors to serve.

TWO FOR THE SHOW

FRIDAY & SATURDAY, AUGUST 26-27

You are invited to our special showing of exciting new California designed fashions from S. Howard Hirsh and E. T. Junior. Enjoy INFORMAL MODELING on second floor and throughout the store.

S. HOWARD HIRSH . . . young, inventive fashion with a very special flair to the young-thinking individualist. This line represents a bold and exciting approach to dressy fashion . . . from $30 to $60, misses sizes.

E. T. JUNIOR designs are snappy clothes demanded by the "in" set and exploding with color on new fashion. E. T. specializes in the more casual dresses and costumes so wearable for the career girl and young matron. From $26 to $50 in junior sizes.

Mr. Arthur Cohen, representative, will be here to assist you. Tremendous selection available at once or special order for later delivery. CAREER & UNIQUE, SECOND FLOOR.

IN suburbia

As Summer 1966 begins to fade—never to come again, as we all know — its warm, green and lazy days are replaced by equally exciting crisp yellow tones and bustling hours which have marked fall for as many years as anyone can remember.

This time next week, it will be September, the traditional forte of autumn fashions and the ominous words which haunt the younger set in suburbia — "back to school". But, every season has its wonders, and who would want perpetual summer?

The main business of suburbia recently was apparently simply to wind up vacations, visits, and family reunions, packing away the memories for use on a cold dreary day.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

The Seward park was filled to overflowing Sunday, August 14, as the Klein family held their reunion, featuring one of the best turnouts ever. Most of those attending were from David City, Seward, or Fremont, and there were no out of state Kleins in attendance.

From Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Willemsen, Larry, and Nancy, traveled to Seward for a day of family fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane K. Sieckmann are one suburbia couple not following the tried and true August formula of rest and relaxation.

On Sunday, August 14, and again that Tuesday, they entertained friends from Elgin, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mitchell and their family. The week before they sent daughters Jane and Vicki down to El Dorado, Kan., for several days of vacation with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sieckmann.

Home from nursing school until August 28 is Vicki Underhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Underhill. She will return as a junior to St. Luke's Nursing School. Now that she has made it half way, the last two years should be easier!

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

Canada was the recent site of a vacation trip for the Robert E. Marks family. Fishing was the chief occupation of the whole family, including the Marks children, Jean, Mary Kay and Thomas, who made Lake Louise the focal point of their three weeks of travel.

A cabin at Fremont Lake was a two week retreat for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petersen and their children, Roxanne, Chris and Steven. The Petersens arrived back in Lincoln on Saturday to begin preschool preparations. Tales of water skiing and other adventures with the family's boat no doubt will characterize the children's back-to-school conversations.

SOUTH BROOK SUMMIT

Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Hornby will be moving on August 31 or September 1 to their new home at 1121 Cottonwood in Wedgewood Manor. The Hornbys have a daughter, Donna, who will be a senior at Lincoln Northeast Hgh School and a son, Clinton, who is attending Milford Technical School.

Attendants Revealed

Naming her bridal attendants for her wedding on Tuesday, Aug. 30, her parents' 25th wedding anniversary, is Miss Penny Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil F. Kirk, who will become the bride of Fran Dorais.

Miss Holly Kirk will attend her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Shirley Stratton and Miss Karen Dotson. Mrs. George Riemann of Barnston, Mrs. Tom Gardner and Mrs. Harold Parde will be the bridesmatrons, and the flower girl will be Miss Ellen Wohlers. Scott Taylor will be ringbearer.

Lighting the chancel candles for the 8 o'clock ceremony, which will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church, will be Miss Judy Andrus and Miss Darolyn Boyd.

Serving Mr. Dorais as best man will be Lynn Setgi of Greeley, Colo., and the corps of ushers will include John Dorais, Wymore, brother of Mr. Dorais; George Riemann, Jr., Barnston; Tom Kirk, the bride-elect's brother, and Dr. Jerry Reed.

Miss Cheryl Faden, whose marriage to Marty Miller will be an event of Sunday, Aug. 28, has named her sister, Miss Kathy Faden, as her maid of honor for the wedding, which will take place at Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Pat Faden of Scottsbluff will be the matron of honor, and bridesmaids will be Miss Karen Abood of Lexington; Mrs. Daryl Mitchell, Hickman; Miss Phyllis Stelling and Miss Judy Long. Miss Eilene Faden of Harrisburg, will be the flower girl.

Serving as best man will be John Struve, and groomsmen will be Pat Faden, brother of the bride-elect, and William Blough, Scottsbluff, Jerrie Dexter, Waverly; Jack Taylor, Lexington; Craig Dodge, Dan Faden, Bill Sauser and Lee Nelson. Mike Taylor, Lexington, will be ringbearer, and trainbearer will be Brett Hoeft, Grand Island.

Opening lead—six of hearts.

One unkind way of describing a player's lack of skill at the bridge table is to say that he bids his hands badly but plays his cards worse. I am reminded of this by the way South bid and played this hand.

Having opened with a forcing bid and then made a slam try by bidding four clubs, South should have retired gracefully from the auction when North denied interest in a slam by bidding only four spades. But apparently, South had not yet savored the full flavor of his hand when he went gaily on to five spades, which became the final contract.

West led a heart, the jack forcing the ace, and South ruffed. Declarer played a club to the queen and led a low spade, East following suit with the nine. The proper technical play at this point was the queen, in the hope of finding West with the singleton jack, but South played the ten, losing to the ace. He later lost two trump tricks to the K-J and went down one.

Of course, South could have made the hand had he played a low spade at trick two and later entered dummy with a club to lead another spade through the K-J.

Actually, this was the right way to play the hand. Declarer can properly reason that if the spades are 2-2, they can be led with equal effect from either hand, but that if there is a 3-1 division it is clearly better to start the suit by leading a low one at trick two.

This method of play gains whenever West has the singleton ace or king, whereas initiating the spades from dummy gains only when West was dealt the singleton jack. The odds are 2 to 1 in favor of starting the trumps by leading low from the South hand.

HATES TO WRITE

DEAR HATES: Yes. Don't answer.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was married on the spur of the moment and we didn't have time to order formal announcements, so I wrote letters to our immediate family telling them about our new son-in-law. I also inclosed a picture of the couple taken on the day of their marriage.

Of the 11 letters I wrote, nearly five months ago, only one relative bothered to send my daughter a wedding gift. I have sent dozens of lovely gifts to those relatives for graduations, weddings, etc., so naturally, I was stunned.

My husband says they are under no obligation to acknowledge our daughter's marriage because we sent no formal announcements and had no wedding. Don't you think a handwritten announcement should have brought some acknowledgement? SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: An "acknowledgement," yes. A gift no. Gifts are ALWAYS optional.

Great Books Program

The Lincoln Great Books Council has announced its schedule of readings and discussion meetings for the fall and winter months, and all who are interested are invited to participate.

Based on the American tradition of open discussion, the program is planned to encourage adults in continuing education by studying the books of the world's great authors.

Trained volunteer leaders direct the discussion meetings, for which there are no fees or educational requirements—only the desire to read and discuss the world's great literature.

Mrs. William Maly, council president, has announced a schedule of four adult groups meeting alternate weeks on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Bennett Martin Library, the Bethany and South Branches, and at the University of Nebraska East Campus Library.

Group Six will begin Sept. 14, Groups Two and Four, Sept. 15, and Group One, Sept. 22, and serving as leaders will be Mrs. F. M. Tuttle, George A. Ball, Mrs. Ralph Ulrich, Mrs. Bernard Gradwohl, Mrs. Dermot P. Coyne, Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. Ron Sherk, Mrs. Maly and Mrs. James Kendricks.

Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Waneta Muriel Kanter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Kanter of Chappell, and John Allen Ruwe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ruwe of Hooper, took place Sunday afternoon, Aug. 21, at the Berea Lutheran Church in Chappell. The lines of the 4 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Donivar Peterson and Mrs. Joel Wedergren of Essex, Iowa, organist, and sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Mrs. Paul Fornander of Chappell.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of satin in the russet tone were Miss Velma Frahm of Lincoln, the maid of honor; Miss Carol Busch, Lincoln, the bridesmaid; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Lyle Rima, North Platte. Each carried a single, large yellow chrysanthemum.

Larry Ruwe of Hooper served as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Hunteman and Ted Windhusen, Hooper; Gail Christensen, Aurora; and Gary Kanter, Chappell.

For her wedding gown, the bride chose white silk organza and Chantilly lace. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a sabrina neckline, and the lace-appliqued skirt was complemented by a redingote overskirt of lace-edged organza which continued into an aislewide train. A pearl coronet held her tiered veil of illusion, and her crescent bouquet was fashioned of feathered white carnations and yellow roses.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 3541 Apple. The bridegroom is a student at the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Ruwe is a graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce.

Training Rejectees To Delay Drafting Some Men Now 1A

Washington (UPI) — Defense Department plans to "salvage" 100,000 previously disqualified men annually for military duty will delay the drafting of some men now classified 1A, Pentagon officials said Wednesday.

Some government authorities said this concession obviously meant that deferred college students would be even less vulnerable to the draft than they are now.

Elaborating on Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's plan to bring mentally and physically disqualified men up to military fitness standards, defense officials also said:

—Thirty per cent of the men to be drafted or accepted as volunteers will be Negroes. This compares with 10% who are Negroes among all the men now taken into service.

—The rate of washouts — those who fail to get through basic training—is expected to be not more than 15% for the substandard men. This compares with 15% for the Army as a whole.

—The previously disqualified men will come very close to meeting the lowest mental standards now required of enlistees and draftees and will go through the same training centers. They will receive special training as necessary.

Asked about the effect of the program on the Selective Service System's present order of call for men classified 1A, a Pentagon manpower expert said, "People in the lower orders of call will not be reached as fast."

In the 12 months ended July 31, the armed forces took in 867,000 men—530,000 enlistees and 337,000 draftees. On that basis, the group McNamara now proposes to rehabilitate would comprise a considerable portion of all men entering service.

RFK Blast Self-Serving, Says Victim Sam Yorty

Los Angeles (AP) — Mayor Samuel W. Yorty accused Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., Wednesday of attacking Los Angeles in order to better his own political future.

"I got caught in the crossfire of Bobby Kennedy's attempt to undermine President Johnson," Yorty told a news conference.

Kennedy commented in a statement in Washington: "It saddens me that Mayor Yorty could not give the Congress the necessary information nor imaginative proposals of any kind."

Elected To Lead

In his statement, Kennedy said:

"Public officials should lead; that is what they are elected for. But in Los Angeles, the progress which has been made has been achieved by the leadership of private citizens, the press and by neighborhood groups, acting on their own."

Ribicoff said Los Angeles city government "doesn't stand for a damned thing." He and Kennedy, in a hearing at the nation's capital, said Los Angeles has failed to deal effectively with its problems, especially Watts.

Yorty, smiling and just returned by jet from the East, also criticized Ribicoff but hurled most of his barbs at Kennedy.

Destroy Johnson Friends

Asked how Kennedy's criticism of Los Angeles could be connected with undermining the President, Yorty said Kennedy is attempting to "destroy all the friends he (Johnson) has." He added that Kennedy has strong presidential ambitions himself.

Sen. Kennedy, the mayor said, wants "either to see President Johnson defeated in 1968 or so weakened he can't name a successor in 1972."

"In my opinion," Yorty said of Kennedy, "he's trying to ride on his brother's fame and his father's loot and take over the United States of America."

Services Set Friday For Harold Pierce

Funeral services will be held Firday at Roper and Sons' Chapel for Harold R. Pierce of 741 Skyway, a retired employe of the Nebraska State Employment Service.

The 67-year-old former schoolteacher, who died Tuesday in Omaha, was a superintendent of schools in Stella and principal and coach at Hooper and Oakdale. For 24 years prior to his retirement in 1964, Mr. Pierce was an employe of the state employment service.

During his 22 years in Lincoln, Mr. Pierce assisted with the Keen-Time Klub dances, which were managed by his wife, Doris, for the City Recreation Department.

He was a member of Fairhill Presbyterian Church, Lincoln Liberty Lodge 300, the Shrine, Hiram Club, Elks, and the Knife and Fork Club.

Mr. Pierce is survived by his wife, Doris H.; his sons, Harold G. of Dayton, Ohio, and Gary E. of South Beloit, Ill.; his brother, Joseph D. of Butte; and two grandchildren.

Sinister Man's Return Clue To Chinas Path?

By JOHN RODERICK

Tokyo (AP)—Red China's rulers Wednesday lifted slightly the curtain covering their backstage power contest and revealed a change that seemed to be heading the nation toward the most rigid military-police state rule.

The shadowy Kang Sheng, long a secret-police figure who once was the object of admiration by Joseph Stalin, has been elevated to the ruling politburo, a position he lost 10 years ago after falling into disfavor.

Kang's new eminence, along with the obvious commanding position of Defense Minister Lin Piao, seemed to be added evidence that the current nationwide purge was aimed at a total regimentation of Red China which would attempt to shut out completely all things foreign, including all Soviet influence.

The restoration of Kang to the 20 - member politburo headed by Party Chairman Mao Tze-tung was disclosed in a routine report of the official New China News Agency.

Kang, 63, is an expert on army affairs and has long been associated with Communist Party intelligence activities. A party member since the 1920s, he was on the politburo from 1945 to 1956. He fell into disfavor probably because of failures of his intelligence service.

He began his comeback in 1962 with elevation to the secretariat of the central committee.

Kang was listed seventh among the important state and party leaders attending the huge Aug. 18 parade and rally in Peking at which Mao presented his new first team.

2,000 Gals. Gas Covers Ground After Mishap

Beatrice (UPI)—A loading mishap Wednesday sent some 2,000 gallons of high octane gasoline spilling to the ground at Beatrice.

Officials said the gasoline ran off into the Big Blue River . . . but this was expected to pose no danger since enough water is contained in the Blue to dilute the gasoline.

According to the report, a tank truck was loading at the Jurgen station when it was accidentally backed into a loading hose. A valve was broken off and before it could be closed, the estimated 2,000 spurted out. There were no injuries.

Hedrick To Get Kiwanis Award

A Lincoln High School graduate now in his first quarter at the Nebraska Technical Vocational School at Milford will receive a scholarship award Thursday noon from the Cornhusker Kiwanis Club.

The scholarship, for $100 to be applied to tuition, is the first of what is expected to become an annual award by the club.

Recipient is James Hedrick, 19, of 1990 Ryons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Ryons.

Applicants for the scholarship are judged on need, citizenship and potential and must be graduates of Lancaster County high schools.

Survivor Of Ordeal Dies In Bed

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—John T. Emmanuel, 39, who lived through a plane crash and a week-long ordeal trapped inside the plane, died Wednesday in Hartford Hospital.

He had been transferred to Hartford Hospital from Meriden Hospital Tuesday. His physician said then he was suffering from "a total state of fatigue to mind and body."

The single-engine Cessna in which he was riding went out of control and crashed into the rocky face of Mt. Higby in Middletown on Aug. 15. Richard Grimaldi, 32, of Newington, who was piloting the plane, was killed in the crash.

A search was begun almost immediately, but the plane had fallen into a densely wooded area, and for six days could not be found.

It was finally spotted Sunday evening by a helicopter pilot. When rescuers reached the plane they found Emmanuel alive but only semiconscious.

IN suburbia

As Summer 1966 begins to fade—never to come again, as we all know — its warm, green and lazy days are replaced by equally exciting crisp yellow tones and bustling hours which have marked fall for as many years as anyone can remember.

This time next week, it will be September, the traditional forte of autumn fashions and the ominous words which haunt the younger set in suburbia — "back to school". But, every season has its wonders, and who would want perpetual summer?

The main business of suburbia recently was apparently simply to wind up vacations, visits, and family reunions, packing away the memories for use on a cold dreary day.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

The Seward park was filled to overflowing Sunday, August 14, as the Klein family held their reunion, featuring one of the best turnouts ever. Most of those attending were from David City, Seward, or Fremont, and there were no out of state Kleins in attendance.

From Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Willemsen, Larry, and Nancy, traveled to Seward for a day of family fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane K. Sieckmann are one suburbia couple not following the tried and true August formula of rest and relaxation.

On Sunday, August 14, and again that Tuesday, they entertained friends from Elgin, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mitchell and their family. The week before they sent daughters Jane and Vicki down to El Dorado, Kan., for several days of vacation with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sieckmann.

Home from nursing school until August 28 is Vicki Underhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Underhill. She will return as a junior to St. Luke's Nursing School. Now that she has made it half way, the last two years should be easier!

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

Canada was the recent site of a vacation trip for the Robert E. Marks family. Fishing was the chief occupation of the whole family, including the Marks children, Jean, Mary Kay and Thomas, who made Lake Louise the focal point of their three weeks of travel.

A cabin at Fremont Lake was a two week retreat for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petersen and their children, Roxanne, Chris and Steven. The Petersens arrived back in Lincoln on Saturday to begin preschool preparations. Tales of water skiing and other adventures with the family's boat no doubt will characterize the children's back-to-school conversations.

SOUTH BROOK SUMMIT

Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Hornby will be moving on August 31 or September 1 to their new home at 1121 Cottonwood in Wedgewood Manor. The Hornbys have a daughter, Donna, who will be a senior at Lincoln Northeast Hgh School and a son, Clinton, who is attending Milford Technical School.

Attendants Revealed

Naming her bridal attendants for her wedding on Tuesday, Aug. 30, her parents' 25th wedding anniversary, is Miss Penny Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil F. Kirk, who will become the bride of Fran Dorais.

Miss Holly Kirk will attend her sister as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Shirley Stratton and Miss Karen Dotson. Mrs. George Riemann of Barnston, Mrs. Tom Gardner and Mrs. Harold Parde will be the bridesmatrons, and the flower girl will be Miss Ellen Wohlers. Scott Taylor will be ringbearer.

Lighting the chancel candles for the 8 o'clock ceremony, which will be solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church, will be Miss Judy Andrus and Miss Darolyn Boyd.

Serving Mr. Dorais as best man will be Lynn Setgi of Greeley, Colo., and the corps of ushers will include John Dorais, Wymore, brother of Mr. Dorais; George Riemann, Jr., Barnston; Tom Kirk, the bride-elect's brother, and Dr. Jerry Reed.

Miss Cheryl Faden, whose marriage to Marty Miller will be an event of Sunday, Aug. 28, has named her sister, Miss Kathy Faden, as her maid of honor for the wedding, which will take place at Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Pat Faden of Scottsbluff will be the matron of honor, and bridesmaids will be Miss Karen Abood of Lexington; Mrs. Daryl Mitchell, Hickman; Miss Phyllis Stelling and Miss Judy Long, Miss Eilene Faden of Harrisburg, will be the flower girl.

Serving as best man will be John Struve, and groomsmen will be Pat Faden, brother of the bride-elect, and William Blough, Scottsbluff, Jerrie Dexter, Waverly; Jack Taylor, Lexington; Craig Dodge, Dan Faden, Bill Sauser and Lee Nelson, Mike Taylor, Lexington, will be ringbearer, and trainbearer will be Brett Hoeft, Grand Island.

The bidding:

4♣	Pass	4♠	Pass
5♠

Opening lead—six of hearts.

One unkind way of describing a player's lack of skill at the bridge table is to say that he bids his hands badly but plays his cards worse. I am reminded of this by the way South bid and played this hand.

Having opened with a forcing bid and then made a slam try by bidding four clubs, South should have retired gracefully from the auction when North denied interest in a slam by bidding only four spades. But apparently, South had not yet savored the full flavor of his hand when he went gaily on to five spades, which became the final contract.

West led a heart, the jack forcing the ace, and South ruffed. Declarer played a club to the queen and led a low spade, East following suit with the nine. The proper technical play at this point was the queen, in the hope of finding West with the singleton jack, but South played the ten, losing to the ace. He later lost two trump tricks to the K-J and went down one.

Of course, South could have made the hand had he played a low spade at trick two and later entered dummy with a club to lead another spade through the K-J.

Actually, this was the right way to play the hand. Declarer can properly reason that if the spades are 2-2, they can be led with equal effect from either hand, but that if there is a 3-1 division it is clearly better to start the suit by leading a low one at trick two.

This method of play gains whenever West has the singleton ace or king, whereas initiating the spades from dummy gains only when West was dealt the singleton jack. The odds are 2 to 1 in favor of starting the trumps by leading low from the South hand.

Destroy Johnson Friends

Asked how Kennedy's criticism of Los Angeles could be connected with undermining the President, Yorty said Kennedy is attempting to "destroy all the friends he (Johnson) has." He added that Kennedy has strong presidential ambitions himself.

Sen. Kennedy, the mayor said, wants "either to see President Johnson defeated in 1968 or so weakened he can't name a successor in 1972."

"In my opinion," Yorty said of Kennedy, "he's trying to ride on his brother's fame and his father's loot and take over the United States of America."

Services Set Friday For Harold Pierce

Funeral services will be held Firday at Roper and Sons' Chapel for Harold R. Pierce of 741 Skyway, a retired employe of the Nebraska State Employment Service.

The 67-year-old former schoolteacher, who died Tuesday in Omaha, was a superintendent of schools in Stella and principal and coach at Hooper and Oakdale. For 24 years prior to his retirement in 1964, Mr. Pierce was an employe of the state employment service.

During his 22 years in Lincoln, Mr. Pierce assisted with the Keen-Time Klub dances, which were managed by his wife, Doris, for the City Recreation Department.

He was a member of Fairhill Presbyterian Church, Lincoln Liberty Lodge 300, the Shrine, Hiram Club, Elks, and the Knife and Fork Club.

Mr. Pierce is survived by his wife, Doris H.; his sons, Harold G. of Dayton, Ohio, and Gary E. of South Beloit, Ill.; his brother, Joseph D. of Butte; and two grandchildren.

Sinister Man's Return Clue To Chinas Path?

By JOHN RODERICK

Tokyo (AP)—Red China's rulers Wednesday lifted slightly the curtain covering their backstage power contest and revealed a change that seemed to be heading the nation toward the most rigid military-police state rule.

The shadowy Kang Sheng, long a secret-police figure who once was the object of admiration by Joseph Stalin, has been elevated to the ruling politburo, a position he lost 10 years ago after falling into disfavor.

Kang's new eminence, along with the obvious commanding position of Defense Minister Lin Piao, seemed to be added evidence that the current nationwide purge was aimed at a total regimentation of Red China which would attempt to shut out completely all things foreign, including all Soviet influence.

The restoration of Kang to the 20-member politburo headed by Party Chairman Mao Tze-tung was disclosed in a routine report of the official New China News Agency.

Kang, 63, is an expert on army affairs and has long been associated with Communist Party intelligence activities. A party member since the 1920s, he was on the politburo from 1945 to 1956. He fell into disfavor probably because of failures of his intelligence service.

He began his comeback in 1962 with elevation to the secretariat of the central committee.

Kang was listed seventh among the important state and party leaders attending the huge Aug. 18 parade and rally in Peking at which Mao presented his new first team.

2,000 Gals. Gas Covers Ground After Mishap

Beatrice (UPI)—A loading mishap Wednesday sent some 2,000 gallons of high octane gasoline spilling to the ground at Beatrice.

Officials said the gasoline ran off into the Big Blue River . . . but this was expected to pose no danger since enough water is contained in the Blue to dilute the gasoline.

According to the report, a tank truck was loading at the Jurgen station when it was accidentally backed into a loading hose. A valve was broken off and before it could be closed, the estimated 2,000 spurted out. There were no injuries.

Hedrick To Get Kiwanis Award

A Lincoln High School graduate now in his first quarter at the Nebraska Technical Vocational School at Milford will receive a scholarship award Thursday noon from the Cornhusker Kiwanis Club.

The scholarship, for $100 to be applied to tuition, is the first of what is expected to become an annual award by the club.

Recipient is James Hedrick, 19, of 1990 Ryons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Ryons.

Applicants for the scholarship are judged on need, citizenship and potential and must be graduates of Lancaster County high schools.

Survivor Of Ordeal Dies In Bed

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—John T. Emmanuel, 39, who lived through a plane crash and a week-long ordeal trapped inside the plane, died Wednesday in Hartford Hospital.

He had been transferred to Hartford Hospital from Meriden Hospital Tuesday. His physician said then he was suffering from "a total state of fatigue to mind and body."

The single-engine Cessna in which he was riding went out of control and crashed into the rocky face of Mt. Higby in Middletown on Aug. 15. Richard Grimaldi, 32, of Newington, who was piloting the plane, was killed in the crash.

A search was begun almost immediately, but the plane had fallen into a densely wooded area, and for six days could not be found.

It was finally spotted Sunday evening by a helicopter pilot. When rescuers reached the plane they found Emmanuel alive but only semiconscious.

County Fair Getting Larger

. . . WAVERLY BOY'S DUROC GILT WINS

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

"The fair is getting larger. This is quite a show. Where did all these exhibits come from?"

These are the comments you can hear any place around the Lancaster County Fair. Those who watched and fostered the event for years with hopes of it developing into a big show now have an event even larger than their fondest dreams.

Ten-year-old Marc Richardson of Waverly demonstrated that the young fellow can walk away with the big wins as he paraded his Duroc gilt to championship market hog honors at the fair Wednesday.

One of the happiest young ladies at the fair was Susan Smith, 18, of 3838 Worthington who almost missed getting her exhibits entered in the fine arts open class at the fair because she had trouble finding entry blanks for the fair.

Susan achieved the seldom achieved honor of exhibiting the best art object and the best craft object in the show plus nine blue ribbons on individual entries.

The best junior division entry in the show went to eight-year-old Marilyn Rae Price of 70th and Monterey Dr.

For the fifth year in a row the champion market lamb was shown by a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Retzlaff of Walton. This year it was 12-year-old Karen Retzlaff that kept this well known Shorthorn cattle family at the top of the 4-H sheep division.

Kay Munn, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Munn of Waverly, a veteran in 4-H club showing that included both county and state wins in cattle, sheep and hogs was the exhibitor of the reserve champion market lamb.

The winners in horse showmanship were Jim Marx and Pam Johnson, both of Lincoln.

The theme for the gigantic parade of dress review winners that will be staged Thursday evening is entitled "Fashion Roundup." To add color to the roundup will be girls in western outfits posed on bales of straw near the stage where dress review entrants will be introduced and the four top winners of the county will receive their awards.

The judging of middle and advanced dress review entries and the judging of beef are on the Thursday program.

Regret Treatment

London (UPI)—British authorities regretted that Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow were given special treatment—they went through customs formalities aboard their chartered plane—when they left London for Paris last week. "It won't happen again" promised an official of the British Airports Authority.

Five Countries Join To Plead For War's End

Aaloborg, Denmark (AP) — The foreign ministers of Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland and Iceland appealed Wednesday to all sides in the Viet Nam war to abstain from any action that might make peace negotiations more difficult.

In a communique issued after two days of consultations, they urged also that the parties involved do all in their power to create the necessary preconditions for negotiations.

The communique expressed regret that recent developments had not brought closer "the negotoated settlements which alone can lead to a lasting peace."

Royalty Named

London (AP)—The daughter born July 31 to Princess Alexandra, a cousin of the queen, and Angus Ogilvy will be named Marina Victoria Alexandra and will be known as Miss Marina Ogilvy. As a princess the infant is 17th in line of succession to the throne, after the Ogilvy's first child, a son.

County Fair Getting Larger

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

"The fair is getting larger. This is quite a show. Where did all these exhibits come from?"

These are the comments you can hear any place around the Lancaster County Fair. Those who watched and fostered the event for years with hopes of it developing into a big show now have an event even larger than their fondest dreams.

Ten-year-old Marc Richardson of Waverly demonstrated that the young fellow can walk away with the big wins as he paraded his Duroc gilt to championship market hog honors at the fair Wednesday.

One of the happiest young ladies at the fair was Susan Smith, 18, of 3338 Worthington who almost missed getting her exhibits entered in the fine arts open class at the fair because she had trouble finding entry blanks for the fair.

Susan achieved the seldom achieved honor of exhibiting the best art object and the best craft object in the show plus nine blue ribbons on individual entries.

The best junior division entry in the show went to eight-year-old Marilyn Rae Price of 70th and Monterey Dr.

For the fifth year in a row the champion market lamb was shown by a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Retzlaff of Walton. This year it was 12-year-old Karen Retzlaff that kept this well known Shorthorn cattle family at the top of the 4-H sheep division.

Kay Munn, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Munn of Waverly, a veteran in 4-H club showing that included both county and state wins in cattle, sheep and hogs was the exhibitor of the reserve champion market lamb.

The winners in horse showmanship were Jim Marx and Pam Johnson, both of Lincoln.

The theme for the gigantic parade of dress review winners that will be staged Thursday evening is entitled "Fashion Roundup." To add color to the roundup will be girls in western outfits posed on bales of straw near the the four top winners of the stage where dress review entrants will be introduced and the county will receive their awards.

The judging of middle and advanced dress review entries and the judging of beef are on the Thursday program.

Regret Treatment

London (UPI)—British authorities regretted that Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow were given special treatment—they went through customs formalities aboard their chartered plane—when they left London for Paris last week. "It won't happen again" promised an official of the British Airports Authority.

Five Countries Join To Plead For War's End

Aaloborg, Denmark (AP) — The foreign ministers of Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland and Iceland appealed Wednesday to all sides in the Viet Nam war to abstain from any action that might make peace negotiations more difficult.

In a communique issued after two days of consultations, they urged also that the parties involved do all in their power to create the necessary preconditions for negotiations.

The communique expressed regret that recent developments had not brought closer "the negotoated settlements which alone can lead to a lasting peace."

Royalty Named

London (AP)—The daughter born July 31 to Princess Alexandra, a cousin of the queen, and Angus Ogilvy will be named Marina Victoria Alexandra and will be known as Miss Marina Ogilvy. As a princess the infant is 17th in line of succession to the throne, after the Ogilvy's first child, a son.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, substract 4. If the number is less than 6 add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Green Weenie Becoming New Pirates' Symbol

Pittsburgh (AP)—It's called the "Green Weenie," it typifies "Buc Feevah" and inspires expressions like "Beat 'em Bucs."

The typical fan is infected with pennant spirit, or "Buc Feevah" as Pirate broadcaster Bob Prince calls it.

He carries a replica of or talks about the Green Weenie.

And he's likely to holler "Beat 'em Bucs" whether he's driving through downtown Pittsburgh or sitting in Forbes Field.

"It's all part of the mass hysteria that says the Pittsburgh Pirates are going to go all the way and win the pennant," Prince explains. "The Pirates have caught the fancy of the people."

What has really caught the people's fancy is the rubber hot dog which Whelan introduced during the pirates' pennant drive of 1960.

"It was just an expression with me at Rochester in the International League Whelan said. "I called it a Green Weenie on account of I'm Irish. If there was a hitter up, I'd say Green Weenie, Green Weenie" to try to shake him up."

One day during the 1960 season, Whelan decide to buy a hot dog and paint it green. It stayed in the dugout for the rest of the season, becoming a standard team "inside" gimmick.

It disappeared until this year. "I just put it away and let it rest," Whelan confided.

Then, on a hometown telecast from Houston July 23, Prince spotted Whelan with the Weenie hanging from the dugout railing and called it to the viewer's attention. It was an instant hit.

"We've gotten letters and gimmicks and requests for Green Weenies from all over the world," Prince said. "Right now I'm trying to find a way to ship Green Weenies to all the servicemen overseas who have written to us about them."

"People say we're idiotic to talk about the Green Weenie and we say 'yes,'" Prince continued. "But when the president of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and all the top scientists there have us bring the Green Weenie down to the nuclear power center to have it revitalized after we lose a couple of games, I'd say it shows the kind of spirit these Pirates have generated."

When things looked black for the Bucs during a recent game with the Phillies, the fans at Forbes Field started yelling, "Hey, Prince, where's your Green Weenie?"

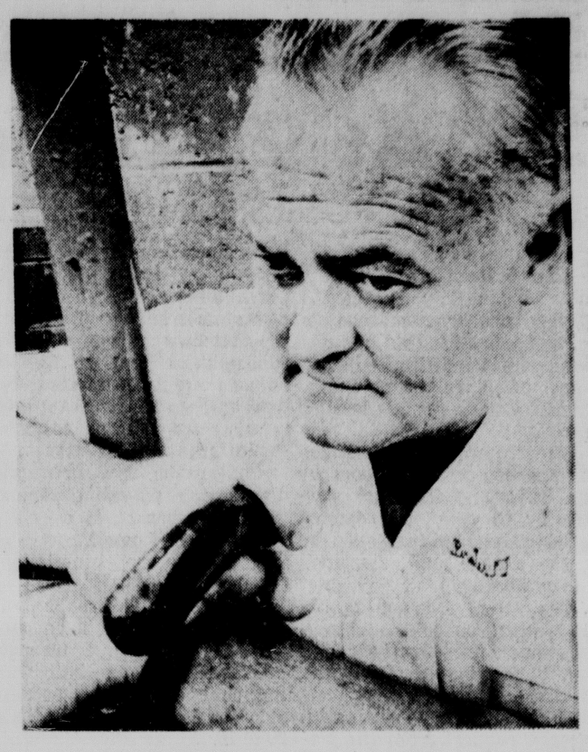

"We don't have the Green Weenie," Prince said over the air. "We sent it to Atlanta to beat the giants."

What really happened, Prince said, waw that the Weenie was flown to Atlanta.

What really happened, Prince said, was that the Weenie was flown to Atlanta, where it helped Atlanta win, 6-5, in an afternoon game, then to St. Louis where the Dodgers fell victim to the hex, then back to Atlanta, where it arrived during the second game with the Braves ahead 11-1.

"When it didn't get back there in time for Sunday's game," Prince said. "Don Hoak (Another Buc broadcaster) fined it $1,000 for breaking curfew."

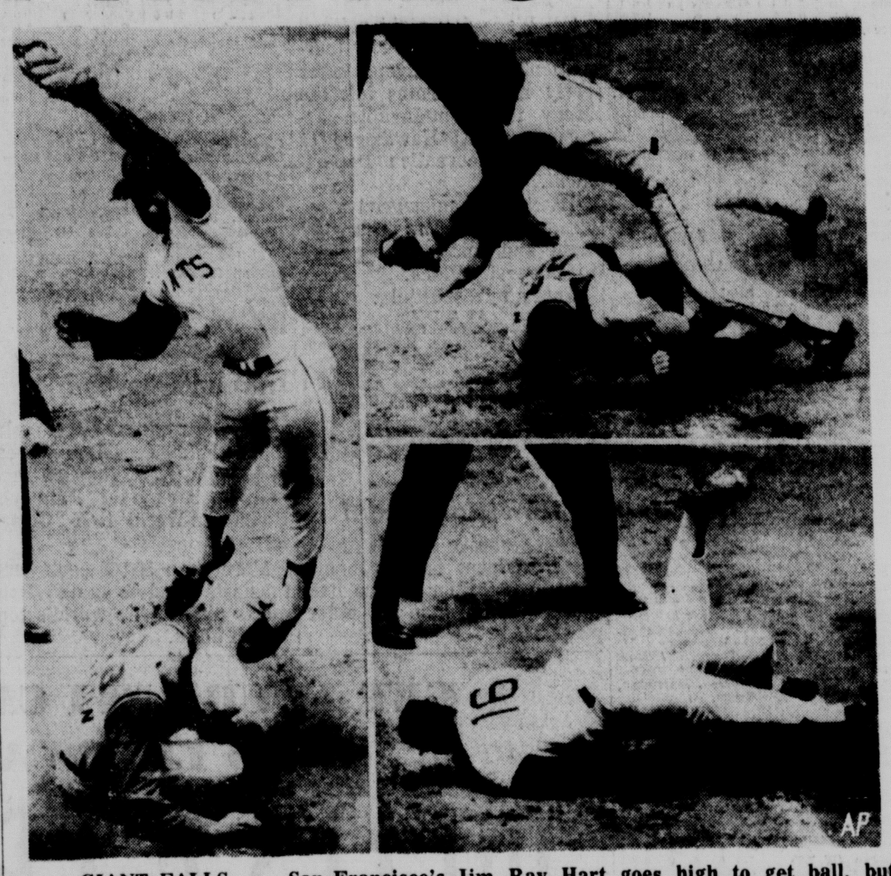

"But when I told him it did a good job the day before," Prince said, "Don rescinded the fine."

PIRATES REGAIN 1ST

Giants Lose To Reds, 9-4

. . . BUCS EDGE PHILLIES, 6-4

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates regained first place by one percentage point Wednesday night beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4, after San Francisco lost to Cincinnati, 9-4, in a day game.

Slumping Baltimore had a slight chunk cut off its big American League cushion, losing to the Cleveland Indians, 10-4.

Vernon Law, who was knocked out by the Phillies Tuesday night, relieved for the first time this season and blanked the Phillies on one hit the last six innings.

Bill Mazeroski and Bob Bailey each drove in two runs off loser Larry Jackson as the Pirates collected four unearned runs.

San Francisco, which began the day in front by two percentage points, fell before Joe Nuxhall's pitching and a grand slam homer by Vada Pinson, who also doubled twice.

Jim Coker's homer in the fourth put the Reds ahead to stay, 4-3, against Gaylord Perry, who lost his third game to go with 20 victories. Willie McCovey homered for the Giants.

Jim Gilliam reached base on an error in the 11th inning, stole second and scored on Maury Wills' single, giving Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over Atlanta that stretched the Dodgers winning string to four.

It was the Dodgers' third straight one-run victory over the Braves, who have lost five in a row.

Gilliam, pinch hitting for John Kennedy, was safe when first basemen Felipe Alou bobbled his grounder. He stole second while Tony Cloninger was striking out Jim Barbieri, then came across on Wills' single to left.

The Braves, held to three hits through eight innings, tied the game in the ninth when Hank Aaron walked, raced to third on Joe Torre's single and scored on a wild pitch by Dodger reliever Phil Regan.

Baltimore lost for the fourth time in five games despite Frank Robinson's 39th and 40th homers. Joe Azcue drove in three runs and Max Alvis and Rocky Colvaito two each for the Indians as the Orioles had their lead over Detroit cut to 11½ games.

The Tigers defeated Chicago, 6-2, as Bill Freehan and Willie Horton hit solo homers and Mickey Lolich won his sixth game in seven starts.

The Houston Astros, shut out the last two days by St. Louis, bombed the Cardinals' Larry Jaster, 7-2, as Bob Aspromonte drove in three runs with two singles. Mike Cuellar's five-hitter stopped the Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs scored two runs in the eight inning on bases-loaded walks and Randy Hundley squeezed home the winner in the ninth for a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets.

Ed Kilpatrick's two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning lifted California to a 2-1 triumph over the New York Yankees. Joe Pepitone hit his 28th homer for the Yankees in the ninth.

Washington used an error by Zoilo Versalles on a double play ball to tie the score in the eleventh inning and a run-scoring single by Ken McMullen followed to beat Minnesota, 6-5. The Twins had gone ahead in the top of the inning on a wild pitch with the bases loaded.

The Kansas City A's swept a doubleheader from Boston, 4-2, and 8-3, as Roger Repoz homered with two on in the opener and Ed Charles and Jim Gosger hit two-run blows and Mike Hershberger drove in three runs in the nightcap.

Columbia Frosh Coach

Bill Campbell, a native of Homestead, Pa., will coach Columbia University's freshman football team next fall. He was captain of the Lions as a guard in 1961.

2 Lincoln Golf Duos Qualify

Kansas City, Mo. — Two teams from Lincoln, Neb., qualified among the 32 teams that will begin match play today in the Heart of America two-man, best-ball golf tournament here.

The Charlie Borner-Phil Breitfelder tandem qualified easily by trying for second place in the two-day, 36-hole qualifying. The team of R. B. Lau and Scott Mowbray had to win a playoff for the 32nd spot in the tourney.

Borner and Breitfelder came in with a second straight 69 Wednesday to tie for second, only one stroke behind the top team of Red Horn and Jack House, Kansas Citians, who shot 68-69 for 137.

Borner and Breitfelder will play Kansas City's Bob Carroll and Bill Tucker this morning while Lau and Mowbray take on Leo Anderson and Bob Papscott of Kansas City in a first round match.

If the two Lincoln teams win both matches today, they will face each other Friday morning.

Lau and Mowbray came in with a 77 Wednesday for a two-day total of 148 that left them in a three-way tie for the final two spots in the field of 32. Lau and Mowbray won the playoff on the second extra hole.

The tourney finals are slated for Saturday over the Milburn Country Club course.

25-Mile Drive No Chore For Firth--If You Win

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Driving 25 miles each week to play a softball game may seem like quite a chore.

But if you're a member of the Firth team in the Lincoln Class A Women's City Softball League, the pain is eased by the joy of winning.

"We'd rather play at home," said Firth coach Marie (Mrs. Richard) Meinen, "but we can't get enough teams around home to come play us."

After taking a look at the Firth team's record, it's easy to see why other teams haven't been flocking in to take on the Firth gals.

Last year Firth won both the B-1 league and tourney and this summer moved up to Class A, sailing through for the league pennant with just one loss.

Their performance won them a spot in the AA tourney, now in progress.

Again the Firth girls proved up to the challenge as they whipped their first AA foe, College View, 20-6.

However, Mrs. Meinen feels a AA tourney title is pretty much out of reach since the Havelock Hawkers are competing. The Hawkers won the City AA League, then took the State Class B championship at the recent Central City tourney.

No matter how the AA tourney comes out, the Firth team can be proud of its record. In addition to the league title, "We won all we played against teams around home," said Mrs. Meinen, citing a win over Cortland and a pair of victories over Pickrell.

Mrs. Meinen feels pitching and catching are the club's strong points now. The top battery currently consists of a mother-daughter combination.

Vivian Vandewege, sixth-grade teacher at Panama, was last year's regular pitcher and a recent addition to this year's team. She throws to daughter Shari, 17, and their coach is plenty proud of both.

"Vivian is tops," said Mrs. Meinen of her lady mound ace, "She's good for seven innings. She's also our best hitter. She's knocked four home runs this summer."

Filling in when Vivian isn't there is Linda Doeschot. "Linda is good too," says Mrs. Meinen, "She can hold out for seven innings."

Mrs. Meinen has been coaching the Firth team "ever since they put up the lights (at Firth) five or six years ago." The club has played in Lincoln only the last two seasons.

Mrs. Meinen's interest in softball goes back a good many years. "It's been 20 or 30 years since I've played," she notes. "I'm too old for that now. I get too stiff. But I used to play every summer, every week."

—'SHAME PLAYERS CAN'T BE THEMSELVES'—

Piersall Not Playing, But Still Performing For Fans

New York (AP)—Say, Jim what's happened to you? You seem to be so subdued lately?

"You can't do much, sitting in that corner," answered Jim Piersall, pointing to a corner of the California Angel dugout.

"One night somebody was thrown out of a game for throwing his cap. I was up next, and when I ran down to first, I looked at the umpire and pretended to throw my cap on the ground. It shook him up a little. But you have to be playing to do things."

It wasn't too long, though before the 36-year-old veteran was proving he doesn't have to be in the line-up to entertain fans with his zany antics as he has done so often in the past.

Such as the time he ran around the bases backward after hitting his 100th career home run and the time he came to bat wearing a Beatle wig.

It was Tuesday night, before the California-New York game, and Piersall, who has played in only 57 games this season, had just finished taking batting practice with the other reserves.

The 36-year-old outfielder dashed out to left field, slid along the grass into Bob Lee, wrestled with the 230-pound pitcher for a minute, then jumped up and hopped onto the side of the batting cage which was being rolled to its spot under the stands.

Minutes later, Piersall caught a fly ball, wheeled around and fired the ball against the left field wall, whipping it through the members of the ground crew, who were returning to the infield.

Later, as the Yankees came to bat in the fourth inning, Piersall was warming up Dean Chance when Joe Pepitone, the first batter, came to the plate. Piersall finished with the warm ups, kicked dirt at Pepitone and ran like a little boy who had just played a trick on somebody, back to the dugout.

In the sixth inning Piersall again warmed up Chance. Returning to the dugout as the fans cheered, he tipped his hat.

His final act for the evening came before the next inning. He crouched down to receive Chance's first warm-up toss and piled dirt all over home plate.

Umpire Bill Valentine, a willing straight man, pulled out his whisk broom and held it out for Piersal to take. Piersall accepted it, brushed the dirt back off the plate and flipped the broom back to the umpire.

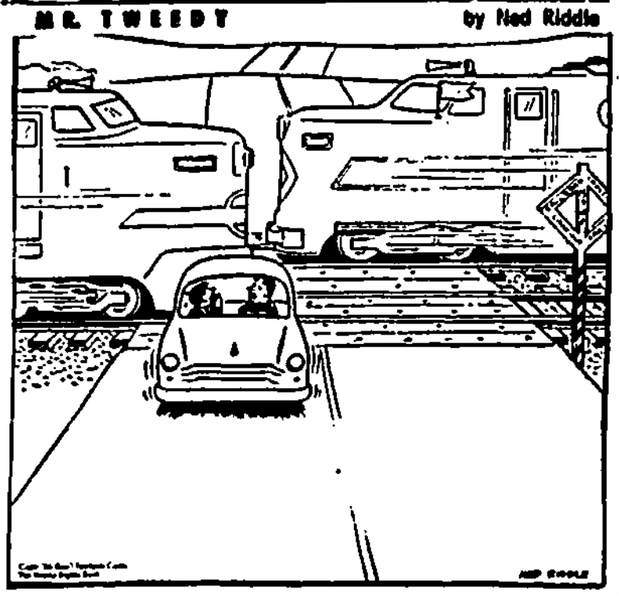

The fans cheered again.

"It's a shame," Piersall was saying before the game, "that baseball players more or less can't be themselves."

Pheasant Hunt Set At 93 Days

. . . POSSESSION REDUCED

By The Associated Press

The State Game Commission Wednesday retained a 93-day pheasant season, the nation's longest, but reduced the possession limit in the face of pleas from sportsmen's groups for a curtailed shoot.

The commission lengthened the hen pheasant hunt by six days and the duck season by 20 days, but rejected a proposed splitting of the geese season and shortened the quail season.

The action followed a public hearing on rules and regulations for Nebraska's 1966 small game, waterfowl and trapping seasons.

The pheasant decision came after a request from the Nebraska Council of Sportsmen and the Izaak Walton League for a reduced season and Tuesday's action of the South Dakota Game Commission sharply reducing that state's pheasant season along the Nebraska boundary.

Representatives of the two sportsmen's groups told the Commission another 93-day season would put excessive pressure on the pheasant population and spur an influx of hunters from South Dakota.

As set by the commission, the 1966 pheasant season will run from Oct. 22 through Jan. 22, with hunting of hens permitted from Jan. 1 through Jan. 22. The bag limit was not changed but the possession limit was reduced from 20 to 16.

The hottest dispute centered on a proposed splitting of the geese season to accommodate Eastern Nebraska hunters, who like an early shoot, as well as Western Nebraskans, who like a late season.

Game Commission director Mel Steen said he was opposed to a split season because it would place greater hunting pressure on flocks of Canadian Geese in Western Nebraska.

On a 4-3 vote, the commission decided to follow the recommendations of staff biologists, retaining the same 75-day season, Oct. 1 through Dec. 14.

A 60-day duck season, running from Oct. 15 through Dec. 14, was established by the commission to conform with the maximum limitations established by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Commission biologists recommended a 50-day season with a bag limit of four daily and eight in possession. The 60-day season, as required by federal regulations, will have limits of three and eight.

The commission reduced the quail season from 65 days to 60 days, running Nov. 10 through Jan. 8, with the bag limits remaining the same. Commission biologists had recommended a 54-day shoot.

The grouse season was expanded by one day to 45 days, Sept. 17 through Oct. 31. The squirrel season was increased 28 day, running Sept. 1 through Feb. 28. The trapping season for beaver, muskrat and mink were lengthened 59 days from Nov. 15 through March 15.

Dolphins Suffer Fourth Defeat; Denver Triumphs

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Denver experience clicked behind the passes of veteran quarterback John McCormick as the Broncos won their first AFL exhibition football game, 28-16, Wednesday night over Miami's fledgling Dolphins.

McCormick passed for three touchdowns, one a 75-yard play to Bob Scarpitto, but it was the Bronco defense which consistently turned back the occasional Dolphin threats.

It was the fourth exhibition loss for Miami.

Omaha's Cowdery Loses In Senior Golf

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP) —Ward Watson of La Mesa, Calif., defeated former champion George Haggarty of Grosse Pointe, Mich., 4 and 2 Wednesday in the second round of the World Senior Golf Championships at Broadmoor.

Tourney medalist Ben Cowdery of Omaha, Neb., also was sidelined, losing to Cecil Dees of Glendale, Calif. 2 and 1.

Casper's 69 Leads

Philadelphia (AP)—U.S. Open Champion Billy Casper led the winning foursome in the pro-amateur tournament at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Wednesday as many of the touring professionals tuned up for the start Thursday of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Casper, who has won four tournaments on the pro golf circuit this year, shot a 34-35-69, two under par.

Fairbury Team Takes 7th In NBPA Tourney

Rapid City, S.D. — Fairbury, Neb., bowlers finished strong to move up to seventh place worth $1,700 in prize money in the National Bowling Proprietors Association Tournament here.

Traum's Funeral Home of Fairbury, the Nebraska champions, had a gross score of 8777 on Donald Larkins' 1871, Leonard Siebolt's 1751, Bill Draper's 1733, Perry Cane's 1719 and Paul Davidson's 1703.

American All-Stars Waltz In Omaha Game

Omaha (AP) — The Americans whipped the Nationals, 100-67, Wednesday night in Omaha's all-star high school basketball game.

Aussies Post Easy 2nd-Round Doubles Victory

Brookline, Mass. (AP)—Defending champions Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle moved effortlessly into the third round of the U.S. National Doubles Tennis Tournament Wednesday at sunny Longwood Cricket Club.

But life was not quite so easy for the top U.S. team of Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio. They dropped their first set of the tournament, and then struggled to defeat Jerry Cromwell of Long Beach, Calif., and Jim Osborne of Salt Lake City, Utah, 7-9, 6-4, 6-0, 13-11.

Green Weenie Becoming New Pirates' Symbol

Pittsburgh (AP)—It's called the "Green Weenie," it typifies "Buc Feevah" and inspires expressions like "Beat 'em Bucs."

The typical fan is infected with pennant spirit, or "Buc Feevah" as Pirate broadcaster Bob Prince calls it.

He carries a replica of or talks about the Green Weenie.

And he's likely to holler "Beat 'em Bucs" whether he's driving through downtown Pittsburgh or sitting in Forbes Field.

"It's all part of the mass hysteria that says the Pittsburgh Pirates are going to go all the way and win the pennant," Prince explains. "The Pirates have caught the fancy of the people."

What has really caught the people's fancy is the rubber hot dog which Whelan introduced during the pirates' pennant drive of 1960.

"It was just an expression with me at Rochester in the International League Whelan said. "I called it a Green Weenie on account of I'm Irish. If there was a hitter up, I'd say Green Weenie, Green Weenie" to try to shake him up."

One day during the 1960 season, Whelan decide to buy a hot dog and paint it green. It stayed in the dugout for the rest of the season, becoming a standard team "inside" gimmick.

It disappeared until this year. "I just put it away and let it rest." Whelan confided.

Then, on a hometown telecast from Houston July 23, Prince spotted Whelan with the Weenie hanging from the dugout railing and called it to the viewer's attention. It was an instant hit.

"We've gotten letters and gimmicks and requests for Green Weenies from all over the world," Prince said. "Right now I'm trying to find a way to ship Green Weenies to all the servicemen overseas who have written to us about them."

"People say we're idiotic to talk about the Green Weenie and we say 'yes,'" Prince continued. "But when the president of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and all the top scientists there have us bring the Green Weenie down to the nuclear power center to have it revitalized after we lose a couple of games, I'd say it shows the kind of spirit these Pirates have generated."

"We don't have the Green Weenie," Prince said over the air. "We sent it to Atlanta to beat the giants."

What really happened, Prince said, waw that the Weenie was flown to Atlanta.

What really happened, Prince said, was that the Weenie was flown to Atlanta, where it helped Atlanta win, 6-5, in an afternoon game, then to St. Louis where the Dodgers fell victim to the hex, then back to Atlanta, where it arrived during the second game with the Braves ahead 11-1.

"When it didn't get back there in time for Sunday's game," Prince said. "Don Hoak (Another Buc broadcaster) fined it $1,000 for breaking curfew."

"But when I told him it did a good job the day before," Prince said, "Don rescinded the fine."

Giants Lose To Reds, 9-4

. . . BUCS EDGE PHILLIES, 6-4

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates regained first place by one percentage point Wednesday night beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4, after San Francisco lost to Cincinnati, 9-4, in a day game.

Slumping Baltimore had a slight chunk cut off its big American League cushion, losing to the Cleveland Indians, 10-4.

Vernon Law, who was knocked out by the Phillies Tuesday night, relieved for the first time this season and blanked the Phillies on one hit the last six innings.

Bill Mazeroski and Bob Bailey each drove in two runs off loser Larry Jackson as the Pirates collected four unearned runs.

San Francisco, which began the day in front by two percentage points, fell before Joe Nuxhall's pitching and a grand slam homer by Vada Pinson, who also doubled twice.

Jim Coker's homer in the fourth put the Reds ahead to stay, 4-3, against Gaylord Perry, who lost his third game to go with 20 victories. Willie McCovey homered for the Giants.

Jim Gilliam reached base on an error in the 11th inning, stole second and scored on Maury Wills' single, giving Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over Atlanta that stretched the Dodgers winning string to four.

It was the Dodgers' third straight one-run victory over the Braves, who have lost five in a row.

The Braves, held to three hits through eight innings, tied the game in the ninth when Hank Aaron walked, raced to third on Joe Torre's single and scored on a wild pitch by Dodger reliever Phil Regan.

Baltimore lost for the fourth time in five games despite Frank Robinson's 39th and 40th homers. Joe Azcue drove in three runs and Max Alvis and Rocky Colvaito two each for the Indians as the Orioles had their lead over Detroit cut to 11½ games.

The Tigers defeated Chicago, 6-2, as Bill Freehan and Willie Horton hit solo homers and Mickey Lolich won his sixth game in seven starts.

The Houston Astros, shut out the last two days by St. Louis, bombed the Cardinals' Larry Jaster, 7-2, as Bob Aspromonte drove in three runs with two singles. Mike Cuellar's five-hitter stopped the Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs scored two runs in the eight inning on bases-loaded walks and Randy Hundley squeezed home the winner in the ninth for a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets.

Ed Kilpatrick's two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning lifted California to a 2-1 triumph over the New York Yankees. Joe Pepitone hit his 28th homer for the Yankees in the ninth.

Washington used an error by Zoilo Versalles on a double play ball to tie the score in the eleventh inning and a run-scoring single by Ken McMullen followed to beat Minnesota, 6-5. The Twins had gone ahead in the top of the inning on a wild pitch with the bases loaded.

The Kansas City A's swept a doubleheader from Boston, 4-2, and 8-3, as Roger Repoz homered with two on in the opener and Ed Charles and Jim Gosger hit two-run blows and Mike Hershberger drove in three runs in the nightcap.

2 Lincoln Golf Duos Qualify

Kansas City, Mo. — Two teams from Lincoln, Neb., qualified among the 32 teams that will begin match play today in the Heart of America two-man, best-ball golf tournament here.

The Charlie Borner-Phil Breitfelder tandem qualified easily by trying for second place in the two-day, 36-hole qualifying. The team of R. B. Lau and Scott Mowbray had to win a playoff for the 32nd spot in the tourney.

Borner and Breitfelder came in with a second straight 69 Wednesday to tie for second, only one stroke behind the top team of Red Horn and Jack House, Kansas Citians, who shot 68-69 for 137.

Borner and Breitfelder will play Kansas City's Bob Carroll and Bill Tucker this morning while Lau and Mowbray take on Leo Anderson and Bob Papscott of Kansas City in a first round match.

If the two Lincoln teams win both matches today, they will face each other Friday morning.

Lau and Mowbray came in with a 77 Wednesday for a two-day total of 148 that left them in a three-way tie for the final two spots in the field of 32. Lau and Mowbray won the playoff on the second extra hole.

The tourney finals are slated for Saturday over the Milburn Country Club course.

25-Mile Drive No Chore For Firth--If You Win

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Driving 25 miles each week to play a softball game may seem like quite a chore.

But if you're a member of the Firth team in the Lincoln Class A Women's City Softball League, the pain is eased by the joy of winning.

"We'd rather play at home," said Firth coach Marie (Mrs. Richard) Meinen, "but we can't get enough teams around home to come play us."

After taking a look at the Firth team's record, it's easy to see why other teams haven't been flocking in to take on the Firth gals.

Last year Firth won both the B-1 league and tourney and this summer moved up to Class A, sailing through for the league pennant with just one loss.

Their performance won them a spot in the AA tourney, now in progress.

Again the Firth girls proved up to the challenge as they whipped their first AA foe, College View, 20-6.

However, Mrs. Meinen feels a AA tourney title is pretty much out of reach since the Havelock Hawkers are competing. The Hawkers won the City AA League, then took the State Class B championship at the recent Central City tourney.

No matter how the AA tourney comes out, the Firth team can be proud of its record. In addition to the league title, "We won all we played against teams around home," said Mrs. Meinen, citing a win over Cortland and a pair of victories over Pickrell.

Mrs. Meinen feels pitching and catching are the club's strong points now. The top battery currently consists of a mother-daughter combination.

Vivian Vandewege, sixth-grade teacher at Panama, was last year's regular pitcher and a recent addition to this year's team. She throws to daughter Shari, 17, and their coach is plenty proud of both.

"Vivian is tops," said Mrs. Meinen of her lady mound ace, "She's good for seven innings. She's also our best hitter. She's knocked four home runs this summer."

Filling in when Vivian isn't there is Linda Doeschot. "Linda is good too," says Mrs. Meinen, "She can hold out for seven innings."

Mrs. Meinen has been coaching the Firth team "ever since they put up the lights (at Firth) five or six years ago." The club has played in Lincoln only the last two seasons.

Mrs. Meinen's interest in softball goes back a good many years. "It's been 20 or 30 years since I've played," she notes. "I'm too old for that now. I get too stiff. But I used to play every summer, every week."

—'SHAME PLAYERS CAN'T BE THEMSELVES'—

Piersall Not Playing, But Still Performing For Fans

New York (AP)—Say, Jim what's happened to you? You seem to be so subdued lately?

"You can't do much, sitting in that corner," answered Jim Piersall, pointing to a corner of the California Angel dugout.

"One night somebody was thrown out of a game for throwing his cap. I was up next, and when I ran down to first, I looked at the umpire and pretended to throw my cap on the ground. It shook him up a little. But you have to be playing to do things."

It wasn't too long, though before the 36-year-old veteran was proving he doesn't have to be in the line-up to entertain fans with his zany antics as he has done so often in the past.

Such as the time he ran around the bases backward after hitting his 100th career home run and the time he came to bat wearing a Beatle wig.

It was Tuesday night, before the California-New York game, and Piersall, who has played in only 57 games this season, had just finished taking batting practice with the other reserves.

The 36-year-old outfielder dashed out to left field, slid along the grass into Bob Lee, wrestled with the 230-pound pitcher for a minute, then jumped up and hopped onto the side of the batting cage which was being rolled to its spot under the stands.

Minutes later, Piersall caught a fly ball, wheeled around and fired the ball against the left field wall, whipping it through the members of the ground crew, who were returning to the infield.

Later, as the Yankees came to bat in the fourth inning, Piersall was warming up Dean Chance when Joe Pepitone, the first batter, came to the plate. Piersall finished with the warm ups, kicked dirt at Pepitone and ran like a little boy who had just played a trick on somebody, back to the dugout.

In the sixth inning Piersall again warmed up Chance. Returning to the dugout as the fans cheered, he tipped his hat.

His final act for the evening came before the next inning. He crouched down to receive Chance's first warm-up toss and piled dirt all over home plate.

Umpire Bill Valentine, a willing straight man, pulled out his whisk broom and held it out for Piersal to take. Piersall accepted it, brushed the dirt back off the plate and flipped the broom back to the umpire.

The fans cheered again.

"It's a shame," Piersall was saying before the game, "that baseball players more or less can't be themselves."

. . . FEELS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT IN HIS TIMES

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas, holder of two world track records at 19, says watcring films of his races "still puts a chill in my spine" and he believes he has "as many years as I want to run ahead of me."

Ryun has just gone back to work after a three-week vacation from track, his first in four years, and he believes the break helped him renew his enthusiasm.

"The idea that high school trackmen burn themselves out by working too hard too early is dwindling away," Ryun said. "I think this has been pretty well disproved by now.

"I think I can continue to improve and to run well as long as I'm interested in track," he said. "My whole college varsity career is ahead of me. One of the best things about athletics is being with your teammates, traveling with your team."

Ryun will be available for very few-if any-special events on track's indoor and outdoor circuits while the Kansas track season is on.

"This is the way I want it," he said. "There will be plenty of big meets here and in other countries after the college national meets are over."

Ryun was supposed to narrate the films. Typically, he did most of his talking during his defeats. No film was available on his world record 1:44.9 half mile at Terre Haute, Ind., the race which surprised him the most.

"I couldn't believe it," he said. "I made my move about 300 yards to go, looked around and I was 10 yards ahead."

Kansas will be shooting for a flock of relay records with Ryun as anchor man and the slim, handsome, dark-haired youth said he is looking forward to the 1,000 and two-mile indoors and three-mile outdoors.

He doesn't consider himself a miler and nothing else. In his only outdoor shot at the two-mile last spring, he missed the world record by just 2.6 seconds.

The 6-foot-2 Ryun weighed 165 for his world record mile at Berkeley. Now he's up to 170, but this doesn't worry him.

"I ran about eight miles today," he said. "During the cross country season this fall it'll be around 120 to 140 miles a week.

"But I still have time to see movies and do things I really want to do. Track enables you to travel, too. How many teenagers have been to Russia?"

Ex-Nebraska Star Rejoins Falcon Team

Black Mountain, N.C. (AP)—Neal Petties, pass-catcher acquired in the expansion draft from Baltimore, was cut Wednesday by the Atlanta Falcons.

The National Football League club also released fullback Tom Wilson, a free agent formerly with the Minnesota Vikings.

The Falcons' backfield, which lacks speed, was bolstered by the return to camp of Rudy Johnson, former San Francisco 49er halfback who has been sidelined with a knee injury.

Coach Norb Hecker said he believes the former Nebraska speedster will be ready to play when the regular season opens Sept. 11.

Hecker also has announced that rookie quarterback Randy Johnson of Texas A&I will start Saturday night in an exhibition game at Columbia, S.C., against the 49ers. Dennis Claridge has quarterbacked the Falcons in their four previous games.

State Softball Resumes Tonight

De Witt—Stanton will face defending champion Lincoln King's Food Hosts at 6:30 p.m. today as action resumes in the Men's State Sofetball Tournament.

Neither team has a tourney loss yet.

Lincoln Skyline and King's Food Hosts of Hastings, only other unbeaten tournament teams, will square off at 8:00 p.m. Winners of those two games will meet in the semi-finals Saturday night at 6:30.

The other game tonight matches Barneston against KOLN-TV of Lincoln in a 9:30 losers' bracket contest.

Children's Horse Show Slated For Saturday

The Salt Creek Wranglers will hold a children's horse show at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Wrangler grounds one mile south of Pioneers Park.

At 6 p.m. Saturday the club will present its regular monthly show.

Acquisition Of Recreation, Wildlife Area Is Approved

Lincoln (AP)—The State Game Commission authorized Wednesday the acquisition of at least 52 acres costing a minimum of $5,900 for recreational and wildlife development.

The commission agreed to purchase between 43 and 53 acres of land southwest of Stanton for expansion of the wood duck special use area. The purchase price, regardless of the acreage total, is $3,600.

The acquisition of four acres in Buffalo County costing $1,500 was approved to provide access to a seven-mile strip of state-owned land between Interstate Highway 80 and the Platte River.

The commission authorized the purchase of between four and seven acres of land along U.S. Highway 6 in Dundy County, to be designated the Arikaree State Wayside Area. The land will cost $200 per acre.

In other action, the commission closed to firearms the northwest corner of the Merritt Reservoir where the boat launching and automobile parking areas are located.

The commission approved boating regulations which were the same as last year's except for revisions in certain regulations governing the use of boats at Lake North in Platte County.

Nicklaus After Third Straight At Philadelphia

Whitemarsh, Pa. (AP) — The professional golf tour moves Thursday to Whitemarsh Valley Country Club where Jack Nicklaus tries for a third straight victory in the Philadelphia Golf Classic.

A field of 144, including Nicklaus, U.S. open champion Billy Casper and PGA titlist Al Geiberger, start the 72-hole competition for some $100,000 in prize money. Arnold Palmer, who won here three years ago, also is on hand for a shot at the top prize of approximately $25,000.

Nicklaus, who carded an eagle three on the 515-yard 17th hole to break a tie last year with Sanders and Joe Campbell, is the pre-tourney favorite, if such is possible in the weekly change of heroes. Husky Jack turned in a 277 for the par 36-36-72 288 course, edging Sanders and Campbell by a stroke.

Omaha U Grid Coach Expects 60

Omaha (UPI) — Coach Al Caniglia is expecting about 60 candidates as the Omaha University gridders troop in to draw equipment this week.

Twenty-seven lettermen, including 16 starters from last year's 8-2 campaign, will be among those slated to begin two-a-day drills Aug. 29.

Caniglia will have three weeks to prepare his Indians for the season's opener against Idaho State Sept. 17 at Pocatello. First home game is Sept. 24 against Hiram Scott.

Quarterback Marlin Briscoe heads the returnees. An all-conference selection two years and a Little All-American honorable mention last year, Briscoe set three school records while leading the Indians to the Central Intercollegiate Conference title last season.

The "Magician" set a total offense mark of 2,181 yards with a record of 1,668 yards passing and 513 rushing. His 18 touchdown passes also established a record.

Bruising Bill Dodd, a 6-0, 220-pounder, will return at fullback. Rick Davis, a 5-7, 180-pounder, has been switched from flanker to running back, replacing Little All-American Gerald Allen who is now with the Baltimore Colts.

Waivers Asked On Ex-Husker Billy Johnson

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The Boston Patriots got down to the American Football League's 43-player limit 24 hours early Wednesday by cutting three rookies.

Coach Mike Holovak said that waivers had been asked on quarterback Billy Laird of Louisiana Tech, defensive end Dick Capp of Boston College and defensive back Billy Johnson of Nebraska.

Holovak said that all three would remain with the club, unless claimed by another team, until after Saturday's exhibition game with the Chargers in San Diego.

Cokes Wins Welterweight Title On Unanimous Verdict

. . . GONZALEZ TIRES IN LATE ROUNDS

New Orleans, La. (AP)—Wiry Curtis Cokes won the world welterweight boxing title Wednesday night, scoring a unanimous 15-round decision over Manuel Gonzalez.

Each fighter got 30% of the net gate of $19.440 or $4.583.

Referee Pete Giarrusso gave 14 rounds to Cokes, none to Gonzalez, and called one even. Judge Herman Dutrieux called it 11-2-2 while judge Roland Brown had it 8-5-2.

Cokes defeated former champion Luis Rodriguez here earlier this summer in a championship elimination bout. Gonzalez and Stan Hayward of Philadelphia were to fight in the other elimination bout, but Hayward backed out.

The WBA required Cokes and Gonzalez each to post a $5,000 bond that they would meet the No. 1 challenger within six months after the title fight.

Cokes now has a career record of 43 victories, nine losses and two draws. Gonzalez, 27, lost a title match in 1965 to Griffith, and now has a record of 36-14-6.

Ford In Hospital For Examination Of Ailing Hand

Houston (AP) — Whitey Ford, New York Yankee lefthander, entered Texas Medical Center Hospital Wednesday for an examination of his ailing pitching hand.

"He will undergo examination and study that may require several days," said a spokesman for St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

WAHOO RODEO OPENS BEFORE 3,500 FANS

Pheasant Hunt Set At 93 Days

. . . POSSESSION REDUCED

By The Associated Press

The State Game Commission Wednesday retained a 93-day pheasant season, the nation's longest, but reduced the possession limit in the face of pleas from sportsmen's groups for a curtailed shoot.

The commission lengthened the hen pheasant hunt by six days and the duck season by 20 days, but rejected a proposed splitting of the geese season and shortened the quail season.

The action followed a public hearing on rules and regulations for Nebraska's 1966 small game, waterfowl and trapping seasons.

The pheasant decision came after a request from the Nebraska Council of Sportsmen and the Izaak Walton League for a reduced season and Tuesday's action of the South Dakota Game Commission sharply reducing that state's pheasant season along the Nebraska boundary.

Representatives of the two sportsmen's groups told the Commission another 93-day season would put excessive pressure on the pheasant population and spur an influx of hunters from South Dakota.

As set by the commission, the 1966 pheasant season will run from Oct. 22 through Jan. 22, with hunting of hens permitted from Jan. 1 through Jan. 22. The bag limit was not changed but the possession limit was reduced from 20 to 16.

The hottest dispute centered on a proposed splitting of the geese season to accommodate Eastern Nebraska hunters, who like an early shoot, as well as Western Nebraskans, who like a late season.

Game Commission director Mel Steen said he was opposed to a split season because it would place greater hunting pressure on flocks of Canadian Geese in Western Nebraska.

On a 4-3 vote, the commission decided to follow the recommendations of staff biologists, retaining the same 75-day season, Oct. 1 through Dec. 14.

A 60-day duck season, running from Oct. 15 through Dec. 14, was established by the commission to conform with the maximum limitations established by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Commission biologists recommended a 50-day season with a bag limit of four daily and eight in possession. The 60-day season, as required by federal regulations, will have limits of three and eight.

The commission reduced the quail season from 65 days to 60 days, running Nov. 10 through Jan. 8, with the bag limits remaining the same. Commission biologists had recommended a 54-day shoot.

The grouse season was expanded by one day to 45 days, Sept. 17 through Oct. 31. The squirrel season was increased 28 day, running Sept. 1 through Feb. 28. The trapping season for beaver, muskrat and mink were lengthened 59 days from Nov. 15 through March 15.

Dolphins Suffer Fourth Defeat; Denver Triumphs

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — Denver experience clicked behind the passes of veteran quarterback John McCormick as the Broncos won their first AFL exhibition football game, 28-16, Wednesday night over Miami's fledgling Dolphins.

McCormick passed for three touchdowns, one a 75-yard play to Bob Scarpitto, but it was the Bronco defense which consistently turned back the occasional Dolphin threats.

It was the fourth exhibition loss for Miami.

Omaha's Cowdery Loses In Senior Golf

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP) —Ward Watson of La Mesa, Calif., defeated former champion George Haggarty of Grosse Pointe, Mich., 4 and 2 Wednesday in the second round of the World Senior Golf Championships at Broadmoor.

Tourney medalist Ben Cowdery of Omaha, Neb., also was sidelined, losing to Cecil Dees of Glendale, Calif. 2 and 1.

Casper's 69 Leads

Philadelphia (AP)—U.S. Open Champion Billy Casper led the winning foursome in the pro-amateur tournament at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Wednesday as many of the touring professionals tuned up for the start Thursday of the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Casper, who has won four tournaments on the pro golf circuit this year, shot a 34-35-69, two under par.

Fairbury Team Takes 7th In NBPA Tourney

Rapid City, S.D. — Fairbury, Neb., bowlers finished strong to move up to seventh place worth $1,700 in prize money in the National Bowling Proprietors Association Tournament here.

Traum's Funeral Home of Fairbury, the Nebraska champions, had a gross score of 8777 on Donald Larkins' 1871, Leonard Siebolt's 1751, Bill Draper's 1733, Perry Cane's 1719 and Paul Davidson's 1703.

American All-Stars Waltz In Omaha Game

Omaha (AP) — The Americans whipped the Nationals, 100-67, Wednesday night in Omaha's all-star high school basketball game.

Aussies Post Easy 2nd-Round Doubles Victory

Brookline, Mass. (AP)—Defending champions Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle moved effortlessly into the third round of the U.S. National Doubles Tennis Tournament Wednesday at sunny Longwood Cricket Club.

But life was not quite so easy for the top U.S. team of Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio. They dropped their first set of the tournament, and then struggled to defeat Jerry Cromwell of Long Beach, Calif., and Jim Osborne of Salt Lake City, Utah, 7-9, 6-4, 6-0, 13-11.

Racing Films Thrill Ryun

. . . FEELS ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT IN HIS TIMES

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Jim Ryun of Kansas, holder of two world track records at 19, says watching films of his races "still puts a chill in my spine" and he believes he has "as many years as I want to run ahead of me."

Ryun has just gone back to work after a three-week vacation from track, his first in four years, and he believes the break helped him renew his enthusiasm.

"The idea that high school trackmen burn themselves out by working too hard too early is dwindling away," Ryun said. "I think this has been pretty well disproved by now.

"I think I can continue to improve and to run well as long as I'm interested in track," he said. "My whole college varsity career is ahead of me. One of the best things about athletics is being with your teammates, traveling with your team."

Ryun will be available for very few-if any-special events on track's indoor and outdoor circuits while the Kansas track season is on.

"This is the way I want it," he said. "There will be plenty of big meets here and in other countries after the college national meets are over."

Ryun was supposed to narrate the films. Typically, he did most of his talking during his defeats. No film was available on his world record 1:44.9 half mile at Terre Haute, Ind., the race which surprised him the most.

"I couldn't believe it," he said. "I made my move about 300 yards to go, looked around and I was 10 yards ahead."

Kansas will be shooting for a flock of relay records with Ryun as anchor man and the slim, handsome, dark-haired youth said he is looking forward to the 1,000 and two-mile indoors and three-mile outdoors.

He doesn't consider himself a miler and nothing else. In his only outdoor shot at the two-mile last spring, he missed the world record by just 2.6 seconds.

The 6-foot-2 Ryun weighed 165 for his world record mile at Berkeley. Now he's up to 170, but this doesn't worry him.

"I ran about eight miles today," he said. "During the cross country season this fall it'll be around 120 to 140 miles a week.

"But I still have time to see movies and do things I really want to do. Track enables you to travel, too. How many teenagers have been to Russia?"

Ex-Nebraska Star Rejoins Falcon Team

Black Mountain, N.C. (AP)—Neal Petties, pass-catcher acquired in the expansion draft from Baltimore, was cut Wednesday by the Atlanta Falcons.

The National Football League club also released fullback Tom Wilson, a free agent formerly with the Minnesota Vikings.

The Falcons' backfield, which lacks speed, was bolstered by the return to camp of Rudy Johnson, former San Francisco 49er halfback who has been sidelined with a knee injury.

Coach Norb Hecker said he believes the former Nebraska speedster will be ready to play when the regular season opens Sept. 11.

Hecker also has announced that rookie quarterback Randy Johnson of Texas A&I will start Saturday night in an exhibition game at Columbia, S.C., against the 49ers. Dennis Claridge has quarterbacked the Falcons in their four previous games.

State Softball Resumes Tonight

De Witt—Stanton will face defending champion Lincoln King's Food Hosts at 6:30 p.m. today as action resumes in the Men's State Sofetball Tournament.

Neither team has a tourney loss yet.

Lincoln Skyline and King's Food Hosts of Hastings, only other unbeaten tournament teams, will square off at 8:00 p.m. Winners of those two games will meet in the semi-finals Saturday night at 6:30.

The other game tonight matches Barneston against KOLN-TV of Lincoln in a 9:30 losers' bracket contest.

Children's Horse Show Slated For Saturday

The Salt Creek Wranglers will hold a children's horse show at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Wrangler grounds one mile south of Pioneers Park.

At 6 p.m. Saturday the club will present its regular monthly show.

Oldest ABC Bowler

Oldest bowler in the 1966 ABC National Seniors tournament at Skokie, Ill., was Allen Smith, 94, a retired tailor from Ann Arbor, Mich. He bowls in two leagues every week.

Acquisition Of Recreation, Wildlife Area Is Approved

Lincoln (AP)—The State Game Commission authorized Wednesday the acquisition of at least 52 acres costing a minimum of $5,900 for recreational and wildlife development.

The commission agreed to purchase between 43 and 53 acres of land southwest of Stanton for expansion of the wood duck special use area. The purchase price, regardless of the acreage total, is $3,600.

The acquisition of four acres in Buffalo County costing $1,500 was approved to provide access to a seven-mile strip of state-owned land between Interstate Highway 80 and the Platte River.

The commission authorized the purchase of between four and seven acres of land along U.S. Highway 6 in Dundy County, to be designated the Arikaree State Wayside Area. The land will cost $200 per acre.

In other action, the commission closed to firearms the northwest corner of the Merritt Reservoir where the boat launching and automobile parking areas are located.

The commission approved boating regulations which were the same as last year's except for revisions in certain regulations governing the use of boats at Lake North in Platte County.

Nicklaus After Third Straight At Philadelphia

Whitemarsh, Pa. (AP) — The professional golf tour moves Thursday to Whitemarsh Valley Country Club where Jack Nicklaus tries for a third straight victory in the Philadelphia Golf Classic.

A field of 144, including Nicklaus, U.S. open champion Billy Casper and PGA titlist Al Geiberger, start the 72-hole competition for some $100,000 in prize money. Arnold Palmer, who won here three years ago, also is on hand for a shot at the top prize of approximately $25,000.

Nicklaus, who carded an eagle three on the 515-yard 17th hole to break a tie last year with Sanders and Joe Campbell, is the pre-tourney favorite, if such is possible in the weekly change of heroes. Husky Jack turned in a 277 for the par 36-36-72 288 course, edging Sanders and Campbell by a stroke.

Omaha U Grid Coach Expects 60

Omaha (UPI) — Coach Al Caniglia is expecting about 60 candidates as the Omaha University gridders troop in to draw equipment this week.

Twenty-seven lettermen, including 16 starters from last year's 8-2 campaign, will be among those slated to begin two-a-day drills Aug. 29.

Caniglia will have three weeks to prepare his Indians for the season's opener against Idaho State Sept. 17 at Pocatello. First home game is Sept. 24 against Hiram Scott.

Quarterback Marlin Briscoe heads the returnees. An all-conference selection two years and a Little All-American honorable mention last year, Briscoe set three school records while leading the Indians to the Central Intercollegiate Conference title last season.

The "Magician" set a total offense mark of 2,181 yards with a record of 1,668 yards passing and 513 rushing. His 18 touchdown passes also established a record.

Bruising Bill Dodd, a 6-0, 220-pounder, will return at fullback. Rick Davis, a 5-7, 180-pounder, has been switched from flanker to running back, replacing Little All-American Gerald Allen who is now with the Baltimore Colts.

Waivers Asked On Ex-Husker Billy Johnson

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The Boston Patriots got down to the American Football League's 43-player limit 24 hours early Wednesday by cutting three rookies.

Coach Mike Holovak said that waivers had been asked on quarterback Billy Laird of Louisiana Tech, defensive end Dick Capp of Boston College and defensive back Billy Johnson of Nebraska.

Holovak said that all three would remain with the club, unless claimed by another team, until after Saturday's exhibition game with the Chargers in San Diego.

Cokes Wins Welterweight Title On Unanimous Verdict

. . . GONZALEZ TIRES IN LATE ROUNDS

New Orleans, La. (AP)—Wiry Curtis Cokes won the world welterweight boxing title Wednesday night, scoring a unanimous 15-round decision over Manuel Gonzalez.

In the 13th, Cokes threw a right at Gonzalez with everything he had. But Gonzalez would not go down.

Each fighter got 30% of the net gate of $19,440 or $4,583.

Referee Pete Giarrusso gave 14 rounds to Cokes, none to Gonzalez, and called one even. Judge Herman Dutrieux called it 11-2-2 while judge Roland Brown had it 8-5-2.

Cokes defeated former champion Luis Rodriguez here earlier this summer in a championship elimination bout. Gonzalez and Stan Hayward of Philadelphia were to fight in the other elimination bout, but Hayward backed out.

The WBA required Cokes and Gonzalez each to post a $5,000 bond that they would meet the No. 1 challenger within six months after the title fight.

This was Cokes' first crack at the title and he made the most of it.

Cokes now has a career record of 43 victories, nine losses and two draws. Gonzalez, 27, lost a title match in 1965 to Griffith, and now has a record of 36-14-6.

Ford In Hospital For Examination Of Ailing Hand

Houston (AP) — Whitey Ford, New York Yankee lefthander, entered Texas Medical Center Hospital Wednesday for an examination of his ailing pitching hand.

"He will undergo examination and study that may require several days," said a spokesman for St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Ford, 37, earlier this week was placed on baseball's disabled list a second time this season after complaining of cramps in the fingers of the left hand.

WAHOO RODEO OPENS BEFORE 3,500 FANS

Wahoo—The Wahoo Rodeo opened here Wednesday night with 3,500 fans watching the six-event program.

Duane Martin of Springfield, Mo., turned in the top performance when he won the steer wrestling in 4.5 seconds. The rodeo continues at 8 p.m. tonight.

Wednesday's results:

Mother, Daughter Held For Slaying

Providence, R.I. (AP) — A mother and daughter who immigrated to this country from Italy about 17 months ago were charged with murder Wednesday in the slaying of their 28-year-old son and brother.

With an interpreter at their side, Mrs. Giovanna Guglielmo, 56, and her daughter, Maria, 27, were charged in the slaying of Quirno Guglielmo, who police said was reported missing about 11 days ago after he failed to show up for work at a local watch factory. The women were ordered held without bail for a hearing Sept. 15.

Meanwhile, Providence police and firemen continued to discover what they believe to be the parts of the victim's dismembered body in the Pocasset River in Cranston and at the family home in Providence. The remains were taken to the state morgue at the Rhode Island Medical Center in Cranston for analysis.

For Father Also

Police Chief Howard A. Franklin said a search is also under way for the victim's father, Guiseppe Guglielmo, 53, who has been missing for almost a year.

A search by firemen in the Pocasset River Tuesday night produced what police believed were human renains of the victim wrapped in plastic bags. Wednesday more human remains were reportedly recovered from the river, one portion of which was found in a bread wrapper.

Later Police Chief Howard Franklin said what appeared to be human remains were discovered in the plumbing system of the Guglielmo home, but no additional human substance was found.

Police also dug up what appeared to be freshly laid concrete driveway by the house, but Franklin said the search produced no new clues.

Chief Franklin declined to release any details surrounding the actual murder in accordance with the recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions and federal guidelines regarding pre-trial publicity.

Franklin said the body was apparently dismembered with a hatchet. He said the actual murder was believed to have taken place in a bedroom of the house.

Elmwood Church DedicationSunday

Elmwood (UPI) —Dedication of the new $51,581 St. Mary's Church will be this Sunday at 3 p.m., it was announced. The Most Rev. James V. Casey of Lincoln will officiate.

JAYCEES ORDER TOURIST ARREST

S. M. Sgt. Jack Jenkins enjoys friendly interrogation with a state trooper after he, his wife and seven children were one of four families "arrested" Wednesday by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce. The four families spent Wednesday night in Lincoln all expenses paid. Included in the promotional package was a tour of Lincoln, a chat with Gov. Frank Morrison, dinner at Congress Inn, a Game Commission film of state attractions and movie tickets to local theatres. Thursday morning the families left Lincoln with a complimentary tank of gas. The other three families treated were John Navarro of Chicago, his wife and three children; Vern Johnson of Milwaukee, his wife and one child and Dr. P. H. Pierson of Silver Lake, Ind., his wife and two children.

Clump Of Weeds Judged Champion At County Fair

Mrs. Richard Shuck Jr., who lives near Mapelton, Minn., said she picked the weeds from a road ditch before the fair opened, and spent about 20 minutes fashioning an arrangement.

The weeds were tentatively identified as Giant Foxtail, Water Weed and Turkey Foot.

Transportation Of Handicapped To Fair Offered

For the second consecutive year, Lincoln Goodwill Industries is offering free transportation for the physically handicapped to attend the 1966 Nebraska State Fair.

In making the announcement, John P. Gedwillo, executive director, noted that because of the anticipated rush, only those who have no other transportation should use the Goodwill service, and should call for details and reservations the day before they wish to go to the fair. Information can be had by calling the Goodwill general office during regular business hours.

The Goodwill bus is specially equipped to handle those confined to wheelchairs, and the driver is trained and experienced in working with the handicapped.

Dr. Ogden Named Academic Dean At UC For Year

Dr. E. B. Ogden has been named to the position of academic dean of Union College for one year.

Ogden, professor of mathematics, will fill the vacancy created by the departure of Dr. G. L. Caviness. Caviness recently accepted an appointment to be the president of Newbold College, Bracknell, Berkshire, England.

Ogden has previously served as academic dean of Union College.

Stock Market Has Long-Awaited Rise

New York (AP)—The stock market had its long-awaited rally Wednesday and it was a good one—the best since July 6—as stocks showed sustained strength for the first time in eight sessions.

The market rallied a couple of times Tuesday but gains were wiped out. On Monday there was an abortive rally at the opening but a stiff setback followed. Wednesday's prices rose from the start and kept on advancing with scarcely any interruption.

"The market was overdue for a rally," said one analyst.

Opinion was that it was a purely technical rally, based on no particular change in the news or the outlook.

True, President Johnson had a news conference. Before the news came out about it there was some uncertainty based on whether the President might say something disturbing. His appeal to capital and labor to keep wage and price rises "within reasonable bounds," however, was not accounted as much of a market factor. The market's subsequent strength was linked, however, with relief that no bad news came from the conference.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 9.41 to 799.55, its best rise since July 6 when it gained 13.59. A half hour before the close, the Dow was a shade above the "magic" 800 line it smashed through on Monday.

Wall Street was cheered by the rally.

The rally was paced by the familiar glamor stocks — the color televisions, electronics, office equipments, airlines and the like. The advance was given solidity by the participation of such market landmarks as General Motors, up 2⅜, Standard Oil New Jersey, up 2, and American Telephone, up ¾.

Once again, even as in Tuesday's losing session, there was evidence of buying by the big investment funds. They were quite obviously spreading their purchases to a number of the blue chips.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, which represents about 85 per cent of market value, rose .96 to 79.07.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 3.4 to 287.1, making its best rise since July 6 when it gained 4.4.

Prices rose on the American Stock Exchange on volume of 1.86 million shares compared with 2.22 million Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds declined

Trade Is Mixed In Grain Market

Chicago (AP)—Trade in the grain futures market was somewhat more mixed for most commodities Wednesday but all soybean contracts maintained a strengthening volume of support and added further moderate to good gains.

Jamong the grains, wheat mustered the best advances but they were limited to major fractions. Corn, oats and rye finished only small fractions from previous closes, mostly slightly higher, after having absorbed a little profit cashing in early dealings.

Wheat was unchanged to ¾ cent a bushel higher at the close, September $1.88; corn ⅛-¾ higher, September $1.48-⅜-½; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September 76½-¼ cents; rye unchanged to ¼ higher; September $1.30¼; soybeans 1¾-4¼ higher, September $3.52-53.

Mother, Daughter Held For Slaying

Providence, R.I. (AP) — A mother and daughter who immigrated to this country from Italy about 17 months ago were charged with murder Wednesday in the slaying of their 23-year-old son and brother.

With an interpreter at their side, Mrs. Giovanna Guglielmo, 53, and her daughter, Maria, 27, were charged in the slaying of Quirno Guglielmo, who police said was reported missing about 11 days ago after he failed to show up for work at a local watch factory. The women were ordered held without bail for a hearing Sept. 15.

Meanwhile, Providence police and firemen continued to discover what they believe to be the parts of the victim's dismembered body in the Pocasset River in Cranston and at the family home in Providence. The remains were taken to the state morgue at the Rhode Island Medical Center in Cranston for analysis.

For Father Also

Police Chief Howard A. Franklin said a search is also under way for the victim's father, Guiseppe Guglielmo, 53, who has been missing for almost a year.

A search by firemen in the Pocasset River Tuesday night produced what police believed were human renains of the victim wrapped in plastic bags. Wednesday more human remains were reportedly recovered from the river, one portion of which was found in a bread wrapper.

Later Police Chief Howard Franklin said what appeared to be human remains were discovered in the plumbing system of the Guglielmo home, but no additional human substance was found.

Police also dug up what appeared to be freshly laid concrete driveway by the house, but Franklin said the search produced no new clues.

Capt. John F. Eddy, chief of city detectives, called the recovery of the human remains "the worst I've seen in 20 years as a cop."

Chief Franklin declined to release any details surrounding the actual murder in accordance with the recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions and federal guidelines regarding pre-trial publicity.

Franklin said the body was apparently dismembered with a hatchet. He said the actual murder was believed to have taken place in a bedroom of the house.

Elmwood Church DedicationSunday

Elmwood (UPI) —Dedication of the new $51,581 St. Mary's Church will be this Sunday at 3 p.m., it was announced. The Most Rev. James V. Casey of Lincoln will officiate.

JAYCEES ORDER TOURIST ARREST

S. M. Sgt. Jack Jenkins enjoys friendly interrogation with a state trooper after he, his wife and seven children were one of four families "arrested" Wednesday by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce. The four families spent Wednesday night in Lincoln all expenses paid. Included in the promotional package was a tour of Lincoln, a chat with Gov. Frank Morrison, dinner at Congress Inn, a Game Commission film of state attractions and movie tickets to local theatres. Thursday morning the families left Lincoln with a complimentary tank of gas. The other three families treated were John Navarro of Chicago, his wife and three children; Vern Johnson of Milwaukee, his wife and one child and Dr. P. H. Pierson of Silver Lake, Ind., his wife and two children.

Clump Of Weeds Judged Champion At County Fair

Mrs. Richard Shuck Jr., who lives near Mapelton, Minn., said she picked the weeds from a road ditch before the fair opened, and spent about 20 minutes fashioning an arrangement.

The weeds were tentatively identified as Giant Foxtail, Water Weed and Turkey Foot.

Transportation Of Handicapped To Fair Offered

For the second consecutive year, Lincoln Goodwill Industries is offering free transportation for the physically handicapped to attend the 1966 Nebraska State Fair.

In making the announcement, John P. Gedwillo, executive director, noted that because of the anticipated rush, only those who have no other transportation should use the Goodwill service, and should call for details and reservations the day before they wish to go to the fair. Information can be had by calling the Goodwill general office during regular business hours.

The Goodwill bus is specially equipped to handle those confined to wheelchairs, and the driver is trained and experienced in working with the handicapped.

Dr. Ogden Named Academic Dean At UC For Year

Dr. E. B. Ogden has been named to the position of academic dean of Union College for one year.

Ogden, professor of mathematics, will fill the vacancy created by the departure of Dr. G. L. Caviness. Caviness recently accepted an appointment to be the president of Newbold College, Bracknell, Berkshire, England.

Ogden has previously served as academic dean of Union College.

Higher Wages, Not Medicare, Seen As Reason For Hospital Cost Rise

Washington (UPI) — Higher priced labor—not medicare—is the main reason for increasing hospital costs, a nationwide survey of medical facilities disclosed Wednesday.

This likely will be the conclusion drawn by a government study ordered Tuesday by President Johnson, apparently in response to suggestions that medicare is responsible for the rising price of hospital care.

According to a United Press International survey of hospitals and doctors in major U.S. metropolitan areas, there is no direct link between medicare and the rising costs. Most of the blame was put on labor costs, particularly increases in nurses' wages.

Up 5% In Year

Medical costs have risen 2.8% in the past six months and five per cent in the 12 months ended in July, when medicare went into effect for the first time.

Nurses were blamed in San Francisco, where they threatened mass resignations unless their wages were increased.

In Denver, a spokesman said, "Higher nurses' salaries have directly affected the hospital costs."

Dallas hospitals reported two-thirds of every hospital dollar goes for wages, and that patients there had to pay for recent increases in nurses' salaries.

A hospital spokesman in Los Angeles said charges would be raised there for the first time since 1964 "because of the nurses' salary increase."

Set Off Demands

A New York City spokesman said a recent increase in nurses' salaries set off demands for pay increases by other workers, including nonprofessionals.

A Miami hospital official said salaries for hospital personnel had always been too low but were now beginning to catch up. He also said complicated surgical and diagnostic procedures, products of medical advances, required more personnel per patient.

Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner announced the government study Tuesday. He said President Johnson had ordered "a quick and very hard look" at the increases.

Gardner named William Gorham, his assistant for program coordination, to head the study.

Defiance Bill Of Wallace's Passes House

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI)—The Alabama House Wednesday passed and sent to the state senate Gov. George Wallace's bill defying federal school desegregation guidelines, moving the state closer to another showdown on integration.

The vote that would eventually cut off Alabama from federal school funds passed by a vote of 76 to 9.

The only real surprise during the two hour house debate was the number of votes against it. The lower chamber, jammed with administration backers and crowded with states rights advocates, had not been expected to count nine opponents.

Stock Market Has Long-Awaited Rise

New York (AP)—The stock market had its long-awaited rally Wednesday and it was a good one—the best since July 6—as stocks showed sustained strength for the first time in eight sessions.

The market rallied a couple of times Tuesday but gains were wiped out. On Monday there was an abortive rally at the opening but a stiff setback followed. Wednesday's prices rose from the start and kept on advancing with scarcely any interruption.

"The market was overdue for a rally," said one analyst.

Opinion was that it was a purely technical rally, based on no particular change in the news or the outlook.

True, President Johnson had a news conference. Before the news came out about it there was some uncertainty based on whether the President might say something disturbing. His appeal to capital and labor to keep wage and price rises "within reasonable bounds," however, was not accounted as much of a market factor. The market's subsequent strength was linked, however, with relief that no bad news came from the conference.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 9.41 to 799.35, its best rise since July 6 when it gained 13.59. A half hour before the close, the Dow was a shade above the "magic" 800 line it smashed through on Monday.

Volume was 7.05 million shares compared with 9.83 million Tuesday.

Wall Street was cheered by the rally.

The rally was paced by the familiar glamor stocks — the color televisions, electronics, office equipments, airlines and the like. The advance was given solidity by the participation of such market landmarks as General Motors, up 2⅝, Standard Oil New Jersey, up 2, and American Telephone, up ¾.

Once again, even as in Tuesday's losing session, there was evidence of buying by the big investment funds. They were quite obviously spreading their purchases to a number of the blue chips.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, which represents about 85 per cent of market value, rose 96 to 79.07.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 3.14 to 277.1, making its best advance July 6 when it gained 4.4.

Prices rose on the American Stock Exchange on volume of 1.86 million shares compared with 2.22 million Tuesday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds declined

Butcher Hog Prices Weak At Chicago

Chicago (AP)—The market for butcher hogs was weak again Wednesday with some offerings selling 50 cents a hundredweight lower.

The top of $26.50 was down $1 from Monday's best and compared with a high of $27 Tuesday. It was paid for some 200-230 lb mostly No. 1 and 2 grades and some 190-250 lb mixed 1s and 3s. Mixed 2s and 3s moved at $25.25-26. Sows topped at $22.25.

Slaughter steers grading average choice were steady but some sales of high choice and prime were 25 cents lower. The choice offerings brought $25.50-26.50 and mixed high choice and prime $26-27.25. Strictly prime topped at $27.-50.

Spring slaughter lambs brought $26.25-50 for mixed choice and prime including some mostly prime. Choice grade was $24.75-26.25.

Higher Wages, Not Medicare, Seen As Reason For Hospital Cost Rise

Washington (UPI) — Higher priced labor—not medicare—is the main reason for increasing hospital costs, a nationwide survey of medical facilities disclosed Wednesday.

This likely will be the conclusion drawn by a government study ordered Tuesday by President Johnson, apparently in response to suggestions that medicare is responsible for the rising price of hospital care.

According to a United Press International survey of hospitals and doctors in major U.S. metropolitan areas, there is no direct link between medicare and the rising costs. Most of the blame was put on labor costs, particularly increases in nurses' wages.

Up 5% In Year

Medical costs have risen 2.8% in the past six months and five per cent in the 12 months ended in July, when medicare went into effect for the first time.

Nurses were blamed in San Francisco, where they threatened mass resignations unless their wages were increased.

In Denver, a spokesman said, "Higher nurses' salaries have directly affected the hospital costs."

Dallas hospitals reported two-thirds of every hospital dollar goes for wages, and that patients there had to pay for recent increases in nurses' salaries.

A hospital spokesman in Los Angeles said charges would be raised there for the first time since 1964 "because of the nurses' salary increase."

Set Off Demands

A New York City spokesman said a recent increase in nurses' salaries set off demands for pay increases by other workers, including nonprofessionals.

A Miami hospital official said salaries for hospital personnel had always been too low but were now beginning to catch up. He also said complicated surgical and diagnostic procedures, products of medical advances, required more personnel per patient.

Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner announced the government study Tuesday. He said President Johnson had ordered "a quick and very hard look" at the increases.

Defiance Bill Of Wallace's Passes House

Montgomery, Ala. (UPI)—The Alabama House Wednesday passed and sent to the state senate Gov. George Wallace's bill defying federeral school desegregation guidelines, moving the state closer to another showdown on integration.

The vote that would eventually cut off Alabama from federal school funds passed by a vote of 76 to 9.

The only real surprise during the two hour house debate was the number of votes against it. The lower chamber, jammed with administration backers and crowded with states rights advocates, had not been expected to count nine opponents.

Lloyd Needham Dies; Packing Firm Founder

Sioux City, Ia. (AP) — Lloyd Needham, 58, founder and board chairman of the Needham Packing Co. of Sioux City, died at his home here after being ill for more than a year.
